FOOD SHORTAGE WORRIES HITLER; PUBLIC MOANS

Fuehrer Orders Aids to Relieve Crisis.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, March 29.—Germany is experiencing an acute food shortage. Markets in Berlin are pitifully empty. Even kohlrabi, a cabbage-turnip which was plentiful during the world war, gradually is disappearing. Coffee, too, is difficult to obtain.

A popular German delicacy "rollmops"—a herring rolled around a pickle—is undergoing changes. Because of a shortage of pickles, the makers of "rollmops" occasionally place slices of rutabaga in vinegar for a few days and use them as strange tasting substitutes for pickles.

Priests Seized as Hoarders.

Following raids by police in convents and monasteries at Kelheim, Montabaur and Hadamar in western Germany, several priests were arrested on charges of hoarding butter and fats.

Fat and butter are obtainable only through presentation of food cards. If a person wants pork roast or lamb he or she must be on excellent terms with the butcher, who sometimes reserves such cuts. The main meat is stringy beef.

High grade food is available only in big hotels and restaurants. They import it.

When women shoppers at the markets moan about the lack of oranges, apples, or other foodstuffs, one occasionally hears this bit of sarcasm: "Why do you want pork? We have Memel, we have Prague—Goebbels [Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels] warned you coffee is not good for you."

Some Spoofers Jailed.

Some spoofers are arrested, but most policemen on duty in the markets ignore the complaints.

Though Germans are assured that through trade treaties more foodstuffs will be coming, the women at the markets remain skeptical.

In an effort to relieve the shortage of food Reichsfuehrer Hitler, before leaving for Berchtesgaden to recuperate from his triumphant tour through Bohemia, Moravia, Austria, and Memel, ordered his aids to "strengthen Germany's position and assure her food supply under all conditions." He advised his lieutenants to negotiate a series of trade agreements with Jugo-Slavia, Poland, Denmark, and Nationalist Spain. He also told them to develop the possibilities of the newly conquered lands and Germany's partners in trade agreements—Rumania, Lithuania, and The Netherlands.

Want Jugo-Slav Minerals.

The greatest energy is being concentrated on preparations of trade negotiations with Jugo-Slavia. A special delegation has been invited to Berlin by the Germans. They are eager to sign an agreement for the joint exploitation of Jugo-Slavia's mineral wealth, including copper, bauxite, iron, lead, and zinc. The most important lead and zinc mines in Jugo-Slavia are in the hands of a British concern, which may complicate the situation. Germany's ally, Premier Mussolini of Italy, also has great interests in Jugo-Slavia.

The Germans, however, declare no friction will occur there because Mussolini is chiefly interested in buying cattle, corn, and timber.

Nevertheless, the coolness between Mussolini and Hitler, which became evident when Il Duce failed to congratulate the Fuehrer on his conquest of Czecho-Slovakia, was the result of Mussolini's resentment over German activities in Jugo-Slavia.

Nazis Pacify Italians.

The Italians were pacified when Germans assured them they would not try to put over deals in Albania nor interfere with Italy's cattle deals.

Germany hopes to obtain from Poland, Lithuania, Denmark, and The Netherlands the food she lacks in exchange for German manufactured products or raw materials and goods from Bohemia and Moravia, and from trade allies, such as Rumania and Hungary.

Hitler has told his aids "to protect Germany's supply of foodstuffs, so that should war break out she will never again be forced on her knees through lack of food or raw materials."

'WE WON'T GIVE UP SINGLE ACRE,' SAYS DALADIER

Hurls Sarcasm at Italian Dictator.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.

Edouard Daladier.

PARIS, March 29.—Premier Edouard Daladier tonight delivered France's answer to Reichsfuehrer Hitler of Germany and Premier Mussolini of Italy in a speech broadcast to the world from his office in the war ministry.

Relatively mild in his references to German conquests, the premier, who now wields powers in his own country distantly comparable to those of his two formidable adversaries, gave Il Duce a strong dose of his own medicine.

Without being rude or truculent, Daladier managed to sound as determined and unbending as Mussolini did on Sunday when the Italian dictator said Fascist colonial claims against France involved Tunisia, French north African protectorate; Djibouti, strategic port in French Somaliland in east Africa, and the Suez canal. And, like Il Duce, he cast several sarcastic barbs.

Daladier Puzzles Experts.

Daladier used one expression so curious that diplomatic observers here are wondering whether he was driving a final spike in the coffin of Franco-Italian friendship or whether he was dropping a veiled and prudent hint of possible negotiations designed to settle difficulties between the two countries.

"France signed the [French-Italian] accords in 1935," Daladier said. "Faithful to her engagements, she is ready to proceed to their complete and loyal execution. In the spirit and equivalency of these accords, on a basis which I have defined and which I have just alluded to, she by no means refuses to examine propositions that might be made to her."

It was the French word "equivalence," literally translated as "equivalency" in this sentence, which caused listeners to prick up their ears.

Word Offers a Loophole.

Even the word "spirit" seems to offer only a slight loophole from the next two words of the phrase, which mean unquestionably that France will negotiate with Italy only on the basis of the 1935 pact. Mussolini has denounced this agreement while Daladier insists it is still binding. If Daladier had meant to say "on the basis of the 1935 accords or some equivalent basis in keeping with its spirit" that might seem to be leaving the door open for negotiations, observers pointed out.

Among the bases of the 1935 accords was the cession of African territory to Italy. Elsewhere in the speech, however, Daladier repeated his famous "not one acre of territory and not one of our rights."

Except for the apparent ambiguity in the one sentence previously quoted, the speech was uncompromising toward Mussolini and there were several tart references to Il Duce's own speech.

Makes Duce Out a Liar.

Also, without actually using the word, Daladier made Mussolini out to be a liar. He said Il Duce's statement that Fascist claims against France as defined in the Italian note of Dec. 17 included Tunisia, Djibouti, and the Suez canal had caused "great surprise."

Actually, Daladier said, the Italian note contained no territorial demands of any kind and consisted of legal arguments for denouncing the 1935 accord.

After having put Mussolini on the spot in this way, the French premier went on to refute the Italian thesis. The Italian argument, he said, was based on the claim that the conquest of Ethiopia had created new rights for Italy.

"This means," Daladier said, "that each new conquest or each new concession would create new rights. Thus claims which might be brought forward would be practically without limit since each one of them, once

Musk of Deer Fed to Victim of Hiccoughs

Tiny grains of musk—the rare substance which is the basic ingredient of many perfumes—were used yesterday by physicians at the Norwegian American hospital in an attempt to cure a woman of hiccoughs that threaten to cause her death.

The woman is Mrs. Elsie Westcott, 45 years old, of 632 Deming place, the wife of a railroad shop worker. She entered the hospital a week ago a few hours after the attack started. Since then all attempts to stop the hiccoughs by the use of sedatives, gases and drugs have failed. She has grown steadily weaker as her body is wracked by the spasms.

Find Supply of Substance.

Use of the musk was decided on yesterday by Dr. Hans W. Nilssen, Mrs. Westcott's physician. A search of the city revealed that one drug company had a supply of the substance, which is obtained from the musk deer of central Asia. Twenty grains were taken to the hospital.

"We mixed ten grains with sugar and fed it to Mrs. Westcott in the hopes that the musk, an anti-spasmodic drug, would stop the attack," said Dr. Nilssen. "Other doses will follow."

Late yesterday the hiccough spasms showed little sign of abating. It was hoped that relief may come today. Dr. Nilssen said that, if the musk treatment fails, an operation on the phrenic nerves which control the diaphragm where the hiccoughs originate will be considered.

Operation Is Postponed.

Mrs. Westcott was admitted to the hospital three weeks ago for an operation on an abdominal tumor. She was found to have a heart ailment, forcing postponement of the operation.

"The hiccough attack probably developed from a nervous condition caused by Mrs. Westcott's discovery that her heart is weak," Dr. Nilssen said.

Musk is obtained from a sac about the size of an egg, situated under the skin of the abdomen of the male musk deer.

Bandit Doesn't Like Pants of His Victim; Rips 'Em Up

A bandit took $72, a $100 diamond ring, and two bottles of whisky from Percy Panarsky yesterday in a liquor store at 111 East Ohio street. To discourage pursuit the robber forced Panarsky to take off his trousers and shirt. Then, looking dour, the gunman tore the trousers in half and ripped the shirt in two.

THE DIFFERENCE, SIR, BETWEEN A WINK AND A BLINK IS JUST $20

Cambridge, Mass., March 29.—(AP)—The difference between a blink and a wink is $20, Robert Townsend, 62 years old, learned today. Judge Arthur P. Stone fined him that sum on a charge he winked at a girl, 17 years old, despite Townsend's contention an eye affliction resulting from an explosion years ago caused him to blink uncontrolably.

PASTOR BANNED FOR TELLING OF CAPONE PRAYER

San Pedro, Cal., March 29.—(AP)—Because he told of Al Capone's response to an appeal for conversions, the Rev. Silas A. Thweat, who preached at the Terminal Island federal prison here March 19, was banned from the prison pulpit today by Warden E. J. Lloyd.

In a communication to L. V. Cleaves, secretary of the Harbor Region Ministerial committee, the warden said: "It will be appreciated if you will inform ministers holding religious services in this institution that they should give out no information regarding inmates."

The Rev. Mr. Thweat said last week the one time Chicago gang leader was the first of 16 men to rise to his feet when the inmates were asked whether any of them felt the need of prayer.

Tax Board Lets Actress Deduct Cost of Clothes

Washington, D. C., March 29.—(AP)—The board of tax appeals held today that the $6,500 which Actress Adrienne Ames spent on clothes in one year could be deducted from her income tax return—since it helped her earn money. The board, allowing the deduction for 1934, said: "Her employment in certain pictures was the direct result of her reputation for being well dressed at all times and for her ability to wear stylish clothes."

Propose Color System to Show Driver's Record

Harrisburg, Pa., March 29.—(AP)—A bill in the Pennsylvania legislature today proposed to denote an automobile driver's record by the color of his license card. White would indicate excellent; yellow, a mild infraction; red, a suspension or revocation.

Torrio's Fate Rests with 5 Women, 7 Men

New York, March 29.—[Special.]—The trial of John Torrio, the silent little man who has moved in a mysterious way for more than three decades through the criminal history of New York, Chicago, and the Atlantic seaboard, got away to a swift start today in federal court.

A jury of five women and seven men was picked in less than five hours to try Torrio and four co-defendants on an indictment charging them with conspiracy to evade payment of $86,000 in federal income taxes during the years 1933-1935.

Torrio Loses Freedom.

Judge John W. Clancy, presiding, immediately ordered the jury locked up for the night and remanded Torrio and the four other little men—the quintet's average height is five feet-five inches—to jail for the duration of the trial. They had all been free on bail since their indictment last fall.

The five little men—Torrio, William Slockbower, his brother-in-law; Louis V. La Cave, a former Torrio-Capone lieutenant; John D'Agostine, a south Jersey man, and James La Penna—appeared to be stunned by the court's order, issued over protest of their counsel, Max Steuer.

Some idea of the scope of the trial, which will last from three weeks to a month, was obtained from questions put to jurors by Judge Clancy. He wanted to know, in addition to all the routine things, whether prospective jurors would be prejudiced if the government evidence should show that the defendants drew their income from the sale of illicit liquor and other illicit enterprises.

Court Asks About Kin.

The court also wanted to know whether any of the talesmen had friends, family or other relatives in the bail bond business; whether they had relatives or friends in such widely scattered places as Chicago, Atlantic City, Egg Harbor, or Philadelphia; whether they had kin or friends in Cicero, or Burnham, on the outskirts of Chicago. In these latter places, before he was driven out by rival gang fire, Torrio was ruler of a vicious underworld territory.

Judge Clancy, on adjourning court, announced that at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning two alternate jurors will be chosen and the government will enter at once upon the case. The prosecution will be handled by Seymour M. Klein, assistant district attorney who has spent almost years tying together the threads of the complicated Torrio web.

Gable Marries Miss Lombard in Elopement

Kingman, Ariz., March 29.—[Special.]—Clark Gable and Carole Lombard, filmland's top romantic twosome, eloped to Kingman late today and were married in a simple ceremony.

The stars drove here from Hollywood in Gable's automobile, apparently without informing any of their friends of their plans. Their marriage had been expected, however, Gable's wife having obtained a divorce three weeks ago.

The newlyweds announced they would motor on to Boulder City, Nev., tonight and spend tomorrow at Boulder dam. They probably will return to Hollywood Friday, since Gable must resume work on "Gone with the Wind."

Marriage Clerk Startled.

Miss Viola Olsen, clerk in the marriage license bureau, was so startled she could hardly speak when the screen lover and the glamorous actress walked into the bureau.

"I recognized Mr. Gable at once," she said later, "but I was so-o-o surprised to see them."

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Kenneth M. Engle of the First Methodist Episcopal church. Howard Gate, principal of Kingman High school, and Mrs. Engle, the minister's wife, were the witnesses.

Miss Lombard was clad in a gray flannel ensemble and Gable wore a blue suit.

Home Bought by Gable.

It is expected the couple will live in the modest three bedroom ranch home which Gable recently bought from Director Raoul Walsh. The twelve acre country estate is in the San Fernando valley.

Gable and Miss Lombard have kept company for the last two years, being seen together frequently at social and sports events, of which both are fond. Rumors of their marriage attained an authentic note shortly before Gable's second wife, Mrs. Rhea Gable, went to Las Vegas, Nev., in January to get a divorce.

After completing her residence requirement Mrs. Gable received a decree March 7 on the ground of desertion. Mrs. Gable, now 50, eleven years older than the actor, charged Gable left her in 1935, four years after their marriage.

First Divorced in 1928.

Gable's first wife was Josephine Dillon, who divorced him in 1928, also after four years of married life. Miss Lombard, whose real name is Carol Jane Peters, was divorced from William Powell, the actor, in 1933 after being his wife for two years.

Gable was born at Cadiz, O., and is the son of William H. and Adeline Gable. He attended Akron university at Akron, O., and was a rubber plant and oil field worker before going on the stage with a stock company.

Miss Lombard was born at Fort Wayne, Ind., the daughter of Frederic and Elizabeth Peters. At the age of seven she moved with her family to Los Angeles.

50 MILLION CUT IN WPA REQUEST VOTED, 25 TO 13

Expect House Will Back Reduction.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 29.—[Special.]—By a vote of 25 to 13 the house appropriations committee today recommended a reduction of 50 million dollars in the extra 150 millions requested for the Works Progress administration by President Roosevelt. The recommendation was made in a report severely criticizing administrative costs of the WPA.

The house will take up the 100 million appropriation tomorrow and is expected to approve it without altering the amount. The farm bloc, resentful of yesterday's house action which lopped 250 million dollars in farm parity payments from the agriculture department appropriation bill, will attempt to reduce the fund even below the 100 million figure. While it may not be successful in this move, it is considered to have sufficient power to stop any drive by city congressmen to restore the $50,000,000 slash.

875 Millions Demanded.

If the 100 millions is appropriated it will give the WPA all except 50 millions of the 875 millions originally demanded by the President for the WPA. Congress reduced this to 725 millions and the President then put in his request for the additional 150 millions.

Although the committee insisted that the $50,000,000 saving can be accomplished by economies within the WPA, Col. F. C. Harrington, administrator, told members, according to a transcript of hearings released today, that he would go ahead with his program of wholesale discharges of employés if any amount less than the 150 million was appropriated.

Harrington had threatened to fire 400,000 from the rolls in the first week of April and another 600,000 in the first week of May if no more money was allotted.

Hit Administrative Costs.

"Administrative expenses of the WPA are unjustifiably high," the committee stated in its report. "They are well over $5,000,000 a month. There are 1,902 administrative employés in the Washington office and a field roll force of 32,670.

"There can be no possible justification for an average expenditure for travel and subsistence of approximately $500,000 per month or for a monthly expenditure for communication purposes of approximately $150,000 per month."

The committee also frowned upon many of the projects undertaken by the WPA, citing in particular the spending of $300,000 of relief funds to erect an exhibit building at the New York World's Fair, where 100 persons will be engaged in puppet show, folk dancing, and similar exhibitions in order to advertise the agency.

Nearly 8 Billions Spent.

Despite the reduction a total of 2 billion 163 million dollars will have been given the WPA during the current fiscal year ending June 30, the report pointed out. This is a record breaking appropriation.

The WPA, which will be four years old on July 1, has spent 7 billion 715 million dollars during its existence.

The committee was astounded when told by Col. Harrington that the WPA enrollment was kept close to the 3,000,000 mark in January and February although voluntary and normal separations from the rolls would have caused a reduction of several hundred thousands in the enrollment.

In January, for example, Harrington said, there were 214,492 separations from the rolls. This reduction was offset by the hiring of 109,211 persons. The administrator said he had to hire these persons in order not to reduce WPA employment more than 5 per cent, a restriction set by congress for the months prior to April 1.

Assails Rehiring.

"The plain intent of that 5 per cent limitation was to prevent administrative removal of more than 5 per cent of the people on the rolls," said Representative Clifton A. Woodrum [D., Va.]. "It did not say there should not be more than a 5 per cent reduction in the total number of people employed. You seem to have put a very strained construction on that provision by including voluntary retirements in the 5 per cent and then going out to recruit more people."

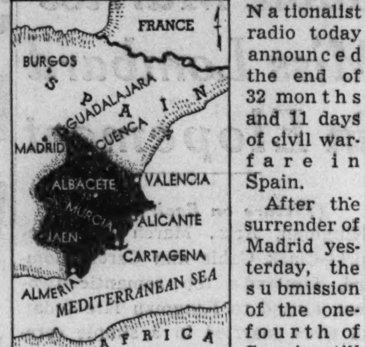
WAR ENDS; LAST SPANISH CITIES YIELD TO FRANCO

Gen. Miaja and Loyalist Aids Flee to Algeria.

BY SAM BREWER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MADRID, March 29.—"The war has ended—total victory is Franco's." Thus, the Nationalist radio today announced the end of 32 months and 11 days of civil warfare in Spain.



Black area locates last loyalist territory surrendered to Gen. Franco.

After the surrender of Madrid yesterday, the submission of the one-fourth of Spain still held by Republicans [Loyalists] came swiftly today—so swiftly that the occupation forces of Generalissimo Francisco Franco will not reach some of the farthest points until tomorrow.

However, the Fifth Column—Franco sympathizers within Loyalist territory—in most cases took over control of civil administrations.

Everybody in Madrid is awaiting "the man on the white horse," as Gen. Franco is called. He is expected to enter Madrid within a few days, but the date has not been disclosed.

Gen. Miaja Escapes.

Cartagena, the former Republican naval base, and nine provincial capitals—Valencia, Alicante, Murcia, Cuenca, Almeria, Jaen, Ciudad Real, Albacete, and Guadalajara—surrendered today.

Two planes flying low gave the signal for the Fifth Column to appear openly in Valencia. Then the Nationalist troops which had threatened the city for months marched in from the north.

Before Valencia fell, Gen. José Miaja, once the "savior of Madrid" and recently chief of the Madrid defense council, and his defense minister, Gen. Segismundo Casado, made their escape by plane to Oran, Algeria. Their plane was accompanied by thirteen others filled with prominent Republicans.

The Nationalists announced that all other members of the defense council besides Miaja and Casado, including Julian Besteiro, secretary of the council, were detained in Valencia. Few of the many refugees in Valencia found transportation to escape.

Guadalajara Occupied.

Guadalajara, which in March, 1937, was the base of the campaign in which the Loyalists routed the Italians with Franco, was surrendered to Nationalist Gen. Munoz Grande.

The Nationalist radio told of happenings in other surrendered cities. In Murcia citizens decked their balconies with flags and poured into the streets acclaiming Franco. Falangist [Fascist] units led the demonstration in Jaen. Franco's forces were expected to take over Alicante tonight and other surrendered cities early tomorrow.

From everywhere in Spain the radio reported scenes of rejoicing such as those which hailed the armistice ending the world war.

Crowds paraded shouting, "Viva Franco" and "Arriba Espana" [Live Franco and Up Spain]. All gave the Fascist salute. Franco's red and gold flag—the colors of the old monarchy—were displayed everywhere. Church bells were rung. Joyous music and the Fascist anthems told of the release from the strain of war.

Madrid Removes Sandbags.

Madrid's people today began efforts to get life more or less back to normal. Sandbags were pulled away from doors and windows. Shuttered stores began reopening. The subway was running regularly.

Strenuous efforts were being made to get the city's food and public utilities and health services organized. Street lights were turned on again after long disuse, but in many places they did not work. Military authorities ordered the first floor residents of all lightless streets to keep lights in the windows and their shutters open until 5 a. m. The house lighting system was so feeble that candles were necessary in order to see to write or read.

First and foremost in the minds of most Madrilenos is food, and today it was in sight. Line after line of heavy trucks of the Social Auxilio, Franco's relief organization, stood ready to distribute their cargoes of rice, lentils, beans, canned milk, crackers and bread. Ironically, almost the sole food in Madrid in recent months has been beans, lentils and rice.

Medical sources estimated that more than 300 persons died monthly in the latter stages of the siege that lasted 872 days.

Months of Privation.

A single mule steak was the only meat allowed each person in the last three weeks. A pretty little girl, 14 years old, told me how she ate rat, cat, and dog meat and that she was glad to get it.

The newspaper Socialista carried an advertisment for a lost passport, offering two cans of beans as a reward for its return. Food means more than money at this point.

The first distribution of rations began with the announcement that 200 grams [seven ounces] of bread would be given each holder of a ration card.

Correspondents had been warned before they proceeded to Madrid to take along enough food for as long as they expected to stay.

The Madrid population virtually forced the city's surrender because they were so hungry and war weary. Many of those here say that Gen. Franco could have had it without a fight at any time in the last three days. It was the most peaceful occupation imaginable after the long and bitter battle fought around it.

Greet Franco Officers.

Madrid's population was heartily sick of the war and a Nationalist officer walking down the street with me was overwhelmed with congratulations. Greeters rushed to throw their arms around him. Passersby crowded around him to shout "Viva Franco, Arriba Espana."

Policing was handled, THE TRIBUNE correspondent learned, by a secret "public order" organization formed by members of the Fifth Column. Through the war they had carefully kept their uniforms and weapons that would have cost them their lives if found. The groups were secretly organized by Fifth Column refugees in the Panamanian legation.

The astonishing size of the Fifth Column became evident as the columns paraded in many smart new uniforms. Others equipped with modern rifles and submachine guns, handled police duties—but there was no need of policing yesterday, except to keep the crowds' exuberance in bounds.

Military Governor Acts.

Mateo Sanchez, who headed the underground organization here during the war, issued a statement urging the Falangists to keep up their good work of policing and supplementing the work for public order. Women of the Auxilio received a special order to report to headquarters to aid the distribution of food.

Gen. Eduardo Lozas was named military governor of Madrid. The day's orders from military authorities are being broadcast to the public at noon daily and all persons have been warned to listen in.

Madrid's new Nationalist mayor, Alberto Alcocer, announced that municipal employés would be incorporated in Nationalist officialdom as soon as a "purification" commission had investigated their qualifications. Rafael Henche, former Socialist mayor, was among the persons arrested.

The Nationalist city government was constituted months ago and held frequent sessions in Valladolid. Thus it was in working order to take over the civil administration of Madrid.

Warn of Bomb Danger.

Twenty thousand Nationalist troops garrisoned the city today. The defenses around the city, the scene of such furious struggles, lay empty and deserted, but unexploded shells and grenades made it dangerous ground. Civil guards were posted to warn away the curious.

All day intermittent blasts could be heard as Nationalist sappers set off mines left behind by the Republicans.

As the military situation was cleared up during the day, more accurate details of yesterday's occupation procedure became available.

First patrols under Col. Ricardo Rios Capape—the hero of the University City fighting—entered the city during the morning, though none was allowed to penetrate far.

The republican forces, which already had withdrawn to secondary defenses along the Manzanares river the previous afternoon, marched out through the city just before Capape's men advanced. The nationalist flag was hoisted on the ministry of interior at 11 a. m., then it appeared everywhere.

Soldiers Give Up Arms.

All militiamen had been warned to hand in their weapons under pain of the severest penalties. Today trucks in front of military posts were being loaded with rifles as they were handed over.

There is little sign of war damage in the central part of Madrid actually, though the state of the suburbs shows the bitterness of the fighting there and even the white painted iron poles carrying the trolley wires are dotted with bullet marks.

In the ruins of University City [northwest Madrid], THE TRIBUNE correspondent managed to pass sentries who warned:

"Watch your step. The ground is full of unexploded bombs, grenades and shells. Two children were killed today. They picked up a grenade."

Buildings Hollow Shells.

It was a short walk out Cea Bermudez street and into "No Man's Land" even before leaving the city proper.

The city street ended in stone barricades and wrecked buildings. Just across an open lot stood the shattered wreck of the medical school, where the front lines were only twenty yards apart for many months.

The deadly fighting was shown by shrapnel fragments and rifle and machine gun slugs scattered like gravel all over the pavement.

The buildings, so new that many of them had not been finished, now are mere hollow shells, some with a whole side ripped off and with floors smashed into a heap of rubbish in the basement.

Wherever it was possible to slip past the guards women and children were gathering fragments of smashed woodwork and furniture for fuel, though on at least one occasion this correspondent heard a light shell whistle uncomfortably close and thud into an embankment when set off by the explosion of a mine.

Carabanchel, suburb southwest of Madrid, another scene of heavy fighting during the siege, is as nearly razed as it is possible for a modern urban area to be. There doesn't seem to be a square foot of building or pole facing the former Loyalist front that hadn't caught a half dozen bullets. Trolley wires hang in festoons from broken poles.

POLISH WRITER SAYS HIS COUNTRY WON'T FIGHT WITH NAZIS

Melchior Wankowicz, writer, publisher, and formerly official censor of the Polish government, arrived in Chicago yesterday on a lecture tour. He expressed the view that the present dispute between Poles and Nazis will not result in war. Mr. Wankowicz's home is in Warsaw. Before Poland won its freedom he was twice imprisoned by the czarist government as a conspirator.

Melchoir Wankowicz.

"I left Warsaw two weeks ago," he said. "It is my impression that war will not result from Hitler's expansion program. I feel certain Hitler's demands on Poland will not cause a break.

"The German people do not want war, although they are still loyal to Hitler. His expansion program is so dynamic I don't see how it can be stopped. Germany must have colonies; she needs agricultural produce and raw materials."

Barber Thinks Quickly; Hurls Bridge Bomb Into Thames

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 29.—While nine more Irishmen went on trial in Old Bailey Criminal court today, charged with participating in a ten weeks' reign of terror in Great Britain, Scotland Yard searched Irish haunts for the men who planted two bombs on Hammersmith bridge over the Thames river early this morning.

The blast, which tore asunder heavy steel girders of the bridge, took place less than ten hours after the first group of nine Irishmen had been given stiff jail terms totaling ninety-one years. Michael Joseph Mason was sentenced yesterday to seventeen years in jail, allegedly as the "commanding officer" of the Irish Republican army in Great Britain.

Today's outrage apparently confirmed reports that the Irish Republican army had sent reinforcements to Britain to replace members seized by police.

Hurls Bomb Into River.

At any rate, Scotland Yard, despite the assignment of hundreds of agents to the case, seemed unable to halt the terrorism, which began on Jan. 16 with ten explosions in seven cities. The bombings followed receipt by Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax of an Irish Republican army ultimatum demanding that all British troops be taken from Ireland.

Although Hammersmith bridge was closed to vehicular trafic for repairs as a result of the bombing, quick thinking by a London barber prevented much more serious damage. While crossing the bridge at 1 a. m., M. C. Childs saw two men get out of an automobile and place a suitcase on each side of the center of the bridge. As the men drove away, Childs ran up, heard a sizzling sound, and saw smoke emerging from one suitcase. He picked it up and threw it over the railing. It exploded before hitting the water.

Hundreds of Windows Broken.

As Childs fled the bomb on the other side of the bridge exploded, ripping the bridge's framework and smashing hundreds of windows in the vicinity. Childs was not hurt.

The driver of the car which bore the bombers to the scene told police he had been hired by five rough looking men. He said he was overpowered and held in the back seat. He insisted he was set free unharmed after the explosions.

Two hundred police arrived at the scene within ten minutes and two men were picked up. Several others were seized and questioned in Scotland Yard raids.

FRIENDSHIP OF ITALY AND SPAIN CAN'T BE BROKEN, IL DUCE WIRES

ROME, March 29.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini today telegraphed Generalissimo Franco his congratulations on the nationalist victory and assurances that ties between the Spanish and Italian peoples were "indissoluble."

"In the moment in which, with occupation of Madrid, your splendid troops reach the objective of final victory," Mussolini's telegram said, "I desire to send you my greetings and the enthusiastic greetings of the Italian people.

"From the great, bloody effort, the Spain of tomorrow is about to emerge—free, united, and strong as the Spanish people and you, El Caudillo [the chief] wish it. And I reaffirm that I consider the ties established between our two peoples to be indissoluble."

BRITAIN GRANTS 50 MILLION LOAN FOR POLISH ARMS

Warsaw Hopes Beck Can Get More Credits.

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, March 29.—Col. Adam Koc, former governor of the Bank of Poland, asserted on his return to Warsaw today that he had obtained credits approximating 50 million dollars from the British government. Poland, it was said, immediately will convert the credits into reserves of cotton, copper, and other raw materials needed in the munitions industry.

Koc's success strengthened the Poles optimism about foreign minister Col. Josef Beck's visit to London next week, when Poland hopes for further financial assistance.

Mobilization of the country's resources behind the army continued rapidly. It was announced that more than a million dollars already had been donated by Polish residents to finance the extraordinary expenditures forced by the present crisis which has resulted from Germany's seizure of Czecho-Slovakia and Memel.

Witos Returns: Is Arrested.

Wincenty Witos, exiled former premier and Peasant party leader, and two other exiles returned to Poland today, only to be placed under house arrest by authorities. The others are former Minister of the Interior Vladislas Kiernik and former Deputy Baginski, both Peasant party leaders.

Their arrest was in sharp contrast to what was indicated last Sunday. At that time it was reported the government was permitting Witos and Kiernik to return after a nine year exile in Czecho-Slovakia. The government, it was said, was taking this step to strengthen its position at home by ironing out internal friction in the face of an expanding Germany.

President Ignace Moscicki, however, does not intend to weaken the authority already resting in his hands through the formation of a national coalition government, a government spokesman said today. He asserted that the president and Marshal Edward Smigly-Rydz, Poland's "strong man," had vetoed the plan to invite Witos, former Premier Gen. Wladislaw Sikorski, and other opposition leaders into the government during the present crisis.

Begin Parleys Over Danzig.

WARSAW, Poland, March 29.—(AP)—Poland, reluctant to join France and Great Britain in a bloc against Germany, has started talks with the Nazis to settle the future status of the Free City of Danzig.

It was understood the conversations were intended by the Warsaw and Berlin governments to attempt to satisfy Germany's desire for greater authority over the free city and at the same time to guarantee Poland's heavy economic interests there.

Danzig, a city of more than 400,000 population, is largely German and is dominated now by Danzig Nazis who succeeded in gaining political power there.

Finds Agreement Possible.

To give Poland, who won her independence in the world war, an outlet to the sea the Baltic port was taken from Germany and made a free city under the protection of the league of nations.

The government news agency today distributed a statement that an understanding with Germany over Danzig was possible because "our people can understand vital interests of neighbors." At the same time Polish sources declared that Poland will oppose "by all means" outright German annexation of the port.

Sources close to the government reiterated, however, that Poland had not received an ultimatum or "anything resembling an ultimatum" from Germany in regard to the Danzig discussions.

Reveal Polish-German Clashes.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, March 29.—Polish sources tonight disclosed clashes between Polish and German troops when the Nazis invaded Czecho-Slovakia. These Poles claimed that when German troops crossed into Czecho-Slovakia at Maehrisch-Ostrau one German detachment crossed the Polish borderline near Oderberg. The Poles stopped the German detachment, seized its motorized equipment, and, after detaining the soldiers for a few hours, sent them back into Upper Silesia.

The next day, when another detachment also "lost its way," the Poles claimed their soldiers ordered a halt. When the order was ignored they fired and, allegedly, four Germans were killed and twenty-seven injured.

The German officer in command explained that the presence of German troops on the Oderberg road was an error. Polish officers, the Poles asserted, replied that they believed the situation resulted from an error by the Germans, but added that the Poles shot intentionally and not by error—and always would shoot if their land were touched.

Elopes Again

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

MRS. ANDREW E. VAN ESSO.

Andrew E. Van Esso and his bride, the former Mrs. George Rene Le Brosi, were in New York on their honeymoon after their marriage of Tuesday, when they eloped to Toledo, O. The bride is a daughter of the late Dr. John B. Murphy, famous Chicago surgeon.

Report of the elopement was confirmed by the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. M. A. Van Esso. Attendants at the wedding were the former Mrs. Le Brosi's sons, James G. Murdock Jr. and John B. Murdock, and James' fiancée, Miss Marie Louise de Chadenedes.

The new Mrs. Van Esso's first marriage, to Murdock, ended in divorce. Her second husband, Le Brosi, died in 1935. Van Esso had been married once before and divorced.

Mrs. Van Esso's sisters are Mrs. Edward N. Hurley Jr. of Wheaton and Mrs. James E. Baggott Jr. of Deerfield. Mr. and Mrs. Van Esso are expected back in Chicago next week.

NAZIS WIN RIGHT TO FIRE PASTORS THEY DON'T LIKE

Parishioners Allowed to Pick Own Ministers.

BERLIN, March 29.—(AP)—Two sweeping orders by the president of the Evangelical church council today advanced the process of Nazifying German Protestantism.

One decree by Dr. Friedrich Werner, the president, provided that any church member could choose some pastor other than the regular minister for the performance of "the individual duties of his office, for religious instruction or even for his entire churchly ministration."

The other provided that a pastor could be removed from his church against his will if it seemed desirable to redistrict parishes. A clergyman also could be dismissed "if he can no longer conduct his office within his congregation in an advantageous manner, or if the preservation of order in his congregation so demands."

Protestantism Long Divided.

German Protestantism long has been split by those who favor Nazi control of church affairs and those who oppose it. Today's decrees opened the way for the elimination of recalcitrants and their replacement by churchmen who will conform to Nazi concepts.

All that is now necessary to bring an Evangelical church under Nazi control is:

1. For a group of parishioners to demand that they be assigned a minister to their liking and of their spiritual faith.
2. For the supreme church council later to declare the incumbent of the pastorate no longer able to perform his duties to the advantage of the church.

Confessional Circles Upset.

Confessional [opposition] circles expressed the fear that Dr. Werner might be able to achieve by this gradual process what earlier attempts to Nazify the church had failed to achieve. They pointed out that there are church members in each parish who wish the congregation to conform to Naziïsm. Wherever these have been in the minority, however, their efforts have been futile.

The very existence of the Confessional synod is regarded by Nazis as an affront to the state. The synod's militant leader, the Rev. Martin Niemoeller, has been in a concentration camp for more than a year.

The Evangelical church was the state church under the Hohenzollerns. It comprises a great majority of the Lutheran Reform and United churches, the latter being those in which Lutherans and Reformeds are accepted indiscriminately.

Control of Church Hazy.

The question of who really is in control still is rather hazy. On one hand there is the reichsbishop appointed by Reichsfuehrer Hitler—the Rev. Ludwig Mueller. He has had to yield powers and functions, however, to Hans Kerrl, minister of church affairs.

Kerrl in turn has delegated many of his powers to Werner, who, however, is not recognized by the Confessionals. Kerrl and Werner claim power to intervene on behalf of the state only when questions of a non-spiritual organization are involved. But the Confessionals claim such interference is a violation of spiritual liberty.

FALL FATAL AT 85.

Miss Julia Johnson, 85 years old, 3520 Dickens avenue, a retired seamstress, whose right hip was fractured in a fall last Sunday, died yesterday in the Lutheran Deaconess hospital.

Brazil's Military Chief Invited to Visit Italy

RIO DE JANEIRO, March 29.—(AP)—An invitation from the Italian government for Brazil's chief of staf, Gen. Pedro Goes Monteiro, to visit Italy's army and aviation forces was announced today. Sources close to the Italian embassy said the invitation had been accepted. The military chief already had been invited to make a similar visit to Germany. Brazilian aviation missions recently returned from Germany and Italy.

BRITAIN DOUBLES ITS TERRITORIAL ARMY TO 340,000

Chamberlain Rules Out Conscription.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 29.—Conscription of the country's manpower along the lines of the totalitarian countries has been fought off with compromise schemes which will give Britain, on paper at least, a soldier power of about three-quarters of a million men. This was indicated today by announcements in the house of commons.

Modernized British soldier.

Appeasement, accordingly, will continue to be the policy of Prime Minister Chamberlain's government. Conscription met opposition in two ways here:

FIRST—It was opposed by those who objected to the high costs of a big standing army.

SECOND—Conscriptive powers in the hands of any government would cut into the strength which the trade unions have built up over a long period of years. With conscriptive powers the government could "dilute" labor.

Provides for Big Force.

The British now have found a typical compromise. They won't conscript but they will have a big national guard potential—on paper. This plan will, even so, advance the Fascistization of the nation.

According to Prime Minister Chamberlain's announcement in the house of commons, Britain's territorial army, which corresponds to the American National Guard, will be brought up to war strength and then doubled, its recruitment being obtained on a voluntary basis.

Doubling its war strength would mean increasing it to 340,000. Emphasis was laid on the lack of training facilities and the difficulties of increasing the territorial strength. This does not, however, make less emphatic the factor of high costs involved in maintaining a standing army.

Builds Up Expeditionary Force.

To this 340,000 in territorial strength is added the figure of 398,000 of regular army and reserves, so Britain's armed soldier strength, exclusive of the anti-aircraft units and air force, equals 738,000, or nearly three-quarters of a million, according to the plans announced tonight.

Doubling of the territorial army, according to military sources, would bring the strength of a potential expeditionary force available for drafting to fight in Europe in the case of a war up to at least thirty-two divisions, as against nineteen divisions announced recently by Leslie Hore-Belisha, secretary of war. Eventually it would include regular troops from four infantry divisions, two armored divisions, and twenty-six complete territorial divisions.

Territorial units which could be sent abroad presently number 130,000 men. The British government plans a big recruiting drive immediately to increase the figure to the war establishment of 170,000 and eventually to double that strength.

VATICAN PAPER HAILS VICTORY OF 'CATHOLIC SPAIN'

VATICAN CITY, March 29.—(AP)—The Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano said editorially today that the victory of "Catholic Spain" had brought "incalculable moral and political support to Europe."

The paper, which rarely comments editorially, declared that a pacified and peaceful Spain, "showing her wounds, will speak with irresistable eloquence for that spiritual and political reform of the world which will show the way to abhor war and exalt peace.

"All who followed the war with Christian and human sentiments cannot but greet the event with a feeling of gratitude to God that Spain is returning to respect and to the ancient teaching, to the heroic faith of her fathers."

The editorial noted that before the actual conflict broke out thirty-two months ago there was "an abyss" in the spirits of the people. Religion "had been shattered," the paper added. When the national conscience reacted to the Republican régime it said, "it was too late." L'Osservatore said that the fact that "representatives of all nations were gathered around Gen. Franco" after his victory meant that the new life starting in Spain was recognized as a "precious fort."

Australia to Register Men for Military Service

CANBERRA, Australia, March 29.—(AP)—Premier Joseph Lyons announced today that the government had decided to introduce compulsory registration of men fit for military service—the first step toward conscription.

SEES GUATEMALA KEEPING SKIRTS CLEAR OF NAZIS

Guatemala thus far has resisted Nazi penetration efforts, Robert Redfield, dean of the division of social sciences at the University of Chicago, said yesterday on his return from six months in the Central American republic. He said the country is efficiently governed and has a reputation for strict official honesty. If the Germans, who are the largest foreign group in the country, are pressing for advantages, President Jorge Ubico has refused them, the dean said. American and British commercial interests in Guatemala agree that there is neither favoritism nor discrimination there, he said.

NAZIS APOLOGIZE TO BELGIANS FOR RADIO MEDDLING

BRUSSELS, Belgium, March 29.—(AP)—The German government apologized today for a radio broadcast last Sunday which Belgium had protested as meddling in her general election campaign.

Count von Buelow-Schwante, German ambassador, presented the reich's apology to the Belgian foreign ministry and promised that steps would be taken to prevent a repetition of the incident.

He said the broadcast, from a Cologne station, was not intended for Belgians, who on April 2 will elect a new parliament. The Cologne announcer was reported to have referred to French speaking Walloons in Belgium as of German origin.

DALADIER DEFIES IL DUCE; WARNS PARIS WILL FIGHT

Will Yield No Territory, Premier Cries.

satisfied, would contain a germ for future claims."

The premier's boast that France never was more united than today was given justification by the reaction of the Paris press, which acclaimed the speech without a single dissenting voice. Even his bitterest enemies, the Socialists and communists, agreed that Daladier had succeeded perfectly in answering Il Duce in his own firm tones.

Daladier began his speech by saying France wanted peace, but that his nation is determined to defend its ideals and rights.

"I shall teach nothing to the Frenchmen who listen to me, but I shall teach something, perhaps, to foreigners in saying that the union of France has never been so profound or so complete as today," he said.

"Without doubt that is not what certain men repeat who have received a mission to spread throughout the world the absurd fable of the impotence and of the abdication of France. Never has France been more united, never has she been more resolute, never has she been stronger.

Ready to Fight for Liberty.

"She hopes peace will be saved, for she hates war. But if war were imposed on her or if it were offered to her as the sole alternative between its advent or dishonor, she would rise in a single rush for defense of her liberty.

"This liberty she is in a position to preserve."

Daladier then declared he had asked for and had received dictatorial powers because it was "necessary to take with speed and silence exceptional measures necessary for the defense of the country."

Taking a crack at dictators, the premier said:

"In the present disorders of the world new definitions of life are proposed to anguished peoples to cover the oldest practices and the oldest expedients.

"Servitude is called liberty. Submission is called voluntary adhesion. Despair is called pride in living. Destruction of human values is called progress. The desire to make safety for men is pretended when they are being led to ruin.

"Tumultuous demands which arise sometimes about us France hears with great serenity, because she knows that negotiations could only justify her rights and that any violence against her would be broken.

Speaks Frankly on Italy.

"Why not face the problems squarely? The whole world is waiting this evening for me to speak on Franco-Italian relations. I shall speak of them with the greatest frankness, or rather, I shall have only to let the facts speak for themselves.

"To put an end to misunderstandings too long prolonged, Franco-Italian accords were signed at Rome Jan. 7, 1935. They were destined to 'settle definitly' and 'liquidate' the questions between the two countries.

"Arrangements were reached by which Italy obtained frontier rectifications and cessions of territories in Africa and economic advantages and France obtained a progressive change in the status of Italians in Tunisia by decrees in 1945, 1955, and 1965.

Tells of Italian Note.

"These accords received a start in execution by France. They were never put in question, neither during the conquest of Ethiopia nor afterward, neither in the official conversations of the spring of 1938, nor at the moment of the recognition of the Italian empire and the nomination of François Poncet as ambassador to Rome.

"It is only by letter on the date of last Dec. 17 that Count Ciano [Italian foreign minister] informed us that he no longer considered these accords of 1935 as valid.

"Moreover, in the speech he delivered last Sunday Mussolini said in his own terms:

"'We do not ask the world to judge, but we want the world to be informed. Now in the Italian note of Dec. 17, 1938, were clearly established the Italian problems concerning France, problems of a colonial character. These problems have a name. They are called Tunisia, Djibouti and the Suez canal.'

"This affirmation created great surprise in international opinion.

Says Note Contains No Details.

"The reference to the letter of Dec. 17 let it be believed, in fact, that this document contained the Italian claims with clarity. A whole press campaign let it be understood that France had received on that date concrete demands and had not replied.

"We are going to publish the letter of Dec. 17. You will be able to read it tomorrow in the newspapers, followed by the reply we gave the Italian government several days later.

"But this evening I give you affirmation that it contained no details. There was no question of Suez, of Djibouti, or of Tunisia.

"What, in fact, does the letter of Dec. 17 say? It says simply that Italy considers the treaty of 1935 as void and it endeavors to justify this attitude.

"The essential argument it invokes is the following: The conquest of Ethiopia and constitution of the Italian empire created new rights for Italy.

Refuses to Accept Argument.

"I have no need to say we cannot accept this argument. What does it mean in fact? It means that each new conquest or each new concession would create new rights. Thus the demands which could be brought forward would be practically without limit, since each one of them once satisfied would contain a germ for future claims.

"Moreover, I repeat that none of these demands was formulated in the letter of Dec. 17.

"Will it be maintained that these demands were presented to us by press articles or by street clamor? In this case it will be sufficient for me to recall that the position of France was immediately made public. I said, and I maintain, that we will not cede a foot of our land nor one of our rights.

Ready to Examine Proposal.

"Faithful to the accords she signed in 1935, France is ready to pursue their complete and loyal execution. In the spirit and equivalency of these accords on a basis which I have defined and which I have just alluded to she by no means refuses to examine propositions that might be made to her.

"With regard to another great neighboring people with whom we have had so many conflicts, France has not ceased to give evidence of her good will.

"We signed the Munich accords, and several months later a Franco-German declaration. Several days ago, animated by the spirit of this declaration, we sent a mission to Berlin to negotiate an economic accord, an indispensable base for establishment of lasting collaboration.

Attacks Conquest of Czechs.

"But as I said to the senate, the conquest of Czecho-Slovakia and the occupation of Prague by the German army gave the heaviest blow to these patient efforts.

"For years, to justify certain acts, we have heard of the right of peoples to dispose for themselves. Then we heard of natural aspirations. Now we hear of the vital space which is only the eternal result of a desire for conquest.

"As I told you a few minutes ago, how could Europe not be in alarm? There is not in fact a single man who does not know in the present hour that war would be a catastrophe for all nations. None would be sheltered from destruction. We do not want that.

Makes Plea for Peace.

"We want to help Europe to save itself. In the name of my country, I invite to confident collaboration all the powers which think as we do, all those who, like us, are ready to persevere in the paths of peace, but which would rise together in a single rush in the face of aggression.

"I know that these words, which have defined the position of France, will find a fraternal echo in the friendly nations across Europe, beyond the channel [England], and beyond the Atlantic [the United States]."

DALADIER'S SPEECH LEAVES DOOR OPEN, BELIEF OF ITALIANS

ROME, March 29.—(AP)—Premier Edouard Daladier's speech in Paris was regarded in Fascist circles tonight as having done little to change French-Italian relations, either for better or worse.

His speech and that of Premier Mussolini Sunday were considered here to have left the dispute over Italian colonial demands on France exactly where it was before—neither side had closed the door to negotiations and each was waiting for the other to make the first move.

Among some of the more militant Fascists Daladier's reiteration that France would not yield an acre of territory, nor any of her rights, was regarded as new proof of French "lack of comprehension," of which the Fascist press repeatedly has complained.

TWO YOUNG FUGITIVES SEIZED.

Henry Luchnow, 4839 South Laflin street, and Bert Eland, 1723 North Cicero avenue, two of three boys who escaped last Saturday night from the juvenile detention home, were being held in Cleveland, O., last night, Chicago police were informed.

FRANCE REVEALS MUSSOLINI NOTE KILLING '35 PACT

PARIS, March 29.—(AP)—Following Premier Daladier's speech today the French foreign minister made public for the first time the text of the Italian note of Dec. 17 which declared the French-Italian pact of 1935 invalid. France's reply, dated Dec. 25, also was published.

The Italian note cited lack of a special statute for Italians in Tunisia as provided in the pact. It concluded:

"Moreover, the constitution of the [Italian] empire has created new rights and new interests of fundamental importance. In these conditions and in the very interests of their improvement, Italo-French relations could not still have for their base at the present hour the accord of 1935, and precisely if it is wished to improve them, it is evident that these relations must be examined anew by a common accord between the two governments."

The French reply made three points. It said France had given Italy 2,500 shares of the Djibouti-Addis Ababa Railway company. It pointed out that France had sought better relations with Italy. The reply said Italy knew of the "obligations" which required France to joint in sanctions [penalties] against Italy.

ESTRANGED CHILD BRIDE SPURNS HER HUSBAND'S TEARS

Goes Into Court to Stop Efforts to Woo Her.

A child bride who has returned to her mother's home went into court yesterday to complain that her middle aged lawyer husband is too ardent in his efforts to woo her back.

She is Marion Taylor Hutton, the wife of Carl J. Hutton, whose office is at 9008 Commercial avenue.

Mrs. Hutton told Justice of the Peace Henry Pendl in the Willow Springs county highway police court that she was 14 years old when she married the attorney at Crown Point, Ind., on Aug. 15, 1937. After her marriage, she said, she continued for some time with her studies in the freshman class of Calumet High school.

Mother Accuses Lawyer.

Her mother accused Hutton of trying to arrange a trial marriage of two weeks, but she said she refused permission.

Marion is now 16 years old and still a little girl in appearance. She came into court yesterday wearing a green schoolgirl coat and ankle socks. With the assistance of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor of 9307 81st avenue, Palos Park, she told this story:

She met Hutton in the summer of 1937 when he was getting her mother a divorce. Both her parents gave their permission for the marriage.

Memorized Her Replies.

To avoid trouble in getting the marriage license, she said, Hutton wrote out the questions she would be asked and the replies she should make and she memorized them.

After the wedding she and Hutton made their home at 9135 Normal avenue. Her parents, who had become reconciled, moved in with them. But, Marion said, her husband became dissatisfied and the families separated.

Marion lived six months longer with Hutton. When he decided one night that she did not love him, she said, he took her to her parents' home and left her. Since then he has been trying in vain to woo her back. She filed a charge of disorderly conduct after Hutton, she said, had threatened to kill her and her parents and then kill himself.

Pleads for Her to Return.

Hutton said he is 43 years old. He told the court that Marion still loves him, but that her parents stand in the way. She replied:

' He is too old for me. I don't want a grandfather."

With tears in his eyes, Hutton appealed to her, saying, "I still love you and want you back."

The court dismissed the disorderly conduct charge on recommendation of Assistant State's Attorney Henry Zadek when Hutton agreed to seek a divorce.

Mate Arrested

Political Notes

Ald. Jacob M. Arvey, who presided at a meeting of the Democratic city central committee yesterday, announced that it had been decided to recess the party's county judicial convention when it meets on April 6 and not to discuss until after that time the question of coalition for the judicial election on June 5.

◆

The Volunteer Women's committee for Green issued a statement of principles for the administration of public schools which it described as ten commandments. The first on the list was a declaration favoring the appointment of school trustees with special and disinterested knowledge of schools. The second would forbid political activity by a superintendent, a principal or a teacher.

◆

Mayor Kelly will be the guest of honor at a luncheon of service men in the Morrison hotel this noon. Every veterans' organization in the city will be represented. Among those at the head of the list included in the announcement were Brig. Gen. Samuel T. Lawton, Brig. Gen. Edward H. White, Col. Howard P. Savage, and Col. W. R. Matheny.

CORSET MAKER GOES TO COURT WITH FIGURES

3 Pretty Models Parade Before U. S. Judge.

In the somber dignity of a federal District courtroom yesterday three handsome young women bent over, stooped, kneeled, kicked, and otherwise cavorted in a not unseemly fashion.

The pretty models were demonstrating corsets and each was wearing one.

This display was said to set a historical precedent for the United States courthouse and a full house saw the performance. Word had got around among the government employés that in the courtroom of Judge John P. Barnes could be seen a spectacle usually reserved for those shops which deal in feminine frills. And such it was.

It's a Model Lawsuit.

The models were demonstrating a corset known to the trade as MisSimplicity. MisSimplicity is a product of the H. W. Gossard company, 108 East Ohio street.

The Gossard company is suing Loebers, Inc., an Ohio corporation, alleging infringement of a patent. The plaintifs contend that Loebers pirated their MisSimplicity in producing a corset known as the French back. The defense contends that the patent was declared invalid by a federal appeals court at Cincinnati and will argue their point today.

Attorney Hugh M. Morris, representing Gossard, apologized to Judge Barnes for his model display, but explained it was vitally necessary. Mr. Morris, a dignified barrister, is a former federal judge from Wilmington, Del.

Slip Off Kimonos.

Mrs. Hildegarde Slamin, a designer for Gossard's, then described in detail the virtues of MisSimplicity while the models, after dropping red satin kimonos, took the proper corseted stance. Each had been selected to demonstrate the particular adaptability of MisSimplicity to various features of various feminine figures.

Mrs. Slaming talked of lateral and longitudinal pressure, circumferential pull, and a three way tension. MisSimplicity, said Mrs. Slamin, will give a woman that upswept appearance, but it will not do the upcreep. Judge Barnes, it was observed, did not smile even at this, although others enjoyed the detailed testimony.

Spectators agreed it was a good show, but suggested one important change for future billings. Yesterday each model wore MisSimplicity over her street clothes.

GREEN CHARGES REDS AID KELLY AGAINST G. O. P.

Cites Proof of Communist Support for Mayor.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Dwight H. Green, Republican nominee for mayor, charged last night that he has proof the communist party is actively fighting his election next Tuesday. At his night meetings Green displayed a communist pamphlet. He said it indicated the communists have joined hands with the Democratic organization. The communist ticket was denied a place on the ballot by the election board three weeks ago because of insufficient signatures on the petition.

"This pamphlet published by the communist party," said Green, "states as follows:

"'On Tuesday, April 4, we will keep Chicago on the side of progress by defeating Dwight Green, the Republican candidate for mayor.'

Reds Unite for Defeat.

"I am making public this communist pamphlet because I believe the patriotic, liberty-loving voters in Chicago will want to know that the communist party is united against me in this campaign.

"They have joined hands with the underworld, the pay rollers, and the corruptionists who are supporting Mayor Kelly.

"I have never sought, nor would I now accept the support or indorsement of any organization that seeks to destroy the form of government under which we live. I have never had anything in common with them.

"No man in Chicago believes more deeply than I that freedom of speech must be preserved. I have always insisted that all races, creeds and nationalities whose blood strains combine to make up Chicago's fine citizenry must have full protection and representation in Chicago affairs, and equal rights before the law.

"In many gatherings I have said that a man's race, creed, color or nationality is something so personal to him that there must be no distinction based upon these standards. This belief is Americanism as I know it.

Glad They Support Kelly.

"Any organizations that are bent upon the overthrow of the American form of government, the abolition of the church, and the destruction of the family, are welcome to support my opponent.

"We are trying to build up this city to bring together in finer understanding all the races, creeds, colors, and nationalities that are the strength and glory of Chicago. I have made my choice of Americanism against communism."

Green spoke at Shotwell hall in the 5th ward, at the Wadsworth school in the 6th, and at Foresters' hall in the 42d. Tonight he speaks at eight meetings out of twenty-nine gatherings the Republicans are holding in the wards.

John William Chapman, Green's running mate for city clerk, in several night speeches repeated his attacks upon Mayor Kelly.

Recalls Whoopee Era.

Chapman spoke of the "whoopee era" on the sanitary district at the time Mayor Kelly was chief engineer of the district. He said the sewage disposal plant at Stickney cost $2,137,000, of which $1,200,000 was excess profit to the contractors.

Green headquarters announced that Frank J. Loesch, president emeritus of the crime commission, is to give a radio address in behalf of Green tonight at 6:45 over WMAQ.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 LBS. A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

MISS VIRGINIA ANDERSON.

The first sign of the annual rush of June brides at Northwestern university came yesterday when two of the school's most popular seniors announced their engagement.

They are Miss Virginia Anderson of 7929 Elizabeth street, Chicago, who was the campus May queen last year, and Richard Wells, son of Harry L. Wells, vice president and business manager of the university. Both are 21.

Miss Anderson has won many campus laurels. She is president of Gamma Phi Beta sorority, was president of Willard hall in her freshman year, and is an outstanding athlete. Mr. Wells, a popular member of the football team, is president of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity and a member of Purple Key, honorary sophomore society. The date for their wedding has not been announced.

WILL CO. G. O. P. BACKS BARTLEY FOR JUDGESHIP

J. V. Bartley of Joliet last night won the support of the Will county delegation to the Republican convention at which three nominees for judges of the 12th judicial circuit are to be chosen. The convention, in which Will, Kankakee, and Iroquois counties will be represented, will be held at Joliet April 15. The election is June 5.

The delegates were chosen and instructed for Bartley at a meeting of the Will county Republican central committee. Bartley won over Pence B. Orr. Bartley is associated with State Senator Richard J. Barr and George Barr in law practice at Joliet.

KELLY IS PRAISED FOR BIG SAVING IN INTEREST COSTS

Backers Say Finances Are Now on Sound Basis.

BY PARKE BROWN.

The All-Chicago committee for the reëlection of Mayor Kelly yesterday reviewed the accomplishments of City Controler Robert B. Upham's office. This was the fifth of a series on major city departments which the committee claims have contributed to making the present administration a great one.

The statement recited that, with the coöperation of an experienced financier like Upham, Mayor Kelly has been able to reduce the city's bonded debt by more than 37 million dollars, to save in five years more than 44 million in comparison with the expenditures of the preceding five year period, and to cut 1938 expenditures almost 3 million dollars below appropriations.

Mayor Kelly was busy stumping the city again last night. He recited facts from the record of the last six years. His speeches, because of time limitation, were mere outlines. The series by the All-Chicago committee is intended to fill in those outlines.

The committee emphasized particularly the fact that Chicago is now selling its securities at the lowest rates in its history, thereby saving the taxpayers millions of dollars that would have been spent at the rates prevailing before Kelly was elected.

"At the time Mayor Kelly took office," the statement said, "investment houses refused to buy the city's financial paper. They had their reasons. Chicago business was in the doldrums. Our municipal government was sinking fast into bankruptcy. City employés were unpaid.

"Today Chicago is back on its feet. Pay rolls are met regularly on the day they are due. New industries are spending millions of dollars for factories and warehouses here. Chicago is leading the nation in business stimulation.

"That's why the financial houses that wouldn't have anything to do with us a few years ago are today trying to outbid each other for the city's securities—even paying premiums for the issues. Bonds are selling at an interest cost of 1.59 per cent and tax anticipation warants at 1.75 per cent. These figures set an all-time low for Chicago. Ten years ago the interest rates were 5 and 6 per cent.

"Sixty-nine financial houses from New York to California made bids for several million dollars' worth of water certificates issued last month. One sale of 11 million dollars' worth of judgment funding bonds brought a premium of $392,876. The interest cost was 2.6 per cent. The proceeds were used to retire old bonds that had been drawing 5 per cent interest."

The All-Chicago organization also made public a statement by Richard E. Schmidt, commissioner of buildings, reciting that the passage of the new building code last year has started construction booming in Chicago.

Commissioner Schmidt said that from Jan. 1 to March 15 this year he issued 510 building permits calling for expenditures of $5,906,154. During the same period last year he issued only 164 permits calling for an outlay of only $2,873,350. Permits for single family dwellings have quadrupled. Permits for apartment buildings will provide for twenty-eight times as many families as the permits issued in the same period in 1938.

Industrial building permits jumped from forty-eight to seventy-three with an increase in contemplated expenditures from $500,700 to $2,340,856.

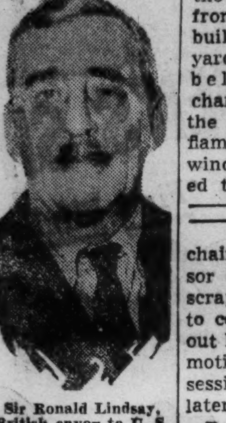
UPSET NEW DEAL DRIVE TO SCRAP NEUTRALITY ACT

Reveal Britain Is Behind "Sh-Sh" Scheme.

BY CHESLY MANLY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 29.—[Special.]—A move by the Roosevelt administration to stampede the senate and shove through legislation to nullify the neutrality act with a minimum of public discussion collapsed today.



Sir Ronald Lindsay, British envoy to U. S.

The foreign relations committee rejected, by a vote of 11 to 8, an administration motion to proceed without hearings. Then it rejected an administration motion to hold secret hearings. Finally it ordered full, open hearings, beginning next Wednesday.

Furthermore, neutrality advocates served notice on the Roosevelt internationalists that there will be extended debate in the senate on the neutrality question.

Hand of British Exposed.

There were reports in well informed, reliable senate quarters that the British government was behind the administration move to prevent public hearings and a full dress senate debate on foreign policy in connection with neutrality legislation.

The British government, according to these reports, made representations that it was well satisfied with the present state of public opinion in this country. A prolonged senate debate would present the danger of stirring up anti-British sentiment, according to representations attributed to the British government.

These reports, of course, could not be confirmed, but Sir Ronald Lindsay, the British ambassador, was a caller at the White House yesterday.

Barkley Takes Lead.

President Roosevelt's "Dear Alben" Barkley [D., Ky.], majority leader of the senate, was a caller at the White House early this morning before the meeting of the foreign relations committee, of which he is a member.

Barkley supported a motion by Senator Key Pittman [D., Nev.], chairman of the committee and sponsor of the administration scheme to scrap the neutrality act, to proceed to consideration of the subject without hearings. After the defeat of this motion Barkley moved to hold closed sessions and make the record public later.

Barkley and Pittman also attempted to persuade the neutrality advocates that it would not be a good thing to have a protracted senate debate on foreign affairs. Their argument was that public hearings and a prolonged senate debate would encourage the dictators, Hitler and Mussolini. The dictators, they argued, would get the impression that there is a division of sentiment in this country respecting President Roosevelt's policy of coöperating with the so-called democracies of Europe—Great Britain and France.

Appeal to "Patriotism."

Barkley and Pittman even intimated, according to senators present at the closed session, that it was the patriotic duty of the neutrality advocates to acquiesce in their hush-hush proposal. The nationalist senators were less naïve than had been supposed and did not fall for what they described as the "disingenuous" arguments of Barkley and Pittman.

What the administration really is afraid of, according to the nationalists, is that public hearings and a full dress senate debate on the subject of neutrality legislation will arouse the country against Mr. Roosevelt's efforts to involve the United States in European power politics, just as senate debate, under the leadership of Senator William E. Borah [R., Idaho], aroused the country against Mr. Roosevelt's world court proposal in 1935 and against Woodrow Wilson's league of nations proposal in 1919. Both were defeated in the senate.

One of the nationalist leaders declared, after today's committee session, that the administration has deluged the country with war scare propaganda and now wants to take advantage of the popular anti-Nazi sentiment to scrap the neutrality act without giving the country a chance to hear the other side of the question.

Nation Opposed to War.

The people of this country, regardless of their antipathy to Hitler, never would approve a course that might involve the United States in a war to protect the colonial empires of Great Britain and France, this spokesman said.

The administration proposal, sponsored by Senator Pittman, would permit the sale of arms, ammunition and implements of war on a cash and carry basis to belligerent powers. It would benefit the nations controling the seas—Great Britain and France—to the detriment of Italy and Germany, whose fleets would be bottled up in the Mediterranean and the North sea.

Existing law prohibits the export of arms, ammunition and implements of war to any belligerent nation whenever the President shall have found and proclaimed the existence of a state of war between or among foreign powers. It gives the President discretionary authority to restrict the export of raw materials by requiring belligerents to pay for them in cash and transport them in their own ships.

FIREMAN ENVELOPED IN FLAMES DIES FROM BURNS; 7 RECOVERING

Raymond Cook.

Raymond Cook, 38 years old, 3729 North Keeler avenue, one of eight firemen burned severely Tuesday night in a flaming charcoal yard at 1176 Cherry avenue, died of his injuries yesterday in the Alexian Brothers' hospital. The firemen and a watchman were enveloped in flame while battling to keep the fire away from a two story building in the yards. It was believed that charcoal dust in the building ignited, causing the flames to burst through doors and windows. All the injured are expected to recover.

Dr. Clendening Fined $50 for Breaking Up WPA Drill

Kansas City, Mo., March 29.—(AP)—Dr. Logan Clendening's smashing of a WPA air drill because the rat-a-tat-tat disturbed his work as a health columnist, cost him $50 today. He was fined $25 for destroying with an ax and $25 for disturbing the peace. His attorney entered a plea of guilty for him.

MORE BENEFITS FOR VETS VOTED BY COMMITTEE

Washington, D. C., March 29.—(AP)—A house committee voted today to recommend increased benefits for certain world war veterans and their survivors, but rejected a proposal to pay pensions of $40 a month to veterans over 65.

The legislation, approved by the veterans' committee, also would make widows, children, and dependent parents of veterans eligible for compensation.

The bill would increase to $37.50 monthly the compensation of veterans' widows now receiving $30. Dependent mothers or fathers would get $45 monthly, or if both survived, $25 each.

It also would authorize a minimum benefit payment of $100 a month to veterans who suffered the loss or use of a limb or eye. They now are allowed $25 in addition to regular compensation for such losses.

AMLIE DEFEAT SURE, SENATORS TELL ROOSEVELT

Washington, D. C., March 29.—(AP)—President Roosevelt has been informed by senate leaders, it was reported reliably today, that there is no hope of winning confirmation of his appointment of Thomas R. Amlie to be a member of the interstate commerce commission.

The President was said to have agreed to consult with Amlie about possible withdrawal of the nomination. Amlie has rejected overtures of this nature, it was reported, on the ground that he preferred to face senate rejection rather than withdraw.

The President's nomination of Amlie has been pending before an interstate commerce subcommittee headed by Senator E. C. Johnson [D., Colo.] for nearly two months.

SKYLINE

By CALEB

SEATED in their sedan on the lake shore of Northerly Island, two business men were quietly absorbed in the spectacle of sunset spreading its vivid backdrop behind the magnificence of a great city. For many minutes, neither had said a word. The scene spoke for itself. Finally, however, the older of the two moved into a more comfortable position, and broke into commentary calculated more for his own ears, perhaps, than for his companion's.

"Seventeen stories up, in that tower over there to the north, is where you and I have our offices. Impressive offices; very busy and important offices—where we feel that we are handling equally important transactions. Affairs of more consequence, in fact, than any going on elsewhere. When we're up there, the world sort of revolves around us—or so we assume. But somehow, from over here, the whole concept of personal and business importance starts losing dimensions like a plane climbing for altitude. Look at those tremendous structures crowded all 'round our own little edifice! Notice the puny finger it points into that limitless sea of light which has very nearly swallowed up the whole city! A view like this changes a man's perspective, doesn't it?"

But the other made no response. The silence, at this far remove from buildings, spires and streets, seemed to render conversation a presumption. Across the incandescent heavens, luminous pennons of afterglow—as if summoned to a last desperate stand—shot momentarily from behind mounting masses of cloud. For brief minutes, the whole stupendous skyline stood enveloped in a gold-and-bronze blaze; then, shifting and dissolving even as they gazed, the pageant flickered and faded; and row on row, tiny facets of brilliance punctuated the tall fronts of skyscrapers, as electricity sprang to the rescue of dimming interiors. Presently, the city's far-reaching, sharp-etched silhouette grew blurred with shadow. The dying monarch of light had turned on his pillow for the last time—and it was night.

The men in the car bestirred themselves. Switches clicked; the nervous whir of a starter scattered the stillness; the purring monotone of the motor awoke. Slowly their headlights coasted 'round to the homeward course across the bridge. Not till they were well into the surge of Grant Park traffic, however, was conversation resumed; and this time, as if he were just replying to his partner's previous comment, it was the younger man who spoke. "Yes, it surely does," he said. And added, "An experience like this certainly gives one a new sense of relative values in business."

RADICALS' POWER OVER C. I. O. AUTO WORKERS FADES

Officers Blame Martin for Their Failures.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cleveland, O., March 29.—[Special.]—After a day of bickering on the convention floor there were indications tonight that the fight for control of the C. I. O. recognized branch of the United Automobile Workers of America has narrowed. The bloc of communists and leftist sympathizers, which appeared strong Monday and Tuesday, has been weakened.

R. J. Thomas.

There were reports tonight that Richard T. Frankensteen and George F. Addes, the two possible presidential candidates of the communist controled groups within the union, no longer are considered serious contenders. Walter Reuther, the middle of the road candidate, also has been ruled out.

Thomas Appears Winner.

It appears that R. J. Thomas, the current president and most conservative of the original group of candidates, will be nominated and elected without opposition. There may be, however, a last minute upset and a dark horse chosen because Thomas has not received the blessing of the C. I. O. leaders sent here Monday to quell the union's internal dissentions.

These C. I. O. leaders were Philip Murray and Sidney Hillman, vice presidents under John L. Lewis. For nine hours last night and early today they talked with delegates about the problem of splitting the solid communist group.

The convention today accepted reports of all the officers of the union, although there were sharp exchanges between Reuther and Frankensteen. As the officials reported in turn each blamed their poor individual showings upon Homer Martin—head of the U. A. W. A. unit which quit the C. I. O.

Assail Homer Martin.

The officers charged Martin with deliberate sabotage within the union, and declared that he was a "manufacturers' stooge." Hall said that "if he isn't on General Motors' pay rolls he ought to be."

Addes announced that the union treasury had $428,779 on June 30, 1937, and has shrunk to $58,054. The receipts of the union in the last eighteen months [including the balance on June 30, 1937] had been $2,174,694, and expenditures $2,116,639.

"If the officers are going to report let them tell us what they did or did not do," demanded one delegate who hurried to one of the loud speaker microphones on the floor as Addes sat down. "We listened for forty-five minutes just now and only got an elegy on Martin. He's dead so far as we're concerned. Let's not let the officers hide behind his bones."

Ford Drive a Failure.

But the Martin baiting continued. Frankensteen said his campaign to organize the Ford Motor company had failed because of Martin.

"There was factionalism in the union. I admit my guilt. But I'm cured," he concluded. "Whether I'm elected to office or ordered to work with the rank and file, I want to assure the convention of my loyalty to the union, and the C. I. O."

Reuther stepped to the platform to challenge Frankensteen. Reuther said the Ford drive had been used as a political football because leaders of the drive realized the tremendous influence the Ford workers would have in union politics. He openly charged that Frankensteen had played politics with the Ford drive in the Milwaukee convention two years ago.

Attempts to gag Reuther under a rule that permitted speakers only five minutes were blocked when Frankensteen asked that Reuther be heard "so I can answer his half-truths."

CLEANING UNION ENJOINED FROM CALLING STRIKE

A possible strike that would affect 3,000 employés of 100 Chicago cleaning and dyeing establishments was averted yesterday by court order. Judge Stanley Klarkowski granted a temporary injunction against the calling or threatening of a strike by the International Association of Cleaning and Dye House Workers, local 3, until provisions of a written agreement between them and the members of the owners' association are carried out.

The suit by the owners charged that Tuesday the union called a strike at a plant at 200 East Marquette road and prevented 175 employés from working. Thirty-six members of the owners' association brought the suit on the plea that they had been threatened with a strike unless they abide by a new contract recently demanded by the union.

DRUGGIST ROBBED OF $65.

Two men held up Irving Richter yesterday in his drug store at 3501 North Halsted street and took $65. The store is only a block from the Town Hall police station.

100 LAKE VESSELS PUT IN TWO WAY RADIO APPARATUS

Two way telephonic radio apparatus has been installed in more than 100 lake vessels, Capt. J. L. Ahern of the Chicago coast guard headquarters announced yesterday. Many of these vessels were previously without radio protection, Capt. Ahern said. The sets are designed primarily for calling for aid in an emergency. They operate on a special fixed wave band.

To maintain contact with these sets the coast guard will install similar sets in fifteen stations on the great lakes, three on each lake. They will be tuned to the emergency listening band twenty-four hours a day.

Because the equipment does not require the presence of an operator familiar with code, it is expected to be extended to many smaller craft on which the expense of an operator would be prohibitive. Even lifeboats may be equipped in some instances, it was said.

MUSIC MAKER'S WIFE SINGS $550 BLUES IN COURT

The spritely tunes of the Merry Macs, radio music makers, hold no charms for Mrs. Almira McMichael, 26 years old, of 5806 North Mason avenue. What she wants is the $550 which she says is due her from her former husband, George McMichael, 28, leader of the Merry Macs. The money represents payments of $5 a week for the support of their son, David, who is 4.

Judge Rudolph Desort issued an injunction yesterday restraining McMichael's employers, the Bristol-Myers company and Young & Rubicam, Inc., from paying him his salary of approximately $500 a week. The Merry Macs play on three national radio programs, those of Benny Goodman, Fred Allen, and Al Pierce. Mrs. McMichael divorced her husband in 1935 on charges of cruelty.

FEDERAL INQUIRY ON LABOR BOARD DEEMED CERTAIN

Majority of Committee for Early Investigation.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 29.—[Special.]—A congressional investigation of the administration of the Wagner act by the National Labor Relations board appeared certain today after the house rules committee had heard the arguments of Representative C. Arthur Anderson [D., Mo.], sponsor of the inquiry.

Representative Anderson.

The four Republican members of the committee and at least three of the eight Democrats indicated approval of the Anderson resolution for an investigation. They constitute a majority of the committee and will report the resolution to the house, it was indicated. House approval is considered assured.

Host of Complaints Cited.

Anderson did not mince words in his statement to the committee.

"Hundreds of complaints from small business men have been heard regarding the administration of the act by the present board," he declared. "The concensus is that the labor board is just a stooge for the C. I. O. of John L. Lewis."

Anderson's resolution points out that the Wagner act was supposed to diminish the causes of labor disputes. Instead there has been a marked increase in such disputes and strikes, it notes.

Employment Drop Cited.

"Records show that there has been a marked decrease in industrial employment of the nation since the enforcement of the act," the resolution states. "The American Federation of Labor has said that the act has been the cause of discrimination against its membership.

"The activities of the personnel of the national labor relations board have been of such a character as to cast suspicion upon the integrity of a government department. It is now evident that the Wagner act has failed in its announced purpose. The labor board has lost the confidence of the American people as a whole, the employer and employé, and its activities are increasing unemployment and hampering industrial and national recovery."

Proposes Committee of Ten.

Anderson proposed appointment of a house committee of ten to investigate the fitness and character of the board and its employés to administer the act. The committee would also inquire into the effects of the Wagner act.

The resolution asks that the investigation be immediate in order that a report to congress could be made by June 5. An appropriation of $50,000 is requested to finance the inquiry.

Evanston Dogcatcher Ends the Menace of Central St.

Evanston's dogcatcher, Chester Nichols, and his own dog which accompanies him on his rounds, turned their talents in a new direction yesterday. When Mrs. H. E. Brookby, 720 Central street, called the dogcatcher to complain about a screach owl that was annoying the neighborhood, Nichols and his dog, Jack, a pointer, investigated. Nichols shot the owl out of a tree. It fell wounded, but fighting, and then Jack ended the menace. Last night the residents slept in quiet.

SENATORS VOTE WISCONSIN CURB ON LABOR STRIFE

Catlin Bill Outlaws 'Stranger Picket.'

BY FRED GRAFF.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Madison, Wis., March 29.—[Special.]—The Wisconsin senate today passed, 20 to 12, the Catlin bill prohibiting "stranger picketing" [the use of non-striking or outside pickets] and outlawing secondary boycott.

The bill was sent back to the house, which already had passed it, and probably will be sent tomorrow to Gov. Julius P. Heil for his signature.

Senate passage came after a heated debate. Supporters of the bill said it will curb abuses practiced by organized labor under the present law. Opponents said it will put labor in a legal strait-jacket and result in a wave of industrial disorder and strife.

Substitute Plan Beaten.

The senate rejected, 19 to 12, a substitute measure introduced by Phil Nelson [Prog., Maple], which proposed to exempt creameries, milk condenseries, cheese factories, and other farm coöperatives from provisions of the 1931 labor code. Nelson said his proposal was a challenge to supporters of the Catlin bill to prove their sincerity in doing something for the farmer.

In the long fight over it the Progressive bloc insisted the Catlin bill represented a drive by industry to use the farmers as a front to pull its chestnuts out of the fire. Senator Harry W. Bolens [D., Port Washington] pointed out in reply that last summer organized labor precipitated disputes in Wisconsin which halted the operation of a coöperative creamery at Richland Center and caused cabbage and spinach to rot in the fields in Racine county.

"Yet they wonder why the farmer might be interested in changing the present laws," Bolens added. "They say this bill will crush labor, but I remind you that labor still has the right to organize, the right to strike, and the right to collective bargaining. This bill proposes only to eliminate the rights of labor racketeers to precipitate strikes in facorties where they do not work and to prohibit secondary boycotts."

Introduced by Assemblyman Mark S Catlin Jr. [R., Appleton], the bill originally proposed to redefine Wisconsin labor disputes as a controversy "only as between an employer and two or more of his employés," and then only when the controversy resulted in a strike or a lockout. As amended, it defines a labor dispute as a controversy between an employer and a majority of his employés.

The section of the bill which outlaws secondary boycotts follows:

"It shall be unlawful for any one to picket or to induce others to picket at the establishment of any one engaged in business, to interfere with his business, or to interfere with any person or persons desiring to transact business with him when no labor dispute, as herein defined, exists between such employer and a majority of his employés."

Strife in Two Lines.

Two lines of the present code recognize a labor dispute as existing "regardless of whether or not the disputants stand in the proximate relation of employer and employé."

Under that section, supporters of the Catlin bill pointed out, organized labor was permitted to picket and otherwise harass industrial plants in which no dispute existed and in which the union had no members.

The Wisconsin Supreme court two years ago, in the American Furniture company case in Milwaukee, held in a 4 to 3 decision that the union, an American Federation of Labor affiliate, had the right to picket the plant even though no strike or lockout existed and even though it had no union members in the employ of this company.

That opinion was assailed on the floor today by Senator Maurice P. Coakley [R., Beloit] as one which "misconstrued the 1931 labor code into its present horrible shape."

INDIANA BANK'S TELLER VANISHES WITH $9,705; SENDS HIS WIFE $1,000

Franklin, Ind., March 29.—(AP)—Sherif N. W. Pangborn said tonight Herbert Hacker, 24 years old, trusted employé of the Farmer's Trust company of Franklin, disappeared with $9,705 of the bank's money.

Hacker, the sherif added, left a note to his wife saying he "hated to do what I am doing." The note contained $1,000 and warned her to "be careful how you spend it or the bank will find out." W. R. Johnson, president of the bank, said Mrs. Hacker came to him immediately after finding the note and turned the $1,000 over to him.

Hacker, a teller, was taking $5,600 of the bank's money to Indianapolis to deposit in a bank there when he disappeared. A check of Hacker's cage revealed $4.105 also was missing. His description and that of his automobile was broadcast throughout Indiana and adjacent states tonight.

PROMISES WPA JURYMEN THEIR JOBS ARE SAFE

Seltzer Acts After Court Threatens Jail Term.

Chief Justice Michael L. McKinley of the Criminal court was assured yesterday that henceforth WPA workers will not lose their jobs for accepting jury service.

This assurance was given by Harold K Seltzer, Chicago head of the Works Progress administration. A week ago Seltzer had been threatened with a ten day jail sentence unless he immediately devised means of returning WPA workers, called as jurors, to their jobs. And yesterday Judge McKinley, with Seltzer before him, took occasion to denounce the unbusinesslike methods of WPA executives.

WPA Workers Complain.

The judge summoned Seltzer after scores of WPA employés had complained that jury service cost them their jobs. The WPA has a rule that five days' unexplained absence from a project severs a worker's employment. Many called as jurors said they had been told they would be rehired upon reapplication, but that they found they could not get back on WPA although they complied with all details of the red tape procedure.

Yesterday Seltzer was represented by Warren Canaday, assistant United States district attorney, who said:

"I have been sent by the district attorney to act in a spirit of coöperation with this court and other county courts. I'm sure the matter can be ironed out and that there will be no cause for any conflict."

Judge McKinley then recalled John Riser, 3932 Bernard street, a discharged WPA juror, who had made a complaint last week.

New System Explained.

"I'm sure we can avoid a repetition of this incident," Canaday said. "Mr. Riser went back to work Friday. Also, a memorandum has been prepared. It will be issued whenever a worker is called for jury service. It means that he will be rehired automatically as soon as he completes his jury work and without any delay."

Judge McKinley then remarked:

"The trouble is not with the enactment of the WPA act, but with the lack of business execution in its enforcement. I'll say here and now that if a discharge slip is given to any other juror, without the proper explanation of his reëmployment so his mind will be free and easy, I'll hold it to be in contempt of court."

INDIAN FIGHTER ARRAIGNED ON MURDER CHARGE

Edward Conrad, 79 years old, a veteran of the Indian wars of the last century, yesterday was arraigned on a charge of murder in the Felony court. Judge Matthew D. Hartigan set April 11 for a hearing.

Conrad is accused of shooting his son-in-law, Louis Vleck, 46, in the latter's home at 1356 Winnemac avenue on March 21. Police asked a continuance for further investigation and possible grand jury action.

Conrad's daughter, Mrs. Almeda Vleck, 38, was released from custody after she had testified for the second time before the grand jury. Mrs. Vleck, who had been held at a witness, was ordered to bring her son, Conrad, 7, before the jury today. Conrad is said to have admitted killing Vleck in a quarrel.

Time and Gulls Clean Up Ogden Slip Fish Blockade

The dead minnow problem in the Ogden slip is pretty well cleaned up, the slip bridge tender reported yesterday. Millions of the tiny fish, which came into the slip recently to spawn, died from lack of oxygen in the water. City officials said the fact that the slip is cut off from the lake by the new controling locks had made the water stagnant. Hundreds of gulls have been feeding on the fish.

Estonian Coast Guard Saves 36 from Broken Soviet Ship

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TALLIN, Estonia, March 29.—Estonian coast guardsmen today rescued the crew of thirty-six of the soviet motorship Chelyuskinetz, of 6,598 tons, which ran aground during a storm Monday and broke in two, near Tallin harbor. The cargo of the vessel was reported to consist of American aviation motors loaded in New York.

GAAR WILLIAMS' MELLOW CARTOON FUN LIVES AGAIN

Tribune Reprints Best of Humorist's Work.

THE TRIBUNE begins today the reprinting of a series of Gaar Williams' famous cartoons.

Mr. Williams died June 15, 1935. But his work has a timeless quality. It deals in whimsical vein with the doings of everyday folks, the only kind he ever tried to portray. It is rich in quiet humor that carries no taint of sarcasm or irony. It still lives.

Few old TRIBUNE readers have forgotten his characters. They can recall, offhand, "A Strain on the Family Tie," "Our Secret Ambition," "Among the Folks in History," "Wotta Life! Wotta Life!" "How to Keep from Growing Old" and "Zipper," the busy dog of many moods.

Admired by McCutcheon.

John T. McCutcheon once wrote: "Gaar Williams has been called the Hoosier cartoonist. Many writers have referred to him as the James Whitcomb Riley of the pencil. . . . It is unlikely that he will ever be equaled. Most certainly his peculiar niche can never be filled by an imitator, who, no matter how able, will lack the background from which Gaar Williams drew much of his delightful material."

Some of his characters came from an era—the late 1890s and the early 1900s—when Americans were making the transition from the simple life to the machine age, and doing it with tolerance. The cartoons preserve the direct and hopeful philosophy of those outmoded times, and portray it against authentic scenes. The old sofas and the grandfather clocks and the tasseled surrey with the high stepping horse are as Mr. Williams had known them in Wayne county, Ind., where he spent his boyhood.

14 Years with Tribune.

Asks Divorce; Says Son Was Slapped for Uniform

Mrs. Claudine Kuehnl, 3177 Hudson avenue, charged in a divorce suit filed yesterday against Joseph Kuehnl, 1912 North Clark street, that he slapped her son by a former marriage because he wore an R. O. T. C. uniform. The husband, according to the bill, said her son should be taught to wear a "brown shirt or storm trooper uniform." The boy, Jack, is 16 years old.

EXPECT CITY HIGH SCHOOLS TO GET FULL STANDING

Chicago high schools, it is expected, will be given full accredited standing by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools today. The association is to consider the report of its high school reviewing committee at its convention in the Stevens hotel.

A. W. Clevenger, high school visitor for the University of Illinois and president of the association, said no advance report on accrediting could be made, but that nothing unusual was likely to appear in the Chicago report. Nineteen schools in the city have been inspected by the reviewing committee.

Pupils graduated from accredited high schools may enter colleges allied with the North Central association without taking entrance examinations.

Gets Year in Bridewell for Theft of Fur Coat

Judge Matthew D. Hartigan yesterday sentenced Robert Steel, 51 years old, an ex-convict, to one year in the Bridewell for stealing a fur coat. Steel pawned the coat, bought a dozen tea roses and sent them to the home of a divorcée, where he was arrested.

GARY PUBLISHER POSTS BOND FOR CONTEMPT TRIAL

J. Frank Snyder, publisher of the Gary Post-Tribune, surrendered yesterday to Capt. William Forbis of the Gary police on a charge of contempt of court. Snyder and two of his editors were accused by William T. Fletcher, Democratic city judge, after the Post-Tribune had editorially criticized the judge for his failure to convict gamblers taken before him.

Mr. Snyder was vacationing in Florida on March 16 when the contempt bench warrants were issued. On his return yesterday he surrendered and posted $1,500 real estate bond. Similar bonds were posted after their arrests by H. B. Harris and A. Myron Harris, the editors.

Charging an attempt to curtail the freedom of the press, Mr. Snyder declared yesterday the case will be fought vigorously. The trial has been set tentatively for May 1.

HOUSE DEFEATS BILL REMAPPING JUDICIAL DISTRICT

Fear of Reapportionment Strikes 87 Silent.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., March 29.—[Special.]—Political fear of reapportioning the legislative districts of Illinois defeated today a house bill that would have transferred Whiteside county from the 14th to the 15th judicial circuit of the state.

Reapportionment is due every ten years under the Illinois constitution, but it has not been carried out since 1901. Because of shifts in population, reapportionment would give Cook county a majority in the legislature.

The bill had been passed in the senate, 33 to 1. When it came up in the house today the spectre of general reapportionment was raised.

Warns Against Precedent.

"This bill would set a precedent," said Representative Leroy M. Green [R., Rockford]. "If upheld by the state Supreme court, it would open the door to senatorial as well as judicial redistricting over all Illinois. There would be gerrymandering as has never been seen before." [Gerrymander means to divide a voting area so as to favor a certain political group.]

There were 87 silent votes against the bill, 47 "ayes," 16 "noes," and one "present." The measure needed seventy-seven votes to be passed.

The house passed an amendment to the state insurance code designed to enable Illinois insurance companies to compete better with eastern firms. Where Illinois companies may now lend up to $5,000 on a $10,000 home, they would be able to lend $6,666 under the bill.

Another house bill passed today removes the debt limitation on downstate counties and cities to enable them to improve airport hangars and landing fields. Representative Ora Smith [D., Moline] said the measure is designed to permit Moline to issue $175,000 worth of bonds, if approved by referendum, to repair damage done by fire at the city's airport.

Bill O. K.'s Beer at Navy Pier.

Harold G. Ward, Mayor Kelly's floor leader, introduced a bill in the senate to permit the sale of beer in Chicago public buildings used mainly for commercial or recreational purposes. Park buildings are excluded. Senator Ward said it is planned to have beer sold on Navy pier if the bill is passed. The measure also would allow beer sales at the Chicago airport, where the city halted vending of alcoholic drinks several years ago.

Another bill by Senator Ward proposed a change in the city civil service act to require that laborers who have been discharged be given preference in reëmployment.

Marriage Mixup

Frank G. Wood and Mrs. Elizabeth Sherlock Wood, who were married after he had obtained a fraudulent divorce last July. They were sentenced to 90 days each in the county jail for contempt growing out of a charge of perjury.

A man and woman who were married after the man obtained a fraudulent divorce, were sentenced yesterday by Judge Oscar F. Nelson to ninety days each in county jail. They are Frank G. Wood, 49 years old, and Elizabeth Sherlock, 41, both of Peoria, who served 39 days waiting for trial.

The couple were sentenced for contempt as perjurers in connection with the divorce. When Wood sought a divorce last July before Judge Nelson he swore that he resided in Chicago. Miss Sherlock, who also said she was a Chicago resident, swore to witnessing acts of cruelty by Wood's wife, Cora.

The divorce was granted by default. Wood and Miss Sherlock were married and returned to Peoria. Last Feb. 6, Mrs. Cora Wood reopened the case, saying she had just learned of the divorce and that neither Wood nor Miss Sherlock ever lived here. Besides the contempt sentences, Judge Nelson also vacated last July's divorce decree. Mrs. Wood said she would start new divorce proceedings at once.

BOARD STARTS WORK ON HIGHWAY POLICY FOR STATE

Joint Legislative Group Is Told to Modernize.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., March 29.—[Special.]—A joint legislative committee created to evolve a new highway construction and administration policy for Illinois held its first meeting here this afternoon.

Preliminary discussions indicated that its task might be as momentous in the history of Illinois motor transportation as was the passage of the $60,000,000 and the $100,000,000 bond issues in 1917 and 1923.

Road System Held Obsolete.

"We have reached a new period in road development," said Prof. C. C. Wiley of the University of Illinois engineering school, who has been assigned as a consultant for the committee. "Our trafic volumes and trafic speeds have outgrown our street and highway systems. We have been laying more pavements; now we must go back over the old routes and modernize to meet new requirements."

Ernst Lieberman, chief highway engineer, said pavements were wearing out at a rate of 330 miles a year while reconstruction has been at a rate of 50 to 70 miles.

Senator Hubbard Chairman.

"We are falling behind in this replacement requirement," he added. "We estimate that this requirement in 1940 will be $25,000,000 more than our available funds. The replacement is expensive in that it must include easier curves and longer sight distances."

Senator Nicholas L. Hubbard [D., Mount Pulaski] was elected chairman of the committee and Representative David Hunter Jr. [R., Rockford] secretary.

Prof. Charles M. Kneier of the University of Illinois school of political science was assigned to assist Prof. Wiley in preparing a report for the committee. This report, to be submitted before May 15, will include studies of trafic economics, finances, and safety.

REPUBLICANS WIN FIRST SAVING IN FIGHT ON WASTE

Force $20,000 Reduction in Appropriation.

BY PERCY WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., March 29.—[Special.]—The first saving from the Republican drive for state economy was obtained in the house today. The G. O. P. forced Democratic sponsors to cut $20,000 from an appropriation bill.

E. J. Schnackenberg, forces fund slash.

An agreement to make this reduction came at the end of a roll call in which it was shown that the Democrats could not hope to obtain the 102 votes necessary for the bill's passage in view of the Republican opposition.

The roll was called on motion of Representative Elmer J. Schnackenberg [R., Chicago], who declared that the $100,000 request for funds to administer the driver's license law until July 1 was exorbitant. He proposed an amendment to cut the figure to $80,000.

Bow to Economy Bloc.

The Democrats found themselves about 30 votes shy of the 102 required for emergency passage tomorrow or later. Rather than risk eventual defeat, Representative James P. Boyle [D., Chicago], who was handling the bill, agreed to the cut. It is expected to be incorporated in the measure tomorrow.

Schnackenberg and others had earlier called upon F. Lynden Smith, director of public works, whose department will administer the fund, to break the appropriation request into specific items. Smith agreed to do so.

A mimeographed sheet was laid later on the members' desks and it was found that the first item in the "breakdown" called for $87,186 for "personnel, equipment, uniforms, and maintenance" of the state policemen who are conducting driver's license examinations.

"Almost all of the money requested still is in what amounts to a lump sum," said Schnackenberg. "How many jobs are created by this bill? How many uniforms? How much equipment? None of these questions is answered. Those who wrote this itemization didn't intend for us to know the answers."

Schnackenberg then moved to amend the bill to reduce the appropriation and Boyle finally agreed to lower the appropriation request.

Parole Reform Asked.

Benjamin S. Adamowski [D., Chicago], minority floor leader, introduced two bills today to abolish the present parole board and substitute a seven-man board serving staggered terms of from two to fourteen years at salaries of $9,000 annually. Their successors would have fourteen year terms.

The measures also provide that definite sentences be imposed for treason, murder, rape, and kidnaping, and indefinite sentences for all other crimes.

These bills have no connection with the parole reform measures proposed by Senator Harold G. Ward [D., Chicago] and Schnackenberg. The Ward-Schnackenberg bills would require judges to fix minimum and maximum terms within the limits of the indeterminate sentence act, and no convict could be released by the parole board until he had served the minimum fixed by the court.

BIG PLANE TAKES 53 TO BERMUDA ON INITIAL TRIP

HAMILTON, Bermuda, March 29.—(AP)—Pan-American Airways' giant "Clipper No. 20" brought thirty-eight passengers and a crew of fifteen to Bermuda today on its maiden commercial flight from New York. The trip was made in 4 hours and 38 minutes.

Carrying just over half its capacity load of seventy-four passengers, the big flying boat covered the 779 miles at an average speed of 167 miles an hour. It flew from Port Washington, N. Y., outside New York City, and landed here at 3:08 p. m. [Chicago time].

The plane, a sister ship of the Yankee Clipper which is now en route to Europe on a survey flight, is replacing the Bermuda Clipper in the Bermuda service. The number of passengers brought here today was the largest ever carried on the run.

J. P. Morgan in England for Stay at Country Home

SOUTHAMPTON, England, March 29.—(AP)—J. P. Morgan arrived today aboard the liner Queen Mary and left by automobile for London four minutes after landing. It was understood he would stop for a time at his country home, Wall hall, Aldenham, Berkshire. [When he sailed from New York Morgan said he planned a cruise on his yacht Corsair.]

ORDER MISTRIAL IN SLAYING CASE; LAWYER MISSING

Absence Costs County $2,500 in Fees.

Every one was present yesterday in Criminal court for the murder trial of Stanton Cooke and Peter Biron except their attorney, Frank A. McDonnell.

Cooke and Biron, each 21 years old, are charged with slaying John Deicourt, 49, a handbook operator, during a robbery in front of his home at 6604 Lowe avenue on Feb. 10, 1938. Since their trial began Monday only four jurors had been chosen.

After all available jurors were questioned and excused Tuesday, a special venire of fifty was ordered. Bailiffs worked until 4 a. m. yesterday notifying each of the fifty men.

Won't Be Down Today.

"Where's Mr. McDonnell?" asked Judge Robert J. Dunne. His bailiff, Wallace Kennedy, recalled that McDonnell, who is known familiarly as "Skinny," had telephoned at 9 o'clock.

"Skinny's voice seemed to be thick," reported Kennedy. "But he was feeling pretty good. Skinny said in his harsh voice: 'All you guys be sure to carry your precincts. Tell the judge I won't be down today.' Then he hung up."

Judge Dunne decided he would hold up the trial until 2 p. m. Meanwhile he sent out emissaries to find the missing lawyer, who was not at home.

One court attaché remembered seeing Mr. McDonnell at 2:30 a. m. delivering a political speech on the curb at Broadway and Lawrence avenue. Another recalled that Mr. McDonnell left court early Tuesday afternoon to appear in a divorce case at the county building.

At 2 o'clock, with Mr. McDonnell still missing, Judge Dunne remarked: "I guess I'll have to declare a mistrial. Mr. McDonnell seems to be ill."

Declares a Mistrial.

"I'm sorry gentlemen," Judge Dunne told the four jurors, "but I will have to terminate this trial. One of the attorneys is ill. I thought he would recover by 2 o'clock but he still seems to be under the weather. The new trial will be started April 4."

It was estimated conservatively that Mr. McDonnell's absence cost the county about $2,500. This would include jury fees and salaries for the bailiffs, the prosecutors, the judge, and court attachés.

Reporters tried throughout the day to find Mr. McDonnell, but were unsuccessful.

3 YOUNG RAPISTS ADMIT ATTACKING 2 GIRLS IN AUTO

Three young men accused of raping two girls were arrested yesterday by Policemen Harry Calfee and Michael Richards of the Sheffield avenue district. They are Nicholas Labovski, 21 years old, 1436 Lill avanue; August Collura, 24, of 2424 Southport avenue, and Peter Manaccini, 20, of 2558 Southport avenue. The police said they admitted the crime.

The girls, one 17 and the other 19 years old, reported that they were invited Sunday night for a ride in Collura's car. They said the men parked the car near Montrose and Newcastle avenues, beat them when they resisted, then attacked both. The accused men will be taken to the sex bureau today.

PAROLE ABUSES CITED AS GROUND FOR REFORM LAW

2 Speeches Rap Board, 1 Defends It.

Abuses of the parole system in Illinois were outlined last night by State Representative Elmer J. Schnackenberg [R., Chicago] and Judge John Prystalski of the Circuit court in a radio broadcast. A third speaker, Judge Harry M. Fisher of the Circuit court, defended the parole administration.

Representative Schnackenberg is co-author of a proposed law that would take the power of parole from the present politically appointed state board of pardons and parole. Instead it would allow judges to fix maximum and minimum sentences, within the limitations of the indeterminate sentence act, at the time of the criminal's conviction.

More Than Half Repeaters.

The representative said that from 50 to 60 per cent of parolees were found to be repeaters in crime. He added that hardened criminals were favored, often, with paroles, while first offenders who were ignorant of prisons were frequently kept incarcerated too long. He cited the case of one experienced criminal who had been paroled five times since 1893.

Judge Prystalski criticized the present system of giving great weight to a convict's behavior in prison. Such behavior, he held, is no indication of what the man's conduct will be when he is released.

"How are those to be paroled selected now?" he asked. "Under the present setup subcommittees of the parole board visit the various prisons at intervals. They consider letters from the state's attorney who prosecuted and the judge who presided at the trial.

Paroles Rushed Through.

"Then they interview the applicant for parole. This never takes more than five minutes. The full parole board never takes more than ten minutes to reach its decision. The criminal is turned out usually without anything having been done toward reforming him.

"It would be a step forward to let judges decide on maximum and minimum terms. They usually have a good view of the prisoner's background and could make adequate investigation between the time of conviction and the passing of sentence."

Judge Fisher asserted that it was impossible for any judge to determine, when sentence is imposed, what the fitness of the prisoner for parole would be three years later.

"Parole," he said, "is a protection to society. The time to consider the worth of a prisoner as a citizen is when his application for parole is made. From this discussion it might seem that crime in Chicago is increasing. On the contrary, major crimes are hardly half as prevalent as in 1932. Leniency and humanity in the treatment of the criminal brings a decrease in crime; harsh punishments increase crime."

A Lady Burglar Stops Her Work to Answer the Phone

Even women burglars, it seems, have the curiosity of their sex. The one in the home of Miss Dorothy Henkin, 621 Brummel street, Evanston, just had to answer the phone yesterday when Miss Henkin called from downtown. Hearing a strange voice Miss Henkin tried again and when the same voice responded, she called police. They found the home ransacked.

Farmhand Is 3d Arrested in Truck Dynamite Killing

Elizabethtown, Ill., March 29.—[Special.]—Interest in the mysterious dynamite murder of Earl Austin was heightened today with the arrest of Ira Scott, 29 years old, a farmhand employed near Cave-in-Rock.

Austin's estranged wife, Alice, and her neighbor and close friend, young Ted Simmons, have been under arrest since March 20, the day Austin's truck exploded from a hidden charge of dynamite, killing him and injuring his companion, Miss Lacene McDowell.

Alice Austin and Simmons are charged with murder, but no charge was placed against Scott. He was arrested merely for questioning, State's Attorney Clarence E. Soward said.

THE POWER TO DESTROY.

In a narrow sense, the decision of the Supreme court in the O'Keefe case was of no great importance. The right of the states to tax the salaries of federal jobholders will yield no more than a few million dollars of revenue, if that much, to any state. As a result of the decision Mr. O'Keefe will not get back the $57 he paid to New York state on his $2,400 salary as a lawyer for the federally controled Home Owners' Loan corporation. On a salary as large as Mr. Roosevelt's, New York will get $5,500. If, as seems altogether probable, the decision also legalizes federal taxation of state employés' salaries, the yield to the treasury will be in the neighborhood of 16 million dollars, a figure which must be viewed in relation to the billion dollars a year which the present personal income taxes produce.

In the strictly financial sense, then, the decision, seen by itself, doesn't mean much. If it leads, as it may, to the taxation of federal and state bonds and notes, the consequences will be more impressive from the viewpoint of both taxpayers and governments, but the economic importance of even these effects, if they are realized, can be greatly exaggerated.

The real significance of the decision lies in the light-heartedness with which the majority of the court overthrew old and well established legal principles. The attitude was not so apparent in Mr. Justice Stone's majority opinion as in Mr. Justice Frankfurter's exultant concurrence. He was not content with a mere reversal of established law; he felt irresistibly moved to dance a jig over the corpse. To be sure, he offered a passing tribute to the greatness of John Marshall and paid lip service to "the necessary demands of continuity in civilized society," but it quickly became apparent that in Mr. Justice Frankfurter's vocabulary, the words "necessary," "demands," and "continuity" do not mean what they meant to Marshall or, for that matter, what they mean to the men who edit dictionaries.

Freed of its fancy verbiage, the Frankfurter doctrin comes down to this: judicial opinions have no binding value as precedents. The federal income tax amendment was passed by congress and approved by the states in the belief that the precedents would hold; but now we know that long-settled principles of law may be thrown overboard at the whim of brain-trust judges.

So far as the taxation of jobholders' salaries is concerned, the application of this light-hearted doctrin makes no great difference, as we have seen. But it can be applied to a thousand other issues; and to the extent that it is so applied, rights now enjoyed may be forfeited at any time. No one may be as sure as he formerly was of the title to his property or, indeed, of his rights as a free man and a citizen, for there is now much less reason than before to place reliance upon the protective decisions of the courts. In disregarding precedent the court has established a precedent for the destruction of liberty itself.

Mr. Justice Frankfurter called attention to Mr. Justice Holmes' dissenting opinion in which he said that "the power to tax is not the power to destroy while this court sits." That was a minority pronouncement and it may have been valid when it was spoken because "this court" was not the court of today. Certainly any one who looks at the state of business, harried as it is, will wonder that any one who professes to be a realist can question Chief Justice Marshall's famous dictum. Destructive taxation is the rule, today, not the exception. It is destroying businesses and jobs and the latest decision of the court may yet result in the destruction of the states themselves.

The unsettling decision of the New Deal Supreme court in the O'Keefe case finds an echo in the decision, handed down on the same day, by the New Deal Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia. A fur dealer was the innocent victim of a jurisdictional quarrel between A. F. of L. and C. I. O. unions which were fighting for control of his employés. He obtained an injunction from the District court to restrain the C. I. O. from picketing his shop. The higher court has now held he was not entitled to such protection of his business. He has no legal remedy, the court found, "even though he be indifferent as to the choice of his employés between them [the rival unions]."

Here is another blow directed against business recovery. Together with the Supreme court's decision it will go far to convince people that the purpose of this administration and its appointees, executive and judicial, is to destroy our form of civilization.

BUROCRATS OF THE AIR.

A Springfield flyer named Stanley Kluzek desires to attempt a nonstop flight from New York to Warsaw, Poland, but has been refused permission to do so by the Civil Aeronautics authority in Washington. The bureau rejected the request with a brief statement to the effect that the attempt would not be in the interest of safety in the air.

Mr. Kluzek says he intended to use only the most modern equipment and had agreed to abide by all the stipulations which the authority might have imposed. He has decided to go ahead with his plans in the face of official opposition.

Mr. Kluzek has public opinion on his side. Such unimaginative, bigoted burocrats as are trying to stop him would have prevented Lindbergh and Post and Gatty from making their immense contributions to the art of flying. The burocrats, of course, have done nothing to prevent accidents. If, in the name of accident prevention, these little men are to be permitted to hamper the bolder among our airmen, America will be pulled from its lead in aviation.

We don't know a great deal about Mr. Kluzek's abilities as a flyer, but he is seeking to risk nobody's life but his own, and that is his business. He isn't inviting the chair warmers of the Civil Aviation authority to fly with him. He is taking all the hazards himself, and in the circumstances it is the grossest impertinence on the part of the burocrats to attempt to prevent him from doing what he wants to do. Such men would have prevented the discovery of America and most of its greatest achievements.

A VICIOUS BILL.

A bill pending in the Illinois legislature would authorize the state director of labor to enter any place of business, examine its records and accounts, and make transcriptions, question its employés, and "investigate such facts, conditions, practices, or matters as he may deem necessary."

He is to have all this authority to pry into the affairs of private business, ostensibly in enforcing a "state wages and hours law," which is to supplement the federal law on the same subject.

The federal law was found to have a false label. A small number whose wages were below $11 per week enjoyed a pay raise when the law went into effect. Something like 50,000 workers lost their jobs because employers could not afford to pay that much. If the only results of the wages and hours law had been to raise the wages of the lowly paid, and to stop sweat-shop conditions, it was a bargain.

But the principal effect of the law was upon groups not mentioned when the bill was in congress. The law was construed to give the government power to dictate the basis of payment of artisans, paid far above any suggested minimum, semi-executives, and clerical workers. It was even used as authority to forbid employers from making changes in wage rates. Represented as an instrument to help the underprivileged, the law turned out to be an instrument of federal oppression.

The bill at Springfield would confer similar authority upon the state director of labor. The present incumbent is apparently seeking to obtain inquisitorial and dictatorial powers over all private business in the state. Bills of somewhat similar nature have been proposed to many state legislatures, but have been turned down in the great majority. There is every reason to expect that congress is going to withdraw some of the oppressive powers conferred upon the President. In view of the current trend, the legislature should be nearly unanimous in thwarting the attempt of one of our state officials to acquire for himself the power to oppress.

ANOTHER INVASION.

In the report of the Rockefeller Foundation for 1938 there is news of an invasion of South America that may be a good deal more serious than any project the ambitions of Hitler and Mussolini may be cherishing toward that continent. The invader is Anopheles gambiæ, a malaria carrier, the "most dangerous member of a dangerous family."

The home of this menace is in the African tropical belt, although it has been found in Algeria and Morocco and even in southern Arabia. It carries a serious and often fatal type of malaria, sometimes complicated by the "black water" fever.

"Until 1930," says the report, "it was not known on this side of the Atlantic," but about that time it crossed, probably, in the opinion of the foundation experts, by airplane or on one of the French destroyers which were working in connection with the French air lines between Dakar in West Africa and Natal in Brazil. It was discovered in 1930 in the city of Natal by Dr. Raymond Shannon of the foundation staf, and there occurred in that and the following year outbreaks of malaria of unprecedented severity. By 1931 the gambiæ mosquitoes had moved up the coast 115 miles. Dry weather checked it for a time, but with the recurrence of normal rainfall the invasion was resumed. In recent years districts 200 miles west and north of Natal have suffered severe epidemics. In the Jaguaribe valley there were over fifty thousand cases last year, preventing the planting of crops.

This mosquito has a high infection rate and a preference for human blood.

The international health division of the foundation has organized a defensive war and the Brazilian government has appropriated substantial sums for this work. Fortunately the foundation has maintained a yellow fever service which can be used in the new campaign, but the potentialities of the new threat are not pleasant. The report says that if the gambiæ should break through to the well watered Parnahyba and Sao Francisco valleys it is feared that it would be impossible to prevent its spread to a large part of South, Central, and perhaps even North America. The gambiæ are already nearly half way from Natal to the Parnahyba valley. Anopheles gambiæ has no respect for the Monroe Doctrine.

Editorial of the Day

WHAT'S ALL THIS?

[Baltimore Evening Sun.]

H. L. O. Flecker, headmaster of Christ's Hospital school in London, has just returned to England after a trip to the United States, where he visited a number of boys' schools. He reports to his fellow countrymen that American boys are far more at ease in society than English boys. "American schoolboys are as far ahead of us socially," said Mr. Flecker, "as we are of them culturally and intellectually."

This is a fine thing to say when England and America are trying their best to recognize that blood is thicker than water! It has been the American tradition since the beginning that, although Englishmen [and boys, for that matter] could outshine Americans in the drawing room and do a better job balancing a cucumber sandwich in one hand and a cup of tea, with napkin, in the other, the Americans shone in honest worth, intellectual soundness, and know how. There is a faction which hands it to the English for cultural superiority, but a large and growing body of American intellectuals won't even concede them culture in the narrowest sense. Yet there is an English schoolmaster who finds that we shine in the shallow social graces but must take a back seat in robust intellectual distinction.

Well, perhaps we should ask ourselves whether there may not be something in what Mr. Flecker says. After all, this is just what most American mammas have been trying for years to accomplish.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U.S. Pat. Office

SPRING FIRE FIENDS.

Came the spring, and the thoughtful city of Evanston decided to give the dry, dead carpet of last year's herbage on its vacant lots a light but comprehensive burning over. Other suburbs also indulge in this practice; it takes the fire departments out into the open air. Whenever we see it, we roar in heated remonstrance and ask why.

"It fertilizes the soil for new growth," says one. "It kills giant ragweed and prevents hay fever," says another. "It does some good, or they wouldn't do it," says a third, "and, any way, what do you know about agriculture?"

* * *

Well, they have us there, but we can smell nonsense at a great distance. So we put the question of Evanston's fire fiendishness to Bob Becker, who is an excellent authority on matters animal, vegetable and mineral.

"Certainly it's a mistake," says Bob. "The idea back of this vacant lot burning is to remove the old herbage so that the new grass can spring up more freely; but to that I say tsk-tsk, tosh-tosh, and other harsher words.

"The burning is likely to be hot enough to destroy the humus in the top soil, which means an end to all growth and eventually a desert. The fire also may injure or kill the roots of plant life, and the tough old ragweed roots will be the last to succumb. Moreover, this early burning wipes out the cover for field nesting birds common to the Chicago region."

* * *

We will accept Mr. Becker's opinion on this point. We fear, however, that the process of converting pleasant suburban prairies into dust bowls will continue.

And there ne'er was a
Merrier, swearier
Cheerier, beerier crowd than we.
We walked the decks, we craned our necks,
We gulped our food by pounds and pecks
And paid for it all with traveler's checks—
For nothing at all was free!

It was a plunging, lunging,
Rocking, knocking,
Saucy sort of a ship,
But there ne'er was a
Pal-ier, "gal"-ier,
Screwier, brewier gang on a trip!
We hugged the rail when the moon grew pale
For we knew it was aiming to blow up a gale—
And oh, we set up a terrible wail
Whenever we lurched for a dip!

There was a lilting, tilting,
Oldish, goldish,
Merry sort of a moon,
And it kept us a-
Yearning, a-burning,
Swinging and singing a lover's tune.
We watched it, too, the whole night through—
Holding the hands of the captain and crew
(No more than you yourself would do!)
Oh, why did it end so soon!

Another Blow for the WPA.

"The bands of elk on Mad and Big creeks which 'rustle' their forage from laurel and other shrubs, in the way that well behaved elk have done since the beginning of time, are in better condition than those on 'relief' with the state game department."—Steamboat Springs, Colo., Pilot, 3-23-'39.

The basic ideas of communism: The captain does not know how to run the ship, and earns more money than he deserves. Take it away from him and its owners, and turn it over to the crew, who will hold conferences about how to steer. If they run it on the rocks, no matter. You can't have a mutiny without scrambled brains.

"MORNING SICKNESS" MAY UPSET FLUID BALANCE.

PROSPECTIVE mothers may go through the entire period of pregnancy without a single unusual symptom. In fact, many will state that they never felt better in their lives. Not only was their mental outlook happier, but physical reserve seemed inexhaustible.

A few, however, will experience two or three weeks of intermittent vomiting—the so-called morning sickness. About half of all expectant mothers exhibit this complaint to a minor extent. But the manifestation varies greatly not only in individuals, but in the same person with succeeding pregnancies. Regretting one's breakfast now and then may not be looked upon as a matter of any moment, but should the episode repeat itself over and over again nutrition may be interfered with seriously; the tissues may be deprived of much needed fluid—all of which has the effect of upsetting the chemical balance of the body.

Mild seizures are handled with ease, but abnormal vomiting—the cause of which is an enigma—may present a sufficiently grave situation to demand prompt attention. Despite all the work that has been done in investigating the endocrine glands, the liver, and metabolism generally—no one as yet has been able to point the finger to specific organ or gland failure. Most of the unfavorable reactions appear to be due to the loss [through vomiting] of water and common salt, and to certain vitamins and food deficiences. Although psychic influences may play a part, their rôle is relatively insignificant.

Sometimes the condition is neglected. If the stomach empties itself late in the day it may be ascribed erroneously to excitement or fatigue. If more rest is followed by fewer sieges, there is no cause for alarm. On the other hand, if the trouble continues the family doctor should be notified. The chances are that he will urge frequent but small meals with an attempt to cater to the patient's appetite. Fatty and fried foods should be omitted and more starches and sugars than are found in the average balanced menu are advised. Scrupulous attention is paid to the digestive tract so that constipation shall not occur. Mild laxatives may be employed.

No single factor is more important than that of rest with avoidance of bustle, apprehension, and worry. Well meaning neighbors—bearers of doleful tidings—should be excluded religiously.

In more severe attacks, in which there is an actual and visible shortage of fluid, reduction in weight, and an increase in the rate of the heart beat, it may be necessary to place the victim under hospital management. Sedatives are prescribed to insure relaxation and fluid is restored. This latter is accomplished by the intravenous injection of glucose and the administration of salt solution beneath the skin. After all, the main objective is to combat starvation and not only liquids, but foods, vitamins, and minerals must be supplied. Any one without the others will be ineffectual. Even though edibles could be swallowed and retained they would not be assimilated because the digestive juices could not be produced from dry tissues.

Why are vitamins essential? Because even within so short a time as ten days the patient may develop bleeding gums, hemorrhages beneath the skin, and hallucinations because of the absence of vitamin C. It is safe to allow twenty-four hours to go by without anything by mouth except liquids, although some will ask for a meal after six or eight hours. Sweetened orange juice, milk, and eggnog—each with a heaping teaspoonful of brewer's yeast—may be given if desired. Occasionally liver extract injections will be helpful. As soon as nourishment begins to "take hold" the pulse rate will fall, but it must be well under 100 beats per minute before the sufferer is allowed out of bed.

No instance of persistent vomiting with a decrease of even a few pounds in weight should be allowed to pass unnoticed. Skilled medical care may be imperative. In protracted cases the lives of both mother and child are at stake. While the incidence is not common—one in approximately 500 pregnancies—when it does present itself it requires the best that medicine can offer.

RINGWORM.

W. N. writes: What can be done about ringworm involving the scalp?

REPLY.

First, make certain of the diagnosis as many other ailments simulate this condition. Then, persistence, patience, and thoroughness in treatment are required. There are many remedies. The one best suited to you should be prescribed by your family physician.

CURING SYPHILIS.

A. L. writes: How long does it take to cure syphilis?

REPLY.

This depends upon the duration and extent of the infection and whether the nervous and circulatory systems have become involved. Ordinarily, three years of treatment are necessary.

SECOND SIGHT.

S. writes: I am 78 years old and am getting my second sight. I can read the newspaper [except market reports] without glasses. My mother had her second sight for years. She lived to be 87. Is this unusual?

REPLY.

Congratulations. Second sight comes to a majority of those who reach 75 years or more. It is due to a change in the lenses of the eyes, giving them a stronger effect. This ability to read without glasses is usually associated with some decrease in vision at a distance.

TWITCHING FACIAL MUSCLES.

L. J. writes: How can twitching of the facial muscles be overcome?

REPLY.

If due to a nervous habit, patience and perseverance will overcome this form of tic. In some cases, foci of infection must be removed. The condition of the teeth, tonsils, and sinuses should be investigated.

ORANGE JUICE AND MILK.

L. M. writes: I have heard that if a person takes orange juice and milk at the same meal that the milk is soured. What about it?

REPLY.

As soon as milk is swallowed the secretions of the stomach curdle it. This happens whether orange juice—or anything else—is taken at the same meal or the milk is drunk alone. Who are we to quarrel with the normal functioning of the digestive tract?

THE WPA WORKER'S PLIGHT.

Joliet, Ill., March 26.—We are convinced that the editorial, "Handcuffed To Relief" in today's TRIBUNE must have warmed the hearts of a large number of WPA workers and former project employées who read it.

The WPA worker has long been regarded as a more or less shiftless individual who is satisfied with his lot. This assumption is not based on facts. The truth is that it is so difficult for the worker to get back on his project after termination of private employment, that he would rather remain where he is until there is a real improvement in economic conditions.

If the public understood the facts concerning the worker's reasons for hanging onto his relief job, we are sure there would be less criticism of his apparent reluctance to leave the WPA. The blame should be placed in the laps of the politicians who have complete control of the works program, and have conducted a campaign designed to create an inferiority complex among the workers by brazenly placing politicians over them, instead of establishing a merit system and promoting from the ranks, in accordance with the work history submitted by every worker before he is accepted and assigned.

JESSE H. HINTHORNE.

LAURELS, NOT HEMLOCK.

Dubuque, Ia., March 27.—For keeping alive the interest in simplified spelling, THE TRIBUNE deserves not hemlock, but a laurel wreath from all students of English. Those of us who have taught English to foreigners know that the silent letters in English words constitute one of the great obstacles to the acceptance of English as a world language. For the foreigner "although" is twice as hard to learn as "altho." The history of the English language has been one of progressive simplification, and the ultimate adoption of simplified spelling is inevitable if English is to remain a living and growing language.

CONGRATULATIONS.

De Witt, Ia., March 21.—I would like to congratulate the staf of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE on the way they have been writing on the European situation for the past year. On most of the occasions this paper is the first to print the news as it happens in Europe. Also, many times these stories have been accompanied by wirephotos of these events. I have often heard THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE being praised, and I think it is just reward for the hard work put into the paper.

THE KONKOWSKI CASE.

Chicago, March 27.—The following quotation is the final paragraph in an account of Ald. Konkowski's acquittal on charges of peddling police civil service jobs:

"Another indictment based on the same type of offense is pending. Asked if he intended to seek trial in that case, Assistant State's Attorney Thomas Bugan said: 'If that's the way the public and jurors feel, what's the use? It's just a waste of time!'"

So this, then, is the attitude of our prosecutors! This is the belief shared by our courts! Justice has surrendered its sword and has given up the battle, eh? God forbid!

Indignantly, I beseech you to make Attorney Bugan retract that statement. For his own information, it is not—it dare not be—the way the public feel about it.

Such a "vindication" can only result in repetition. Our questionable gentry of office holders may now feel free to carry on their mulcting of public funds.

JOHN L. O'TOOLE.

PROFESSORS ON THE BENCH.

Chicago, March 14.—The writer is in sympathy with the spirit of your recent editorial on the "Weakening of the Federal Bench." He does not, however, agree with its conclusion, based on Rand's bromide, that professors of law are the least capable of lawyers and that Mr. Roosevelt is weakening the federal bench by appointing them. It is the writer's opinion that Mr. Roosevelt is subject to censure for having appointed a number of third rate lawyers to the federal bench for political reasons only. His appointments of Profs. Frankfurter, Clark and Arant are to be commended. The federal bench is in sore need of scholars who have maintained an objective and scientific viewpoint. As in the field of scientific development, improvements and reforms of the law have been made in great measure by great legal scholars whose time and energies are not taken up with immediate questions. Many practicing lawyers cannot see the forest for the trees.

WILLIAM HETTLEMAN.

MAYBE THEY DON'T KNOW THE WORDS.

Chicago, March 17.—For the past few months I have noticed that at certain intervals the management of many of our theaters have been displaying on the screen a picture of our American flag accompanied by the words and tune of our national anthem. During this display, I'm happy to see, all of the people in the theater at least show some respect for their country by standing. However, I've yet to observe more than a handful of the people present singing the words to our anthem. Could it be that our American people are ashamed to sing the words in public, to show their supposed loyalty to the flag and country which gives them so much to be thankful for? I dare say a reaction of this caliber in many foreign countries would be looked upon as treason.

DEFAULTED MORTGAGE BOND.

Maywood, Ill., March 22.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I have a real estate mortgage bond on a Chicago building which defaulted in 1931 and was sold at foreclosure sale in September, 1937. I did not deposit my bond. I received about 67 cents on the dollar after foreclosure sale and at intervals since received what they call deficiency earnings. I have just received another notice, as before, saying there is another payment coming. The procedure has been for me to present the bond, whereupon they indorse or stamp on it the amount paid and hand me the bond together with their check. At no time have they asked that they hold the bond. However, I wonder if this will be the last payment, as the redemption period should be about up.

1. Will I be obliged to give them the bond at end of redemption period?

2. Could I sell the bond at market price after collecting from the foreclosure?

3. In other words, I think it is a lien on the property no matter who owns it.

4. Please let me know if I am entitled to keep my bond. N. K.

1. Your statement of facts does not make entirely clear how the matter is being handled. Is the foreclosure by the trustee on behalf of all of the bondholders, or by the depositing bondholders on their own behalf? In either event, unless you have reason to think that you can collect personally from the person signing the bonds, it seems probable that you will be out after the expiration of the redemption period.

2. We would not expect it to have any market price after expiration of the redemption period. If it does still have a market price then in order to advise you we must have explanatory facts.

3. If the entire property has been sold at foreclosure then the purchaser at the foreclosure sale gets the title clear of the lien and the rights of the bondholders are transferred to the proceeds of the sale.

4. We suggest that you try asking the parties with whom you are dealing to state their intentions on this point and to explain matters to you.

SHARE IN ESTATE.

Forest Park, Ill., March 22.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—My aunt died last month leaving real estate property, personal property, and currency amounting to approximately $100,000. I am the closest relative of the deceased with the exception of an adopted daughter. The adopted daughter says everything was left to her.

1. How and where can I inquire as to the heirs of the deceased?

2. If any of the properties are not mentioned in the will am I by law entitled to a share of them?

3. Am I, because of my close relation to the deceased, lawfully entitled to a portion of the estate even if I am not mentioned in the will? E. G.

1. It is not clear whether you mean helping to ascertain who are the heirs. It seems probable that the estate has been probated and, if so, you could examine the proof of the heirship in the office of the clerk of the Probate court.

2. Unless you are a son of the deceased you will take nothing unless you can prove that the adoption proceedings were void.

3. Not where she leaves a validly adopted child. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

HOLLYWOOD FILM DANCER SLUGGED ON QUIET STREET

Circumstances Point to Sosoyeva Killer.

Hollywood, Cal., March 29.—[Special.]—A young motion picture actress lay seriously injured tonight after being slugged by a night marauder. Her assailant is believed to be the same man who killed a woman in a similar attack near here a month ago.

Delia Bogard, 17 years old, was struck down by a man who stepped from behind a building and confronted her as she was on her way home from a movie early today. She was found lying on a lawn, a heavy piece of timber beside her.

After giving police an incoherent description of what had occurred, the young actress lapsed into a coma. Although physicians expressed hope for her recovery, they said her skull apparently was fractured and her condition is serious. She had not been raped, hospital attendants said.

In Mickey Rooney Picture.

An accomplished dancer, Miss Bogard had appeared in vaudeville and in several film productions. Among the rôles she has taken are those of "Tomboy Taylor" in a Mickey McGuire series with Mickey Rooney, and as an associate of Jackie Cooper in the recently completed picture "What a Life."

Police described the timber used in the attack as similar to the one wielded by the man who fatally beat Anya Sosoyeva, blonde Russian dancer, on the campus of Los Angeles City college Feb. 25.

In both instances the slugger picked a secluded spot to wait for his victims and struck them down as they passed. Inasmuch as neither victim was raped or robbed, police have been at a loss in seeking a motive for the attacks.

Renew Hunt for Killer.

Search was renewed for a man with blond hair, who was reported fleeing from the scene of Miss Sosoyeva's beating.

The Russian dancer was walking from her apartment to a campus auditorium to appear in a dramatic skit when she was assaulted. A friend who was to have appeared with her in the dramatic school revue found her stumbling along the school walk, dazed from a blow on her head.

She became unconscious shortly after she was found and died in a hospital three hours later.

HEARING STARTED ON POWER RATE OF SCHOOL BOARD

James M. Slattery, chairman of the Illinois commerce commission, yesterday approved the consolidation of two petitions asking for an investigation of electric rates paid by the board of education. The first petition was filed by Raymond F. Kraft of Evanston, and the second by Adam J. Frauenholz, 1911 Howe street. Hearing on the consolidated case was started immediately before Robert H. Farrell, assistant commissioner.

The consolidated petition charges that during the last thirty years, under a 1909 contract, the board has paid $4,281,760 too much for electricity.

Slays Employe; Shoots Wife; Then Kills Himself

Norfolk, Neb., March 29.—(AP)—County Attorney Andrew D. Mapes said Leo Long late today killed his hired man, Alfred Carr of Norfolk, with two pistol shots in the head, shot his wife in the head and shoulder, and then killed himself with a bullet through the heart. Mrs. Long is expected to recover. Long was said to have suffered a nervous breakdown recently.

$25,000 BAIL SET FOR EX-HUSBAND OF RUTH ETTING

Los Angeles, Cal., March 29.—(AP)—A step toward the release of Martin [Moe] Snyder from jail was taken here today. Superior Judge Thomas L. Ambrose set bail for Snyder, former husband of Ruth Etting, at $25,000.

Snyder appealed his conviction last December by a jury that convicted him of attempting to kill Myrl Alderman, Miss Etting's present husband.

Snyder faces a sentence of from six month to twenty years if his appeal fails.

Fear Richard Halliburton, Author, and 10 Lost at Sea

San Francisco, Cal., March 29.—(AP)—S. W. Fenton, marine superintendent of the Mackay Radio company here, expressed fear today for the safety of Richard Halliburton, the author, and ten other men aboard the Chinese junk Sea Dragon, en route from Hong Kong to San Francisco and unheard from since last Friday. Fenton said his company had been operating on a regular contact schedule with the Halliburton party and the last contact was made Friday morning when the junk was 2,400 miles from Hong Kong, bound for Midway Island. Shortly after the last contact, a severe typhoon swept the area, Fenton said.

Bandit's Victim Knows What to Do, and Does It Quickly

One of the paper sack bandits found a victim last night who anticipated just what he wanted. When he pointed a revolver at Miss Mary Haag in the candy store at 2662 Milwaukee avenue, and announced it was a holdup, she took $50 from the till, placed it in a bag and handed it to the intruder without another word. When he left she called police and said: "I knew what to do because I was robbed a week ago by a man who wanted the money in a bag. I thought it best to repeat my previous performance."

REVAMPING BILL, 'JOKE' NOW, SENT TO WHITE HOUSE

Measure Only a Shadow of Original One.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 29.—[Special.]—A government reorganization measure, labeled a "joke bill" in debate, was sent to the White House today after the house had approved by a voice vote a conference report settling controversies with the senate.

Loaded with restrictive amendments and carrying an economy proclamation distasteful to President Roosevelt, the bill is but a shadow of the famous measure which created an uproar in congress last year, and which finally was killed by the house.

Twenty Agencies Exempt.

"It is not a 'must' bill but a 'must not' bill," commented Representative Everett M. Dirksen [R., Ill.]. "Twenty agencies are immune from executive action so that there will be little for the President to reorganize."

In its final form, the act carries a declaration that "By reason of continued national deficits beginning in 1931 it is desirable to reduce substantially government expenditures." Such a reduction, it states, may be accomplished "in some measure" by reorganization of the government.

Congress Has Veto Power.

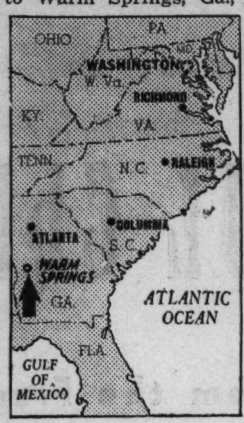
In submitting any reorganization program, the President is required to state the reduction of expenditures which he thinks probably will be brought about, under the terms of the measure.

Congress is given a veto power over any presidential proposal. It may nullify any program by passing a concurrent resolution stating that it does not favor the plan. Comprehensive regulations are set up to prevent pigeon-holing the proposal or filibustering against it to prevent a congressional vote on such a resolution.

Probably the most important portion of the bill, from President Roosevelt's standpoint, is the provision granting him authority to appoint six administrative assistants whose salaries shall be $10,000 a year.

ROOSEVELT ON WAY TO WARM SPRINGS, GA., FOR 10 DAY VACATION

Aboard Presidential Special en Route to Warm Springs, Ga., March 29.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt left the White House this afternoon for a ten day stay in the infantile paralysis resort he founded in middle Georgia. En route to the little White House on Pine mountain, he will make three stops in Alabama.



Arrow locates Warm Springs.

The presidential special, which left Washington at 2:30 p. m., will stop at Chehaw, Ala., tomorrow at 10 a. m. Mr. Roosevelt will go by automobile to Tuskegee, Ala.

There he will visit the veterans' hospital and later Tuskegee institute, Negro college, where he will speak. Then he will drive to Auburn, Ala., to visit Alabama Polytechnic institute, and make a brief speech to the faculty and students.

On his way by automobile to Warm Springs, Mr. Roosevelt will stop at Opelika, Ala., to greet assembled school children. Between Opelika and Warm Springs, he will stop for a picnic lunch. The party is expected to reach Warm Springs at 4 p. m. and return to Washington April 10.

MANTON PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO BRIBE CHARGES

New York, March 29.—[Special.]—Martin T. Manton, former presiding judge of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, pleaded not guilty before Judge Murray Hulbert in federal court today to a third indictment charging him with accepting bribes to influence his decision as a jurist. May 22 was set as the date for trial.

Yesterday his co-defendant in this indictment—John L. Lotsch, disbarred lawyer and former Brooklyn banker — pleaded guilty, admitting the charge that he gave Manton two $5,000 bribes in cash for certain assistance which the indictment called "corrupt."

United States Attorney John T. Cahill told Judge Hulbert that the federal grand jury, which is considering Manton's case, will be in session two weeks longer and that he expects a further indictment.

U. S. CONVICTS 5 OF WPA FRAUD IN NEW MEXICO

Santa Fe, N. M., March 29.—[Special.]—A federal court jury today convicted five men of conspiring to use the WPA for political purposes. Judge Colin Neblett deferred sentence, which entails a maximum penalty of two years imprisonment and a fine of $2,000.

The convicted men are Bernardo Cruz, Mora county Democratic chairman; Carlos Garcia, Benito Piaz, Julio Greigo, and Arturo Maes. They were among seventy-three persons named in wholesale indictments last October which revealed the greatest scandal ever uncovered in the WPA.

The defendants were accused of manipulating the WPA by coercion and intimidation of workers for political benefit. It was charged they assisted in robbing the needy and poor by extorting fees from WPA workers and that they forced relief agency employés to vote according to the dictates of political leaders.

SOBER UP ON CUP OF COFFEE? NOT FOR VERY LONG

People who drink alcoholic beverages and then try to sober up with coffee are fooling themselves, but they're not putting anything over on science. Experiments conducted in Berlin and reported in the Journal of the American Medical Association show that there is no change in the alcoholic content of the blood after coffee has been added. It is true there is a brief clearing of the head, the testing professor said, but this is only temporary. Soon the drinker is again "relaxed and uncertain."

NEW U. S. OFFICER TO DIRECT HAITI ARMY TRAINING

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 29.—[Special.]—Lieut. Col. Benjamin G. Weir will shortly replace Lieut. Col. Samuel J. Heidner as head of the American military mission to Haiti, it was learned today.

Col. Heidner has been ill and was forced to come home on leave. During his absence, the work of the mission has been conducted by Capt. Douglas Smith.

The mission was established by the war department last September to put the Haitian army on a level of higher efficiency. It was believed that establishment of a mission would be more in keeping with the good neighbor policy than intermittent intervention of marines to protect American interests.

Ed Wynn Called Nagger in Second Wife's Suit

New York, March 29.—(AP)—Describing her comedian-husband, Ed Wynn, as a constant nag, the former Frieda Mierse, 27 years old, today filed suit for separation in State Supreme court. Wynn's attorney, Sidney R. Fleisher, said "the perfect fool" of stage and radio would fight the suit with 23 opposing affidavits. The second Mrs. Wynn charged she was abandoned last Aug. 1 after "cruel and inhuman treatment" during their 21 months of marriage. Mrs. Wynn asks $250 a week temporary alimony and $7,500 counsel fees.

HELP STOMACH DIGEST FOOD
Without Laxatives—and You'll Eat Everything from Soup to Nuts

The stomach should digest two pounds of food daily. When you eat heavy, greasy, coarse or rich foods or when you are nervous, hurried or chew poorly—your stomach often pours out too much fluid. Your food doesn't digest and you have gas, heartburn, nausea, pain or sour stomach. You feel sour, sick and upset all over.

Doctors say never take a laxative for stomach pain. It is dangerous and foolish. It takes those little black tablets called Bell-ans for Indigestion to make the excess stomach fluids harmless, relieve distress in no time and put you back on your feet. Relief is so quick it is amazing and one 25c package proves it. Ask for Bell-ans for Indigestion.

TRAVEL BY AIR 458 PCT. SAFER THAN IN 1930

Awards Given to Lines for 1938 Records.

New York, March 29.—[Special.]—The safety of air travel has increased 458 per cent over that of 1930, it was revealed today when six air lines received certificates of special commendation from the National Safety council in recognition of their records of safety in the transportation of passengers. The awards were divided into three groups according to operating mileage.

In the major group, including lines flying more than 50 million passenger miles annually, American Air Lines led with a world record of 410,237,966 passenger miles without a passenger fatality. American won last year, too, with 249,912,932 passenger miles without a fatality.

Eastern Air Lines Second.

Second in group A is Eastern Air Lines, winner in 1936 and 1937, whose perfect record was marred at Daytona, Fla., last year when a power company erected a line and pole at the end of a runway overnight without advising the air line. The citation was made to E. V. Rickenbacker's line by the safety council, in recognition of its continued high standard of safe operation.

In the second group of lines operating 2 million or more, but less than 50 million passenger miles a year, Pennsylvania Central Air Lines took high honors. This company in its eleven years of operation has flown 70,159,498 passenger miles without a passenger or crew casualty.

Braniff Airways, which until last Sunday had never lost a passenger, was second in the group with a total of 47,957,588 passenger miles without a passenger fatality through the years 1932-'38.

Continental Air Lines and Inland Air Lines won the safety honors in the third group of air lines flying less than 2 million passenger miles a year.

United Gets Special Award.

There was also a special safety award, won by United Air Lines, for "conspicuous technical advancement of the safety of air transportation." This award, the first of its kind ever made to a domestic air line, resulted from a long series of technical and research projects which United carried to successful completion.

For the first time a special safety award was made to a division of an air line. This was won by the eastern division of Transcontinental and Western Air, which as a separate operating unit recorded 151,204,504 passenger miles without a passenger fatality.

Charts prepared by the safety council from government mileage statistics show that in 1930 the lines flew 4,000,675 passenger miles for every fatality, whereas last year this figure increased to 22,308,771 passenger miles. This shows the 458 per cent increase in air travel safety in eight years.

Experiment Watched

New York, March 29.—[Special.]—A new lightweight streamlined rapid transit car, embracing innovations in noise elimination and speedy operation, will go into service on the Brooklyn Manhattan Transit company system tomorrow. It is an experimental car designed for elevated and subway use.

The car is a departure from the conventional heavy rapid transit type. It is composed of three units mounted on four trucks and weighs 76,000 pounds, or only slightly more than half the weight of a conventional car of similar capacity. Aluminum alloys were widely used in the construction of the body.

The development of the unit, which was built by the Clark Equipment company at Battle Creek, Mich., has been watched closely by Chicago traction engineers who believe that this car, or a modification of it, may be adopted in modernizing the elevated lines when the Chicago traction unification and rehabilitation program is approved.

RAIN IN SWAMP BLOCKS SEARCH FOR AIRPLANE

Prentiss, Miss., March 29.—(AP)—Sherif A. H. Polk said tonight reports were made to him that a plane fell and exploded in the swamps 10 miles northeast of here.

The sherif said residents of the Clem community told him they saw the plane fall late today and disappear in the swamp. A loud explosion followed and then clouds of smoke swirled upward.

A searching party was organized immediately, but rain and the high water in the swamp prevented it from entering. Sherif Polk said a party will attempt to reach the ship at daybreak.

All airline planes in the vicinity were accounted for.

BOATYARD BLAZE HITS 8 YACHTS; PERILS OIL CRAFT

Fire swept a boatyard at 3250 North Washtenaw avenue yesterday and damaged eight cruisers and yachts, with a loss estimated at $20,000.

Workmen who were conditioning one boat, were believed by investigators to have started the blaze accidentally. It spread rapidly to other vessels.

Among the pleasure craft damaged were the Ottmar, 65 foot Diesel yacht belonging to Otto Dice of 2440 Indiana avenue; the Scattie, 36 foot diesel chuiser owned by C. S. Gordon, 4300 Lake Shore drive, and the Marlefay, a 50 foot yacht belonging to F. E. Rickard of 6947 Constance avenue.

Mrs. Karr, 65, Uses Her Umbrella to Good Purpose

Mrs. Morris Karr, 65 years old, was walking near her home at 775 Van Buren street, Gary, last night. She was carrying her umbrella. A young thief tried to snatch her purse. The rest of the story is told on the police report thus: "He failed of his object and fled because Mrs. Karr socked him on the head with her umbrella, breaking same."

PIRATES ROB 300 OF CLOTHES; RAID ITALIAN STEAMER

Chinese Guerrillas Kidnap Seven Spanish Priests.

SHANGHAI, March 29.—(AP)—Piracy, kidnaping, and reports of an imminent anti-British campaign shared importance tonight with dispatches detailing severe fighting in much of war torn China.

The Italian steamer Romolo reported that pirates had raided her last night at the mouth of the Yangtze river and took baled cotton, chickens, goats, and nearly all the clothes of 300 Chinese passengers before escaping.

A message to Augustinian officials from Anking said that seven Spanish Jesuit priests were held captive by Chinese guerrillas in the wild Lake Taihu region near the Anhwei-Huper provincial borders. Ransom demands had not been made.

Battle in Central Area.

Continuous and bloody battles raged throughout northern Kiangsi province, central China, as the Japanese reported they had advanced their front southward along the Kan river, after occupying Nanchang, Kiangsi capital, and Wuning, 70 miles to the northwest.

Japanese reported that they had occupied Tengchow, an important coastal city in northern Shantung province, and had gained control of the entire Shantung peninsula.

Foreign observers in Nanking foresaw an attempt to foment an anti-British drive as ministers of the Japanese-sponsored Peking and Nanking governments opened discussions preliminary to a joint session of those régimes which nominally rule central and North China.

Flay "British Imperialism."

Coinciding with the Nanking reformed government's observance of its first anniversary, posters appeared on the walls of some Nanking buildings denouncing "British imperialism." Anti-French and anti-soviet posters previously had appeared in Nanking.

The Nanking anniversary celebrations included continuous daylight parades in which several thousand Chinese participated. Some paraders admitted that they were paid 40 cents.

U. S. NAVY TO SPEND 15 MILLION DOLLARS FOR MOSQUITO FLEET

Washington, D. C., March 29.—(AP)—The navy disclosed today that it would soon start building a 15 million dollar mosquito fleet to supplement the projected 45,000 ton battleships and other major craft.

Announcing distribution of $95,500 prize awards among designers, officials said the ideas of the civilian draftsmen and the navy's experts for small, fast torpedo carrying "suicide" boats and for larger submarine chasers would be tested shortly.

With scores of small torpedo carriers, difficult to cope with because of their speed, Italy, Germany, Great Britain, and France have demonstrated the deadly possibilities of the type, especially since the world war.

Bridge Washed Out; Autos Dive Into River; One Dies

Vicksburg, Miss., March 29.—(AP)—At least one person was drowned and an undetermined number of others injured tonight when their automobiles dropped, one after the other, into a raging torrent which had swept a bridge from a highway about 12 miles east of here. The state highway patrol said the body of one man was recovered and that there might be other fatalities. The name of the dead man was not learned.

SEVEN VETERANS OF POLICE FORCE GO TO COUNTRY

Seven horses, ranging in age up to 18 years, some of which have served twelve years for the city, were sold at auction yesterday for a total of $442.50, a little more than $63 each. All of them went to the country, where they will be ridden carefully by various landed gentry. All were lame or partially so, and none was broke to work in harness, so there will be no plowing for them. The seven, which had belonged to the mounted police forces, were part of a group of 225 sold yesterday by Harry McNair, a riding horse commissioner in the stockyards. None of them was bought by a policeman.

FORCE!
LIFT!
DRIVE!

You've hit your inner stride

....when you regain healthy per·i·stal·sis

Perfect timing . . . drive . . . lift . . . they all depend on your inner stride!

This stride is kept going by the motion of the intestines. It's a rhythmic contracting and expanding. Per-i-stal-sis, by name. You don't notice the motion when it's healthy, normal; but when it falters, you're soon aware of a constipated feeling.

Often a gentle but thorough flushing-out is advisable...to remove accumulated waste...to give peristalsis a fair chance. Eno can help you—then.

What fluid-action means

Eno brings needed moisture to the intestines from other parts of the body. It encourages mild stimulation. Gently, waste matter is flushed away—by this fluid-action... this stimulation. You've helped clear the way for healthy peristalsis.

You "alkalize", too

Bubbly, refreshing Eno does more than cleanse. It alkalizes—helps neutralize excess stomach acids. Remember this extra benefit.

Regain healthy peristalsis! Feel drive...force...lift return, when you hit your inner stride. Get Eno now at your druggist's.

WHY TAKE CHANCES WITH HEAD COLDS?

If you feel a head cold coming on — take no chances—call a doctor at once. He will probably suggest a light liquid diet and put you to bed. Only Nature can cure a cold and you can help Nature best by getting plenty of rest.

To rest comfortably, you should be able to breathe freely thru your nose. Here's a simple thing that will help ease your breathing and thus promote restful sleep. If your nose is stopped up with mucus, due to a cold, get a jar or tube of Mentholatum at any drug store. Put some in each nostril and snuff it up as far as you can. Mentholatum is a mild, cooling ointment containing menthol, camphor and soothing oils. It stays put in your nose and gives off clearing vapors for hours. This action helps to open up your breathing passages and soothes the rawness inside your nose. If your cold is "farther down", rub a liberal quantity on neck, throat and chest.

Remember, don't take chances with head colds—call a doctor at once. Then get some Mentholatum to help relieve head cold miseries. Used by millions for over 40 years. In jars and tubes, at all druggists—only 30¢.

Just ask any first-class druggist for an original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil and refuse to accept anything else. READY TO POUR CONCRETE FOR DRIVE PROJECT

New Grade Separation at North Ave.

Workmen will start pouring concrete this week for the new grade separation in Lake Shore drive near North avenue. The structure, north and east of the present North avenue underpass to the drive, is part of a $1,250,000 improvement being made by the park district with the aid of WPA labor.

George T. Donoghue, general superintendent of the district, said yesterday he expects the entire project to be completed by summer. It will take 700 square yards of concrete to fill the wooden forms for the grade separation structure.

Remove Jogs in Drive.

The improvement will have a combined purpose, according to Otto K. Jelinek, park trafic engineer. It will aid trafic from La Salle, Dearborn and State streets to reach the Lake Shore and Beach drives. It also will eliminate jogs in the existing Lake Shore drive, just north of North avenue, and eliminate the bottleneck caused by the present thirty-two foot underpass.

The improvement consists of the large grade separation with a 100 foot roadway, which will connect directly with Lake Shore drive, sometimes known as Middle drive, and the Outer or Beach drive, north of North avenue, and the Lake Shore express lanes south of North avenue.

The grade separation also will connect on the west with a 60 foot roadway which will join State, Dearborn, and La Salle streets. The present circle drive, which swings around the ball playing field and connects with Stockton drive along the west end of the park, will be eliminated. The same drive will be eliminated where it swings north and connects with Lake Shore drive.

North Avenue Turning Circle.

North avenue will end a half block west of Lake Shore drive, where a small turning circle will be constructed. The west lane of Lake Shore drive, south of North avenue, used for local two-way trafic, will connect with the underpass of the grade separation, carrying trafic either north or west.

In conjunction with the North avenue improvement is the $1,200,000 beach improvement, extending from North to Dickens avenues. It includes a beach house and parking space at North avenue.

Both improvements are part of a park improvement program planned by the park commissioners and Mayor Kelly.

U. S. TRAFIC TOLL DROPS FOR 16TH STRAIGHT MONTH

Decline for February Is 12 Percent.

For the sixteenth consecutive month the nation's trafic toll was less in February than in the corresponding month of the year before. The National Safety council announced that the toll last month dropped from 2,060 to 1,810, a reduction of 12 per cent. Fatalities in January showed an 8 per cent reduction.

Illinois' record for February was 1 per cent better than a year ago. Chicago, however, saved fourteen lives, or a reduction of 14 per cent. The council reported that the nation's improvement was shown without a decrease in the volume of travel.

Woman Dies of Injuries.

Mrs. Helen Schultz, 53, of 2044 Peterson avenue, died yesterday in Illinois Masonic hospital of injuries suffered Sunday when her automobile struck a safety island at Western and Balmoral avenues. Her husband, Emil, who was driving, and two children, Robert, 22, and Grace, 20, were injured.

F. C. D'AIX, MINE OPERATOR, DIES IN AUTO ACCIDENT

San Bernardino, Cal., March 29.—[Special.]—Frederick C. D'Aix, 68 years old, a wealthy Mojave desert mining operator whose home was in Kenilworth, Ill., was fatally injured in an automobile accident near here today. Highway patrol officers said he was in an automobile driven by Chester A. Todd, 29 years old, of 36 North Mason avenue, Chicago, with offices at 30 North La Salle street.

They were driving from Los Angeles to Daggett, where D'Aix lived while engaged in operations at a gold mine at Ludlow in which both men were interested. Todd told highway patrol officers that he turned to avoid hitting a dog, which had appeared to be a child. The car struck a tree.

D'Aix was a German count, who was born in Paris. He came to this country before the world war and was naturalized.

Surviving is the widow, Mrs. Clara B. Parmelee D'Aix, who before her marriage to D'Aix was the widow of Charles K. Parmelee of Chicago.

These 3 common ills may often come from a shortage of vitamins

How the New High-Vitamin Yeast offers MORE EFFECTIVE help than just vitamins alone

MANY men and women today—studies indicate—are not as splendidly well and energetic as they might be, because their everyday meals fail to give enough of all the vitamins they need.

Richer in 4 needed Vitamins

In the new Fleischmann's High-Vitamin Yeast you can now get a richer combination of 4 vitamins everyone needs in ample amounts regularly—Vitamin A, essential to help keep up good resistance, Vitamin B_1, necessary for steady, healthy nerves, Vitamin D, the important "bone" vitamin, and the "Vitality" Vitamin G!

Many foods give you one or two of these necessary vitamins—but no other single food gives you all 4 at once in such rich amounts as you can now get in this improved High-Vitamin Yeast.

Plus "Booster Action" of Fresh Yeast

And eating these extra vitamins this way—in fresh yeast—offers the added help of the yeast itself.

If your digestion is slow, or not working properly, you may not be able to make full use of the vitamins you eat. By helping to quicken and stimulate this poor digestion, Fleischmann's Yeast aids in making fuller use of the vitamins you eat. In this way it "boosts" their assimilation—offers more complete results than vitamins alone.

Start now to eat these extra vitamins this effective way. Fleischmann's High-Vitamin Yeast costs but a few cents daily at your grocer's.

2 cakes a day of Fleischmann's High-Vitamin Yeast give you . . .
VITAMIN A—6200 UNITS (Int.)
VITAMIN B_1—300 UNITS (Int.)
VITAMIN D—800 UNITS (Int.)
VITAMIN G—100-120 UNITS (Sh. Bour.)

All the average person needs (plus meals) of A, B_1 and D, and a rich extra supply of the "Vitality" Vitamin G. Eat one cake ½ hour before breakfast or lunch, one cake ½ hour before supper, or, if you prefer, eat the two cakes at one time. Eat them plain or in water—every day.

Looking at Hollywood

By Ed Sullivan

You Always Find a Barrymore.

San Francisco, Cal., March 29.—Your eye is arrested by bill posters advertising the local appearance of Ethel Barrymore at the Geary theater, and the thought strikes home that the clan Barrymore has endured for a good many years on the theatric horizon . . . with Lionel and John clicking importantly in pictures and Ethel still active on the stage, the famous family is present and accounted for.

No other family has held the position which the Barrymores occupy and have occupied. . . . Come rain or high water, they continue to keep their names up in lights.

Of the three, perhaps Lionel Barrymore has won the greatest distinction because of the three he had the most even disposition. . . . Both John and Ethel had temperament of greater intensity, and years ago it would have been better than an even money bet that they would achieve the greatest success.

Over the long pull, however, Lionel's steadier gait was more effective. . . . His characterization in "You Can't Take It with You" was a fine performance, one of the highlights of 1938.

The more brilliant John Barrymore, who won early fame with his unusual approach to "Hamlet," is now in New York preparing to do a play with his wife. . . . The last time he was in New York as a player John was accredited as one of the finest dramatic stars on the legit stage.

That on his return he is hailed as one of the best light comedians in pictures is due in large part to his versatility and the breaks of the business — and Carole Lombard. . . . There always has been a definite sympathy between Miss Lombard and Barrymore, and during the making of "Twentieth Century" she handled him as easily as though she were his mother. . . . He'd listen to her and do as she suggested.

Then he fell on lean days, and when she made "True Confessions" she insisted that he play the part of the lawyer.

That was the rôle that returned John Barrymore to top ranking, and it launched him on a series of light comedy parts that made him again one of the most sought comedians in the cinema. . . . Personally John Barrymore is just as vital and entertaining as he was in the days when he was the toast of New York, Chicago, and London. . . . His speech is just as vigorous, his phrasing just as uncensored.

There is a sparkle to him that never will diminish, and an interview is an experience that you don't soon forget because here indeed is the last of the matinée idols, and he fulfills every specification.

San Francisco at the moment also offers Basil Rathbone, in person, as the narrator of a tone poem; it offers Hugh Herbert on the vaudeville stage; it tenders Irene Rich in a play, and Richard Crooks is singing tonight at the War Memorial Opera house. . . . In addition the Federal theater is engaged in a successful run of "Run, Little Chillun," Sally Rand is dancing at the Music Box, and Harry Owens and Joe Reichman represent the top band leaders.

On top of that there is the world's fair, which continues to fare badly, and the ponies run every afternoon at Tanforan, which is about three touts south of the city limits.

Of all these things none holds so much interest for the newcomer as, for instance, the Chinese telephone exchange, the only foreign telephone exchange in these United States. . . . They showed us through it yesterday morning. . . . Here you see the only "hand painted" telephone directory in existence, as all numbers, names and phones are lettered by hand in Chinese characters in the phone book.

The ink used is from the ink bags of cuttlefish caught in the ocean near Monterey, Cal., and once the expert letterer completes his work the finished pages are then reproduced by the regular engraving and printing processes.

Four girl operators, Chinese, were on duty when I saw the Pagoda building which houses the exchange. . . . Each of the operators not only knows the names of the 2,100 Chinese telephone subscribers but also knows the street addresses and telephone numbers.

The Chinese rarely ask for a number; they ask for a person by name and the operator accordingly must know the number that goes with that name. . . . Often she is given only a description of the person the caller wants, but to date the Chinese exchange boasts that it never has failed to find the desired party. . . . What renders it more difficult is that the subscribers call up in any one of five dialects, so the operators have to be linguistic experts as well as female Edgar Hoovers.

Startled by their expertness, and buoyed by it, your reporter this afternoon went to Tanforan. . . . You might think, by contrast with the difficult task of the Chinese phone operators, that it would be fairly simple to pick a winner at the race track, where the horses parade before your very eyes and all biographical data is supplied, even to the weight of the jocky. . . . Tanforan, however, was all Chinese to me. . . . Two of my horses lost by noses, but that is small consolation, as I was betting on their noses instead of their tails.

Charles Tobias, 145 West 86th street, New York City, wins the contest to invent a new phrase for glamor. . . . His suggestion is "Oowah!" Seemed to me to have more zip to it than the other contestants. . . . If a girl has "Oowah" she has oomph, umph, and it. . . . So, Charles, if you will write and tell what two autographed pictures you want, I'll mail 'em to you.

The Housewife

Now's the time to give the living room a springlike feeling by treating the windows to new draperies. And it's not such a job either, when you can get such attractive ones ready-made.

We suggest a type that resembles homespun, that drapes beautifully, and that has broad, horizontal stripes as its decoration. These stripes are in the following combinations: Rose and white, dull green and white, yellow and white, deep blue and white, and brown and white.

These draperies are made to fit standard sized windows and are not lined. They're most reasonably priced and are long wearing.

Harvard's Glee Club Will Sing with Symphony

BY JUDITH CASS.

Harvard alumni, especially those who used to sing with the glee club, may be excused if they are going around with their heads a little higher than usual these days, for they naturally are proud of the fact that the Harvard Glee club is singing with the Chicago Symphony orchestra next week.

It is not the first time the club has sung with a symphony orchestra. The group has appeared with some of the leading eastern symphonies, but it is the first time a college glee club has sung with the Chicago orchestra.

The trustees of our orchestra are going to give a reception for the young men following the Thursday night concert. The party is being sponsored and arranged by the president, Edward L. Ryerson, and Mrs. Ryerson; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Cable, and Mr. and Mrs. John P. Welling. These three men represent Yale, Harvard, and Princeton, respectively.

Among those who have been invited to meet the Harvard undergraduates are members of the local Harvard club, some of the younger subscribers to the concerts, and many of the girls and boys who will be at home for the Easter holidays.

Young Subscribers Invited to Party.

The reception will be held in the foyer of Orchestra hall, and in case the guests should feel an urge to continue singing, a piano will be installed in one corner. There will be refreshments of the sort that young people like, including beer and pretzels. And milk, of course, for that is a favorite drink with youth, which isn't as flaming nowadays as it was some years ago.

William H. King Jr., president of the Harvard club, and other members will be hosts to the glee club during its Chicago visit. Some of the young men will stay at the Harvard club in South La Salle street and others will be entertained in private homes. The visitors arrive on Wednesday at noon and leave Friday afternoon following their second concert.

Reveal Engagement of Nancy Merrick.

Of interest today is the announcement Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Merrick of Evanston are making of the engagement of their daughter, Nancy, to Phil E. Gilbert Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Phil E. Gilbert of Evanston. Miss Merrick attended the Roycemore school and was graduated from Smith college. Mr. Gilbert prepared at Andover for Dartmouth. He will be graduated from the Harvard law school in June.

Miss Merrick and Mr. Gilbert plan to be married on June 24. They will make their home in New York. Mr. Gilbert couldn't be here for the announcement, as he was unable to leave Harvard during his spring vacation. However, Miss Merrick is leaving today for the east to visit him.

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Alder of Wilmette announce the engagement of their daughter, Marie Louise, to William Ainsworth Rolfing, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben C. Rolfing of Cincinnati. Miss Alder attended the Chevy Chase school in Washington and the Erskine school in Boston. Mr. Rolfing attended Exeter and was graduated from Williams college.

Preview Ushers to Wear Ginger Rogers Gowns.

Those who go to the preview of "The Story of Vernon and Irene Castle" next Wednesday night will be ushered to their seats by young women wearing costumes that Ginger Rogers wore in the film. They are copies, of course, of the ones Irene Castle wore in those days when every one was learning to Castle Walk and trying to be as slim and graceful as the originators of the dance.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

[TRIBUNE Studio Photos.]

Step out much in evening clothes? Then don't forget that makeup shouldn't end at your chin line. Use a faintly tinted lotion to give the skin of back, neck, and arms a flattering, velvety finish.

In our opinion a finishing lotion for arms, neck, and back is one of the absolute essentials for the woman who wants to appear her glorious best in evening clothes. Presenting a perfect picture is your aim, or should be, at all times, but when you step out in a picturesque evening frock you must remember that perfection is composed of detail after detail and that the whole effect will be as good or as bad as each detail in itself.

It's not smart to forget the area between your chinline and the neckline of your dress. Make up your neck as well as your face and do use some preparation that will give the skin of back and arms a velvety, sleek, "dressed" look! Shiny, rough looking skin above a low cut gown is hard on the onlookers and takes down your score as a perfectly groomed woman.

The pastel colors are a little trying to the body complexion. Groom it up if your spring evening gowns are in soft, delicate shades. Cream it, of course, to make it smooth—and if there are any little blackheads lurking on your back by all means get after them with plenty of vigor.

Over this clean, soft skin surface use a finishing lotion. One of the best we've ever found is like a heavy liquid powder. You have to shake the bottle well to get its contents perfectly blended, then apply it with a piece of damp cotton, patting it on rather than rubbing it in. When the skin is well coated blend it in with the fingertips. It gives the skin a swell finish; it doesn't look powdered, but it has a groomed look that's soft and flattering. And it's particularly effective for skin that has that funny oily look.

This comes in three shades, natural, beige, and a lovely rosy tan for those of you who've been chasing the sun. The natural shade is a creamy one for the fair skinned.

ELEANOR NANGLE.

[For information about this finishing lotion telephone Eleanor Nangle, Superior 0100.]

Bishop Schrembs of Cleveland Is Awarded Title of Archbishop

Washington, D. C., March 29.—(AP)—Pope Pius has elevated the Most Rev. Joseph Schrembs, bishop of Cleveland, to the rank of archbishop.

This was announced today by the apostolic delegation, who said that the honor was confirmed in recognition of Bishop Schrembs' "outstanding merits" and in anticipation of the observance of the fiftieth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood on June 29.

Bishop Schrembs was elevated to the episcopate in 1911 and named auxiliary bishop of Grand Rapids, Mich. The same year he was transferred to Toledo as bishop of the diocese, and there he remained until 1921, when he came to Cleveland.

Blind Musical Tribute to Pure Love of Music

BY DORIS LOCKERMAN.

Three hundred men and women shuffled cautiously through the rain last night to Temple Judea, 1227 Independence boulevard, to attend a concert they could not see. And from the stage thirty musicians, all carefully groomed, smiled and bowed at an audience they could only sense was there.

The blind were entertaining the blind.

It was the annual musical of the Blind Service Association of Chicago, the climax of months of arduous study of notes and words in Braille. Each of the piano solos had meant hours of memorizing, phrase by phrase, with fingers used first for eyes, then for music. Choral singers had worn thin their sheets of Braille during their frequent rehersals.

"We think this is the finest concert in Chicago," said Mrs. Gottfried Bernstein, head of the service association. "Have you ever seen artists so eager and an audience so enthusiastic?"

A seven piece orchestra swung jauntily through a medley of popular airs, the pianist tapping out the tempo with his toe. The chorus, led to their places on the stage by their director, Mrs. William Curtis, sang two familiar songs. Heinz Adam, a curly haired youth, gave a dramatic recital.

The listeners applauded clamorously, both when the selections were announced and after they were finished. Several cried out their praises when young Bill Curtis, son of the choral director and a finished pianist, played a melody from Schubert and and followed it with a scherzo of his own composition. One elderly woman remained standing, apparently enraptured, while Ruth Hammerquist sang Gounod's waltz song from "Romeo and Juliet."

"Here are people," Mrs. Curtis said, "who love music. Most of these musicians were born blind, tremendously handicapped. Their first training was at public schools and special schools for the blind. Since then most of them have worked alone, without instructors. They have had to work endlessly to make even the slightest headway. They have practiced for hours. They won't give up, and each year they come to us with something finer to offer their friends."

Ernest McChesney will sing Romeo in Gounod's "Romeo and Juliet" after a summer of study in Europe with Lucien Muratore, one of the most famous Romeos. Performances here will begin on Oct. 28 and continue for seven weeks.

Presenting Coats and Dresses of the most significant new fabric for Spring

Bengaline

Our sixth sense of fashion prompted us to introduce this new-old fabric as a natural medium for the romantic vogue. Paris openings bristled with picture-book styles . . . they demanded a fabric with body, swish and ability to hold its fullness. In the history of Fashion, no fabric has ever been able to replace Bengaline. It has a gleaming true-black that is a wonderful base for furs. It has a "dressiness" that turns the most tailored suit or coat into an all-occasion costume. With its stiff, stand-alone quality, it has exactly the "feel" necessary for the buttoned-up bodices and sweeping skirts of this new age-of-innocence. Be one of the first to wear this flattering, feminine fabric fashion — BENGALINE!

The Blind Side

By Patricia Wentworth

[Copyright: 1939: By Patricia Wentworth Turnbull.]

SYNOPSIS.

Ross Craddock's father turned Craddock house into flats and installed his old maid cousins, Mary and Lucy Craddock, in a flat apiece, on either side of the one occupied by Ross. After Mary's death Lucy prepares to take a trip. Their cousin, Peter Renshaw, is staying in Mary's flat while he settles her estate. Ross orders Lucy to vacate her flat because she objects to his attentions to her foolish young niece, Mavis Grey. Lucy gives her cousin, Lee Fenton, permission to use her flat while she is away. Lee, who is in love with Peter, has just escaped an unpleasant experience with a married man. Rush, the porter, mutters belligerently to Lee against Ross. Mrs. Green the charwoman, says she is ill and asks Lee for a drink of brandy. That evening Peter prevents Bobby Foster, Mavis' suitor, from making a scene in a night club where Mavis is with Ross. Peter is awakened in the night by a crash. He sees Mavis running from Ross' flat and Ross cut and bleeding. Mavis had thrown a decanter at him. Peter lets Mavis stay the rest of the night in his flat. Later he is again awakened and sees Mavis again coming from Ross' flat. She says she went to retrieve her purse. Lee awakens from a nightmare to find herself covered with blood. Her bloody footprints lead from Ross' door. Lee knows she walks in her sleep. In terror she washes away the blood stains and goes to tell Peter. Ross' valet arrives and finds Ross has been shot and killed. He summons the police. An old maid tenant tells how she saw Mavis coming from Ross' flat twice. Peter refuses to lie for Mavis. Miss Challoner, friend of Lucy's, brings word that Lucy did not go on her trip and that she arrived at her home at 3 in the morning. The charwoman adds Rush to the list of suspects. Rush turns over to the police a cigaret case he found belonging to Bobby Foster. Peter takes Detective Abbott to get Lucy's statement. She admits coming to Craddock house after 2 a. m., and seeing a figure hurrying out the door, and going up to find Ross murdered.

INSTALMENT XXVIII.

A CONFESSION.

The rapid interchange of question and answer seemed to pass Lucy Craddock by. When it ceased she said,

"I see what you mean, Mr. Abbott. Indeed that is why I wished to make a statement. If poor Ross had been shot before Mavis went back to that dreadful room to look for her bag at three, then no one could suspect her of having anything to do with it."

"She did go back for her bag then?"

Lucy Craddock looked at him nervously.

"Perhaps I ought not to have said that, but, as I told her, it is our duty to help the law, and he was dead long before she came into the room."

"And it was her bag that you saw, Miss Craddock."

"O, no, Mr. Abbott. I didn't see the bag at all. I wouldn't have left it there if I had seen it. O, no, it had slipped down behind the cushion in that big chair, and I never saw it at all."

"Then what did you see?"

"It was her powder compact, said Lucy Craddock. "It must have fallen off her lap and rolled. It was right at my feet, and of course I knew it at once, because it was a birthday present from Bobby Foster—blue enamel, with her initials on it in diamonds—only of course not real ones, because Bobby couldn't possibly afford that."

. . . .

Lee looked out of the bedroom window and saw Peter getting into a taxi with Detective Abbott. Her heart stopped beating, because this meant that Peter had been arrested and was being taken away to prison.

Detective Abbott shut the door with a good resounding bang and the taxi drove away up the street, and around the corner and out of sight.

Lee's heart had begun to beat again, painfully and hard. She hadn't known just how much she loved Peter until she saw him go away like that.

She must do something at once, and she knew just what she had got to do. She ran out of the flat on to the landing and almost bumped into Inspector Lamb. Before he had time to say "I beg your pardon," she had him by the sleeve.

"I want to tell you something! O, please, please listen! He didn't do it—he didn't really! I want to tell you!"

The inspector looked pardonably surprised.

"I'll listen to anything—it's my job. But not out on the landing. There are too many eavesdroppers in this house. Now suppose you ask me into your flat and tell me what it's all about."

She took him into Lucy Craddock's sitting room, where he sat down in the big armchair. Lee sat down too, because something seemed to have happened to her knees. She said in a small, rigid voice,

"I want to tell you about Tuesday night. Peter didn't do it—he didn't really. I didn't know you were going to arrest him or I would have told you before."

He looked at her shrewdly.

"I didn't know myself."

"I want to tell you about Tuesday night."

"You have made one statement already, Miss Fenton."

He got an agonized glance.

"I didn't tell you everything."

"Nobody ever does," said Inspector Lamb.

"But I will now—O, I will really."

And then she was off on her story, the words tumbling over one another, and every now and then her voice catching and holding them up.

She was telling him about her father and mother, about the accident, and how she had walked in her sleep for months afterwards.

"That is years ago. I was only fifteen. I'm twenty-two now. I hadn't done it since, not until Tuesday night."

"And what makes you think you walked in your sleep on Tuesday night?"

All the color went out of her face as she told him.

"You say your foot was stained, and your nightgown."

"Horribly stained. And then I found my footprints all the way from Ross' door, and the door was shut. I didn't know what had happened. I was afraid to call any one. I washed my nightgown, and I washed the marks."

"Yes—you shouldn't have done that."

"I was so frightened," said Lee, her eyes wide and piteous.

He went on asking her questions.

"You say you woke up with the feeling that something dreadful had happened."

"Yes, but I thought it was in a dream."

"Well, what did you dream?"

"I don't know—I don't remember. I never do—I mean, I never did remember anything when I had been walking in my sleep."

The inspector sat back and looked at her with a frown.

"Well now, Miss Fenton—what do you think about it all yourself? Do you think you shot Mr. Craddock?"

He saw her wince, but she said quite steadily,

"I don't know. Perhaps I did."

"Had you any motive for shooting him?"

"No—not him. But I might have thought he was some one else."

She told him about Réné Merville.

"He—he frightened me—rather badly. If Ross took hold of me, I might have thought—"

"Have you ever fired a revolver?"

"Why, no."

"Well, suppose you were going to fire a revolver, what would you do? Just tell me."

"I should point it at you, and—and—I should try and aim it."

He nodded encouragingly.

"And then?"

"I suppose I should fire it."

"Well, how would you fire it. Come along—tell me!"

She was frowning now and puzzled.

"I should—press the trigger—you do, don't you?"

"That all?"

Her eyes were perfectly blank.

"I suppose so."

The inspector burst out laughing.

"Well, you wouldn't find you'd done much damage, Miss Fenton. Ever hear of a safety catch?"

"Yes—I think so."

"Know what it is?"

"Something to do—with a pistol—"

"But nothing that you would have any idea of what to do with. That's about the size of it—eh?"

Lee's lips began to tremble.

What Girl Is Popular? The Friendly One

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

Two questions frequently asked by girls are: "What kind of a girl do boys like?" and "How can I make boys notice me?"

Dr. Ruth Fedder, guidance counselor, takes up this theme in her recently published book, which we would heartily recommend for parents to put in their daughters' hands, "A Girl Grows Up" [Whittlesey House]. Out of her experience Miss Fedder supplies the answers for any number of problems that beset the growing girl.

"An important part of the answer to the question of how to make boys notice you is," says the well known guidance counselor. "Be attractive. This does not mean pretty, dressed and made up flashily. Boys say they like best the kind of girl with whom they can be seen in public and of whom they can be proud because she has a winning personality and a good disposition.

"She does not sulk or become a 'wet blanket,' or try to give the impression of being better than every one else at a party. She can be depended upon to wear simple but never mannish clothes, to choose clothes suited to her and right for the occasion. She is sure to look well-groomed and to carry herself well. She will not be loud or crude, tell questionable stories, or sit with her legs apart or her feet upon the furniture."

Dr. Fedder finds that the attractive girl is the girl who is at ease socially, who can talk well, who can be gracious to every one, even to a girl or boy whom she does not like. She is probably the girl who has a special skill—she dances well, or talks well; she is good in sports; or she plays a musical instrument well.

She is also the girl who is popular with a number of boys—a good reason for you to go with more than one boy. Because she is the kind of girl of whom the other boys approve, a boy's own self-confidence is built up by her acceptance of his invitation.

Our authority deplores the habit of letting one boy monopolize you, girls. He may begin to feel sorry for you and think that you cannot attract any one else when he suddenly realizes that he is the only boy who dates you.

Preparedness Helps to Meet Child's Phases

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate. Inc.]

"My baby is only 9 months old, but already I am thinking about the years ahead for him and me. I am clipping and pasting your articles in a scrapbook, so I'll be ready for my son when he's a big boy," a number of my young mothers have written me.

Others go even farther back. "Ever since I have known I was going to have a baby, I have been reading everything that seemed good that I could lay my hands on. I'm following your column and storing it up. I'm not going to be caught napping the way some of my friends are." So says another group of, well, they're scarcely more than girls.

And what they're doing is something I'd like to recommend to mothers in general, although it need not be on such a large scale. I don't mean clip and paste, but I do mean than it's wise to have some notion of what to expect of your child before he does it. Quite unwittingly, of course, our children spring the most surprising behavior on us. And quite as often they catch us unaware. And either we think that each change is a problem, when it IS only a change, or else we take it for what it is, but haven't the faintest notion what to do about it. Or worse, we may do the wrong thing.

Knowing something of what a child will be and do gives you a perspective, and so an increased understanding of the whole wonderful process of growing and developing that is covered in the comparatively few years that represent childhood.

Also knowing something of what a child will be and do prepares you for it, and makes you take it and handle it differently and better than you otherwise would.

Your Stars ★ Today ★

By WYNN

Thursday, March 30.

This can be made the best day of the week; get in the good work early, morning better than afternoon. In evening hours tendency will be to rush into new matters that had best be looked into twice. Old items look most reliable.

Your Year Ahead.

Your year ahead may bring restlessness, desire to travel and expand. This is O. K. if practical and sure, especially after first week of May. Careful of antagonism with friends, superiors, elders. Danger from now to April 10 and Jan. 3-31, 1940.

Tomorrow.

Fairly good vibrations if emotions are kept where they belong—under control.

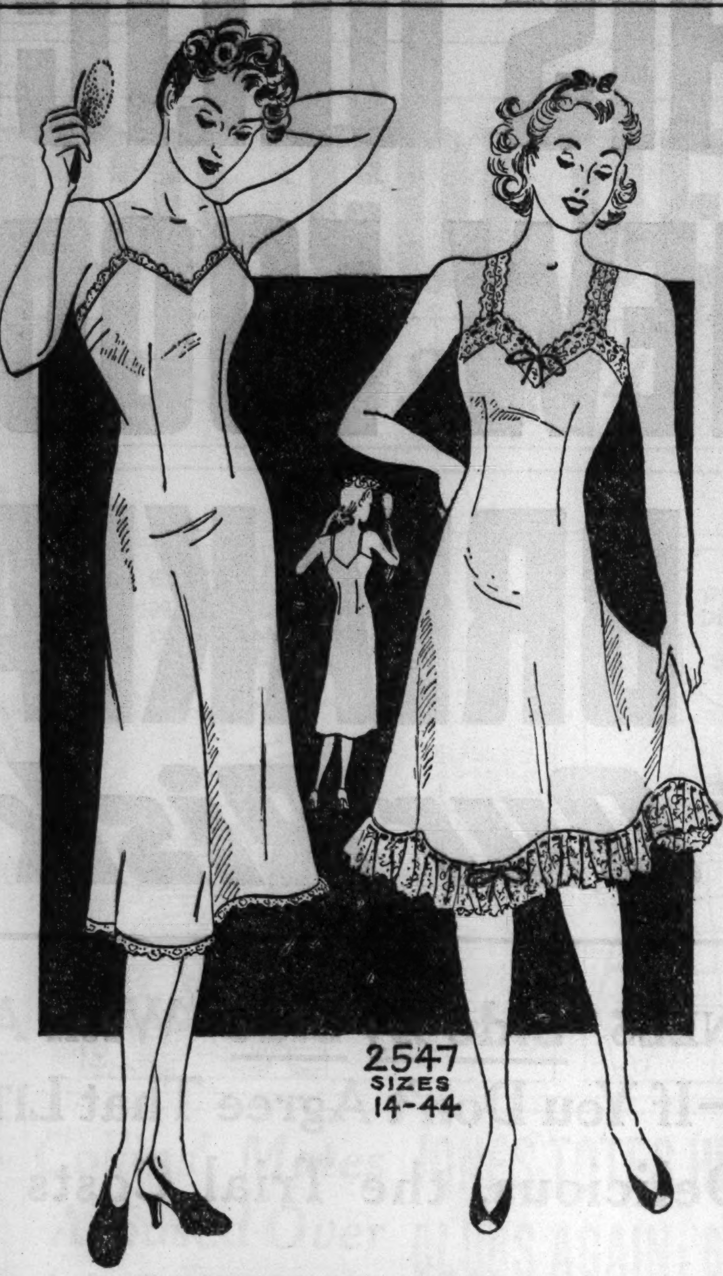
The Lenten season is an opportune time for the Christian to remember that God is not asleep. While society is apparently disintegrating the world over, God is at work molding our contemporary world into one of unity and mutuality.

This was the message of Dr. Harold Heininger of the Evangelical Theological seminary at Naperville in his noonday address yesterday at the Chicago Temple.

"The New Testament teaches that the Christian community is characterized by the building of justice," said Dr. Heininger. "It regards human values as primary and shows Christ as the center of devotion for binding people together in Christian charity."

Either Tailored or Feminine



WOMAN'S AND MISS' PRINCESS SLIP.

The "perfect" slip for your spring costumes must be one that fits. It mustn't ride up when you sit down, and it mustn't hitch. It must stay up at the shoulders and follow the contours of the figure. This slip fulfills all these qualifications, we are proud to announce, and you may make it strictly tailored or dressy, depending upon your taste and the type of frock with which you wish to wear it.

Sketched at the left is a tailored version which makes one concession to femininity—the lace trimming. There is a molded bustline, a slim waist, and a slightly flared skirt. The shoulder straps are placed so that they will "stay put."

At the right is a version that is definitly feminine. The rather wide straps are made entirely of lace, more of which trims the bodice in a fairly wide band. A ribbon is drawn through the lace and another does the same at the lace hemline, which is ruffled for extra daintiness.

Both silks and lingerie cottons make up well in this pattern, which is one you will find perfect for your needs, we are sure.

Style No. 2547 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, and 20, and 32, 34, 36, 38, 40. 42, and 44 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 2½ yards of 39 inch material, with 3 yards of lace edging for the tailored version.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central Station, NEW YORK CITY, inclosing 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

[Copyright: 1939: By Ely Culbertson.]

At match-point duplicate, when a declarer finds himself in an excellent contract and one that he should realize will not be general around the room, he should cast aside all thoughts of overtricks and concentrate on the main point—bringing home the contract.

In the recent Eastern championships top score on a certain board was won by a South player who landed in a one spade doubled contract. He fulfilled it—but probably does not yet know how near he came to converting his "top" into a nice, fat zero.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 club	Pass	1 spade	Double
Pass	Pass	Pass

I need hardly point out that North's bid was decidedly skimpy for all of his three honor tricks. His selection of one club as the opening bid obviously was based on the thought that this was the only choice that would make rebid problems easy; that is, he could respond to any suit take-out except hearts with one no trump and could raise a one heart response to two. Although this spirit of preparedness was laudable, I do not think much of opening a hand as bare as North's. I must admit, however, that in this case the bid had a marvelous result. East passed over one club with the obvious intention of "trapping." I am inclined to think that he should have risked a one spade overcall. His failure to do so had an amusing outcome, since it was then South who bid a spade. South, too, worked on the principle of preparedness. His hand was not quite strong enough to warant an initial heart response and a later spade bid, hence he avoided this "reverse responding" by mentioning the higher ranking suit first. West's take-out double was logical under the circumstances and East's leave-in hardly can be criticized.

West opened the club king and, unfortunately for his team, continued with the queen. Declarer ruffed and led a diamond to the king. Then, in a sudden excess of optimism at the thought of possibly making overtricks, declarer led a low heart from dummy. East discarded a diamond [no doubt giving declarer quite a shock] and West won with the ten. At this point a very shrewd play on West's part would have defeated the contract. Admittedly the play required great foresight and imagination, but I do not feel that it should have been beyond the powers of a tournament player. West should have laid down the heart ace, cheerfully relinquishing his tenace position in order to give his partner the opportunity to discard another diamond. West could take it for granted that East had not left in the double without excellent spades, hence the greatest danger from the defenders' point of view was that declarer would make low trumps on a cross-ruff.

Actually West could not bring himself to laying down the heart ace and compromised on shifting to a trump as the best method of stopping the aforesaid cross-ruff. Unfortunately for him this play was ineffectual. Declarer went right up with dummy's trump ace and ruffed a third club with the spade jack. He returned to dummy with a diamond to the ace and led the fourth club. East had to follow and declarer brought home his lone queen of spades. A diamond ruff with the three of spades produced the seventh trick and fulfilled the contract.

It will be seen that if West had cashed the heart ace, thus permitting East to discard another diamond, and then had shifted to a spade the contract inevitably would have been defeated.

The vegetable markets these days bloom like flower gardens with the crisp orange of carrots, the deep green of spinach, watercress and broccoli, the lighter green and pale yellow beans, shiny purple eggplant, dark red beets; with cucumbers, lettuce, chicory, white stalky heads of endive, radishes, parsnips, green onions, turnips, kohlrabi, lettuce in the head and in the leaf, fresh green peas, green peppers, tomatoes, artichokes, and asparagus. There are others, too, which you'll discover for yourself when you go a-marketing with your little basket.

And O, please do go a-marketing with your little basket! If you don't go in person to select your vegetables for next week, you're going to miss a beautiful display and the fun of choosing the crispest and freshest of the vegetables for your table. You'll find many of them so inexpensive as to leave the food budget rattling with unspent shekels.

Be sure to buy some kind of greens. Green, leafy vegetables, you know, are among our finest sources of minerals and vitamins. Watercress is plentiful right now, and is ranked as an excellent contributor of calcium and iron, and of vitamins A and C. It's a good source of the other vitamins, too. Use it generously in tossed green salads, with chicory and green leaf lettuce. The leaf lettuce is more healthful than the head lettuce. Use watercress as a base for many of your fruit and vegetable salads, for it is one of our most attractive salad greens, as well as one of the most health giving.

Whenever your market carries kale, turnip greens, mustard greens, and beet tops, you'll be wise to take home enough for a "mess." From the health standpoint, they can't be beat. Spinach, which is plentiful everywhere right now, is the old standby among greens, but don't neglect to use plenty of fresh spinach, too. It's fine for salads as well as for cooking.

No springtime luncheon or dinner menu need suffer from lack of variety in vegetables. The cook is wise if she gives her family variety in vegetable preparation as well. Use endive one day for a salad green, braise it in butter and a small amount of water the next day, to be served as the important hot vegetable of the meal. Brush eggplant slices with butter and broil them occasionally, instead of always crumbing and frying them. Or stuff the eggplant and bake it in the oven.

Try scalloping parsnips, turnips, rutabaga, kohlrabi. Other times serve them plain, but well seasoned with salt, pepper and butter. Use green peppers in salads, then stuff them with a rice and meat mixture and bake them for dinner some time.

French-fry cauliflower, cream it, use the flowerets raw in salads, serve a whole head of cauliflower with cheese sauce. Slice cucumbers for salad, or cook them [don't overcook] and serve with butter and seasonings. When you have the patience to peel radishes, do so and cook them as a buttered vegetable [delicious!]. Serve broccoli with various sauces—white sauce, hollandaise, cheese—or French-fry it.

Eat plenty of raw vegetable salads. It's spring, and the only spring tonic any of us need is a vegetable filled diet.

Many Appeals for Beds.

Case workers from all sections of the city are anxiously searching for beds for their clients. In many needy families, they find that several members are forced to sleep on the floor because of lack of proper equipment. Board of health rulings do not permit acceptance of mattresses, but clean beds and springs, single, double, or three-quarter size, are much in demand and can be well utilized. If you have one on hand, won't you let us place it?

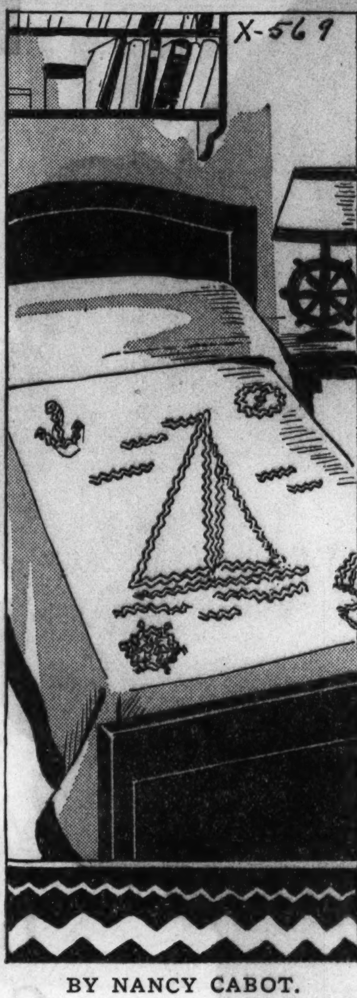
Nautical Theme Embroidered on Neat Bedspread



BY NANCY CABOT.

Rick-rack braid can produce many lovely decorative effects in any room in the house, but there is one room in which it is most enchanting. That is in a boy's room. This nautical theme used in the center of a bedspread may be the only decorative touch needed. White and red rick-rack may be used against a navy blue spread. A lighter shade of blue may be used for the waves and clouds. A compass, wheel, flags, and an anchor are placed each in the four corners of the spread.

For a hot iron transfer pattern of the sailboat, No. X-569, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 5th avenue, New York City.

Youth Writes Appeal About Skin Troubles

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

Parents, this is an appeal to you:

"Dear Miss Donnelly: I am sending you this letter and I hope you print it in your column. I know there are boys and girls of my age who are as miserable as I am, and I hope this will help them. I hope that, after their parents have read this, they will come to their children's aid.

"About three years ago I was considered a good looking young fellow. Then came the dreadful adolescent age and my face broke out. At first I didn't mind it. I did everything possible to help clear it up. Then it continued to get worse. I begged my mother to take me to a doctor. She told me not to worry, that it would clear up by itself, and that a doctor couldn't do anything for it [as many mothers believe]. I stopped eating practically everything, and I tried everything to clear up this condition. Instead of getting better, it got worse, and I lost a great deal of weight.

"Before long I found that I wasn't the same person. I wasn't happy and popular any more, not because people didn't want to know me, but because I became self-conscious and felt inferior. I stopped talking to people and when they spoke to me, I hid my face. Every time any one looked at me I wished I were dead, as I imagined that they were looking at my face. I kept to the house all day and wanted to take my life many times, but could never go through with it. I was the most miserable person in the whole world.

"Then one day [the happiest in a long time] a cousin offered to take me to a doctor friend of his. The thought that I was about to see a doctor made me feel much better. I went to the doctor and he told me what to do. Before long my face cleared up. This proves that a physician can help.

"I am writing this letter because I know there are many girls and boys in the same predicament as mine. I would like to advise parents to take their children to see a doctor as soon as their children beg to be taken. If you do this for your children, you'll save them from tortures. I know just how bad these tortures are, as I went through them. But if you see that your children's skin is properly taken care of and getting the proper treatment, your children will say, 'God bless my parents,' as they are the greatest parents in the world.

Club Exhibition Tells Full Story of Matisse Art

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

The Arts club opens three intriguing exhibitions this afternoon. A comprehensive survey of the paintings of Henri Matisse from 1896 to 1939 hangs in the large gallery.

In the small gallery are abstract paintings by B. G. Benno, who has a positive egg complex; and in the round gallery and the hall are impressionistic canvases by Jean-François Thomas, suggestive of Watteau and Fragonard and charming in their use of rich, warm, subtle, and fluent color.

Matisse is shown as a solid, academic painter in 1896, which we know he was. He had served a ten year apprenticeship in copying old masters for exacting clients, and during that period he could scarcely help but learn how to paint. That sort of painting did nothing for him financially.

With fellow artists he began to branch out. He branched in various directions and became one of the fathers of modern art. The more he trod the light fantastic on bubbles of irresponsible color and form, the more swiftly he rose to fame. He still, in spite of his years, titillates at the top. If the cork should be drawn, however, in the basin of modernism, swift would be his descent. But this danger all leaders must face, Picasso and Dali with Matisse.

For the moment Matisse is steady on his pedestal, even though it would seem that he has painted himself out and his genius is wearing thin. The 1937 and 1938 canvases in the current exhibit, "The Rumanian Blouse" and "Le Tête Ochre," have little to recommend them but facility. The "Grand Intérieur à Nice" [1923] is by far the finer and more sensitive picture.

Trace the dates on the paintings and it will amuse you to see the suggestive rise in the curve of modern technique employed by Matisse, with a soupçon of this and that other divagation of painting that modernism has brought into being.

B. G. Benno remains constant to one god—the abstract. He is devoted to the sphere and wears an egg on his arm as a knight wore his lady's garter. His paintings are splendid as designs for tapestry or weaving; as pictures they are conundrums. The color is rather splendid at times and the patterns he creates are definite. The compositions are too geometric and impersonal to stir much enthusiasm in the casual breast.

Far different is the exquisite painting of Jean-Francois Thomas. His little still life arrangements of flowers and fruit are gems, perfect in detail and ensemble. Several have been bought already; they are the sort of picture one longs to carry home. A certain tiny landscape is like a peephole into paradise, utterly lovely.

The larger paintings possess beauty, too, and great charm. Thomas suggests Watteau and Fragonard in his delicious handling of figures. His gypsies and Spanish dancers, interiors with women and children, a slender nude, each and all are attractively drawn, not too carefully delineated, handled rather like breath upon a frosty glass, so delicately presented, a rough voice might cause them to vanish.

Romantic and poetic, beautiful and conscious of their beauty, this group of impressionistic paintings is one no one should miss.

Smart Suedes Now Available at Modest Price

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Thin supple suede in two piece street or spectator sports outfits have been among the luxury items in the past. This spring a new collection of these supersuedes is priced down within the limits of the most modest clothes allowance, and the suits are going fast. Eye catching colors include emerald green [almost Kelly green], a stunning copper, the best blue denim blue we've seen in weeks, and the most flattering rosy red tone ever unpacked.

The skirts are simple, cut to fit smoothly in flaring gores, and each has a self-belt securely attached. The skirts are lined across the backline to prevent stretching. The jackets have tie belts, pockets, a simple turnover collar, short sleeves, and harmonizing buttons. Each piece is marked separately and you can wear either jacket or skirt with other jackets and skirts and get good contrast effects.

The suede is as soft and thin as a plum skin and tailors most becomingly in these swanky twosomes and looks three times the price marked on the tags. The entire outfit is yours for around $25 and you'll feel like a million in the affair, and, what's more, you'll look it.

If you've yerned for a suede outfit and hesitated because the cost seemed to strain the budget, here's the chance of a lifetime to give in. These plum skin suedes are the smartest duets of skirts and jacket blouses for immediate wear, either for town or weekends in the country or to be packed in travel luggage as an "extra."

Dr. Little Praises Recent Co-ordination of Cancer Research

Cancer, the second greatest killer, caused more than a hundred times as many deaths as did infantile paralysis last year, yet far less money is spent on cancer research than for research on the latter disease. Dr. Clarence C. Little, director of the National Society for the Control of Cancer and former president of the University of Michigan, made this statement yesterday at a public meeting sponsored by the Chicago Woman's club.

The recent coördination of cancer research is the surest guarantee that increased public support will be forthcoming, Dr. Little declared.

Inheritance can be blamed for only about 1 or 2 per cent of cancer cases, Dr. Little declared. He said that people with cancer deaths in their families should watch out for cancer but should not worry, because, statistically speaking, there are too few reliable records to prove heredity an important factor in cancer.

WILSON'S Weekly MEMO by GEORGE RECTOR
Behind the scenes at Rector's was a veritable army of chefs, cooks, assistants and 'bus boys, each with his own particular task, while my chore was out in front, welcoming our guests and making them feel at home. I am well aware that the average hostess has to combine all these roles in one, and be her own charming self at the same time.
Because I am aware of this you will find all the recipes and menus I give you here have been worked out with a view to advance preparation and easy serving, so that your friends may enjoy you as a hostess as well as the luscious dishes you serve them.

WHICH IS THE HOSTESS?
Which of these three charming ladies is the hostess? If you can guess, then she has not planned her party quite right, because the modern hostess, even without help in the kitchen, can be as buoyant and carefree and as full of joie de vivre as any of her guests.
For instance, let us suppose that this is her

BEVERAGE
Here is all she has to do:
DEVILED CHEESE CANAPES
Grate ½ package of Wilson's Certified American Cheese. Mix with 2 tablespoons Clear Brook butter, 2 teaspoons prepared mustard, ¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, and salt to taste. Spread on rounds of bread, toasted on one side, or on crackers. Arrange on baking sheet and cover with wax paper until just before baking. Then brown lightly in hot oven or under broiler flame. Garnish with a bit of cress and serve at once.
SALMAGUNDI SALAD
2 cups Wilson's Tender Made Ham, diced
½ cup each of cooked diced potatoes, carrots, fresh peas or green beans
½ cup French dressing
½ cup chopped sweet pickle
2 hard-cooked Clear Brook eggs
1 cup Savory Mayonnaise
Mix ham and vegetables with the French dressing and let stand for half an hour. Add pickle and eggs, chopped fine. Combine with mayonnaise. Serve on lettuce leaves. Garnish with cold sliced beets, cut diamond-shape.
They'll Jolly Well Like These Lemon Tarts
FILLING Melt ¼ lb. Clear Brook butter in double boiler. Add 1 pound granulated sugar, then juice and grated rind of 5 lemons, and lastly 4 Clear Brook eggs, beaten slightly. Stir frequently at first, and simmer in double boiler for an hour to an hour and a half, or until mixture has the consistency of honey. This makes about 3 cups of filling, which will keep indefinitely in refrigerator.
Put circles of pastry in tartlet pan, place 1 teaspoon of lemon filling in each and bake in hot oven (450° F.) for 15 minutes.
PASTRY
1½ cups pastry flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup Wilson's Certified Pure Lard
About 4 tablespoons ice water
Sift flour and salt together. Cut in the lard, add water gradually, using just enough to make a soft dough. Toss on slightly floured board, pat and roll out. Cut with small fluted cutter.
"PAGLIACCI" VS. PIGS' FEET
Drag him to the opera, if you must, but later reward him richly for his efforts by giving him an abundant dish of broiled pigs' feet, all brown and succulent. Of course you will not want the bother of preparing them from scratch yourself, so simply buy a jar of Wilson's Certified Pigs' Feet, and the rest is very simple.
Drain well, rub with butter, roll lightly in fine, dry bread crumbs and broil on a greased broiler for 15 minutes. Serve with Sauce Diable. Halves of tomatoes grilled at the same time make an ideal accompaniment.

TRY THIS DELICIOUS NEW FOOD FOR BREAKFAST

At Our Risk!

Try LITTLE KURNELS "Side By Side" With Any Prepared Cereal You Wish—If You Don't Agree That LITTLE KURNELS Are Far More Delicious, the Trial Costs You Nothing

This unusual offer could be made only with a product strikingly new and better, like Little Kurnels. Frankly, we invite you to try Little Kurnels entirely at our risk, because we know you will quickly discover that they represent a truly great advance in cereal making.

New Flavor—New Crispness

This modern-day breakfast has flavor—yes, real flavor. Little Kurnels have a new kind of crispness—that doesn't "wilt" in milk or cream.

This crispness is a result of a conscious effort to produce a cereal really crisp enough to help provide teeth and gums with needed exercise, so sadly lacking in the soft foods of present-day diets.

Made of Wheat and Oats

Little Kurnels are made of wheat and oats—the two grains valued highest. They are not shreds, not flakes, not biscuits. They are new in shape for more pleasant eating—not round—not square. They are dainty, tempting little golden brown nuggets of deliciousness, with a wholesome, zestful taste that makes breakfast an event, new and exciting.

Make This Test Today

So we say, try Little Kurnels today. Cover them with milk or cream, add a little sugar if desired. If you don't say they are far better than any ready breakfast you have ever tasted, send the package back to us and the purchase price will be refunded.

An Extra Health Benefit

Remember this, when you discover the deliciousness of Little Kurnels. They give you and your family a great healthful "plus." For they have been enriched with the mineral probably the most deficient in modern diets. That mineral is calcium, the "builder-upper" mineral that works with sunshine Vitamin D—the mineral absolutely necessary in ample quantities for strong bones, sound teeth, properly working muscles. (See panel below, left.)

Remember to Get Little Kurnels Today

Get a package of delicious Little Kurnels—today—at your grocer's. Try them at our risk. We know you will want to continue to give your family this taste treat every morning. And we know you will want your family to have the healthful benefit of the extra calcium in this new breakfast that has been made in accordance with modern ideas of health importance. Remember—today—at your grocer's—Little Kurnels.

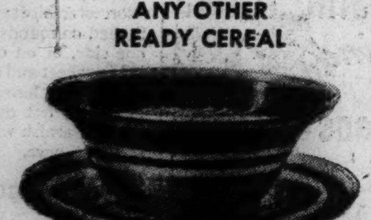
MAKE THIS "SIDE BY SIDE" TEST—TODAY!



ANY OTHER READY CEREAL

Try Little Kurnels, side by side, with any prepared breakfast food you wish. (We recommend that you try both cereals first without cream or sugar, to get the full effect of the striking difference.) If you don't agree that Little Kurnels represent a great step forward in breakfast food deliciousness, return your package to the Quaker Oats Company, Chicago, Illinois, and your purchase price will be refunded immediately. We invite you to make this challenging test today.

DELICIOUS LITTLE KURNELS

ENRICHED WITH THE "BUILDER-UPPER" MINERAL*

That Works With Sunshine

More diets are probably deficient in CALCIUM* than in any other element, say leading health authorities.

Adults and children, alike, need calcium every day. It is required for building strong bones. For sound, beautiful teeth. For proper muscular action. Actually, it is the "builder-upper" mineral that works directly with the vitamin that comes to us with sunshine. Many of us who do not get enough sunshine or Vitamin D need calcium all the more.

Make Little Kurnels the stand-by, ready-to-eat breakfast for your family. Add precious calcium to the diet by serving delicious Little Kurnels frequently.

Today's Children Want Tall Bodies

Tall, well-developed, stream-lined bodies are the ambition of today's youth. Calcium is a vital requirement for tall, straight, strong bones. The calcium in Little Kurnels is an extra safeguard for growth and development of your children.

Today's Children Want Fast-Working, Athletic Muscles

Today's children, boys and girls alike, are going in for all kinds of sports. What a fine thing for the development of graceful, healthy bodies! But smooth, fast-working muscles require calcium. Not only children, but adults, too, need calcium. Deficiency means muscle fatigue, lack of muscular coordination. Be sure your diet includes sufficient calcium. Little Kurnels for breakfast is an ideal way to add to the calcium intake, important to every member of the family.

Today's Smiles Demand Sound Teeth

Teeth cannot possibly have that healthful attractiveness so important to personal charm if the diet lacks adequate calcium. Calcium deficiency often robs teeth of their soundness—something which every man and woman and child should know.

POUND FRENCH, KIMBALL FOR FIVE HOME RUNS

Take 3d in Row to Lead Series.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., March 29.—Larry [Lefty] French gave the White Sox considerable trouble on two recent occasions, but this was another day. The American leaguers feasted on the famous French home run ball and continued when they discovered Rookie Newel Kimball, successor to French, was serving an equally tempting article. Altogether the Sox hit five homers for an 8 to 4 triumph and a 3 to 2 edge in the annual spring series, the California portion of which was concluded today.

French, who previously had choked the Sox off with one run in ten innings, continued to prosper during the early innings today, but he couldn't maintain the pace. For three innings he was invincible. Then in the fourth Luke Appling found the home run ball. Marvin Owen made a similar find in the fifth when two pals were on base. This concluded the French workout. Eric McNair, Ken Silvestri, and Jerry Walker did the home run slugging against Kimball.

Champs' Attack Slowed Down.

The Cubs were doubly unhappy during the nine inning proceedings, which resulted in their third consecutive defeat by the Sox. Their attack was reduced almost to feebleness. Thornton Lee, the lefty, who pitched the first five innings, held them scoreless. Clint Brown then forced two more futile chapters on the Cubs before they finally broke loose in the eighth, dodging a shutout on four runs contributed mainly by Joe Marty's double and a homer by Phil Cavarretta. Cavarretta's homer came a moment after he had learned that his first base rival, Ripper Collins, had been sentenced to Los Angeles.

Despite the jarring he received, French was cute enough to accomplish six strikeouts. He fanned Walker, Owen, Hank Steinbacher, and Silvestri once each and Joe Kuhel twice. Lee also put strikes to good advantage. He fanned five, Stan Hack, Bill Herman, Cavarretta, Marty, and Steve Mesner.

Sox Start Slowly.

Both French and Lee were treated to a few rough, although harmless, moments in the first three innings. Then Appling broke the scoreless spell in the fourth with his homer after one was out. Luke simply leveled on French's first pitch and deposited it on a bungalow roof across the street from the left field wall.

Silvestri's single to right with one out started the blasting which forced French to surrender three runs in the fifth. Lee bunted in front of the plate and Mancuso must have had a mental lapse. He threw to second. There wasn't a chance to head off Silvestri there. This put two on the bases with one out. The runners advanced on a wild pitch. Hack made a neat scoop of Walker's hopper and threw out Silvestri at the plate. Then Owen poked a pitch over the left field bricks for three runs. Steinbacher fanned to wind up the inning.

Kimball's start in the sixth was im-

Collins' Mates Aroused Over Sale by Cubs

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., March 29.—James [Rip] Collins, first baseman for whom the Cubs gave up Pitcher Lon Warneke on Oct. 8, 1936, passed out of the National league today. Manager Gabby Hartnett announced Collins had been sold outright to the Los Angeles Angels of the Pacific Coast league. Tomorrow, Rip's first day with the Angels, will be his 34th birthday.

The release of Collins, following waivers from all the other National League teams, came as something of a surprise in itself. And the announcement, a few hours after the departure of front man Clarence Rowland for Florida, opened up new speculation on the status of the Johnny Mize purchase plans, rumors of which have persisted throughout the off season.

Collins Almost in Tears.

Collins learned the bad news when Hartnett introduced him to David P. Fleming, owner of the Angels, during today's game.

After packing up in the Cub clubhouse and returning to the hotel to check out Collins was near tears. He said the action had been a shock as well as a surprise and that he planned "one big night off the soda pop diet" to which he rigorously has adhered during his major league career.

Ripper said he had suspected some trade would be made for him during the winter, but that after he had signed he had what he had interpreted as assurances he would be given every opportunity to win back a salary cut he accepted.

Rip's Teammates Upset.

There was said to be a strong undercurrent of resentment among Cub players. Some even laid aside the caution which usually prevails in such occasions. Among the reasons for the resentment was said to be the general feeling that Collins was waived out of the majors on a "gentlemen's agreement," most harrowing of all the buzz saws to which players are subjected in the workings of baseball law.

Several of the veteran players spoke highly of the talents which enabled Rip to lead the National league in fielding last year and made some detailed comparisons. These were tempered, however, by the belief among the players that Mize or some other experienced and able first baseman already is Cub property.

Cavarretta—or Mize?

With the departure of Collins, the Cubs are left with two first basemen, Phil Cavarretta and Rip Russell. Manager Hartnett isn't among those who think Cavarretta can not hit good major league pitching. Russell is a busher who made a good showing after having difficulties in winning his job with the Angels last year.

If Collins has gone to make way for Mize, it will not be the first time he has been supplanted. Collins was star first baseman with the St. Louis Cardinals for five years until Mize started shoving him in the sixth year of Rip's St. Louis employment.

At the end of Collins sixth year with the Cards, baseball fans were surprised [Cub fans were shocked] when they learned the Cubs had traded their great pitching star, Lon Warneke, for Collins and Bur Parmelee, a pitcher who did the Cubs no good and who soon reverted to the minors.

Had Banner Year in 1934.

In 1937 Collins played in 115 games and batted .274. Last year, despite the usual spring enthusiasm for Cavarretta, Collins played in 143 games. He led the National league first basemen in fielding and though he batted only .267, it was his hitting more than that of any one else's that put the Cubs in pennant contention on their last eastern trip last September. He won a vital series in Philadelphia almost single handed and continued effective until the world series, when he, like almost all of his mates, collapsed.

Collins' best years as a major leaguer were 1933, 1934, and 1935, in

JONES TOTES HIS CLUBS AGAIN; 6TH MASTERS OPENS

37 Year Old Bobby and 45 Others in Field.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Augusta, Ga., March 29.—Robert Tyre Jones Jr., some time barrister and one time champion golfer, will make another effort to return to the latter rôle tomorrow afternoon in the first eighteen holes of the sixth annual Masters' tournament at the Augusta National Golf club.

It is the presence of the 37 year old Jones, who once bossed them all the world over, which makes the Masters' the unique event that it is. No ordinary swingers are permitted in this field, the party being confined to specially invited guests. Along with Bobby tomorrow will be forty-five other gents who have made their golfing mark in a big way, either in the past or present.

Tie for Thirteenth His Best.

Keeping up with Jones is not the task it used to be when the Atlantan was an individual choice against the field. In the five preceding versions of the Masters', Bobby's best performance was a tie for thirteenth in the inaugural event in 1934. Last year he shared sixteenth position with Harold [Jug] McSpaden.

Jones' recent play, prior to this, his only competitive appearance of the year, has not been startling, but Horton Smith opined last week at Pinehurst that the old champ might play more like himself because of this fact. Prior to other Masters' tourneys, Bob has smashed out one practice round after another in the 60s, after which he settled down to trying to break 300 in the show itself.

Sharing the honor of teeing off with Jones at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon will be Henry Picard of Hershey, Pa. The tall Yankee who learned his golf swinging a borrowed club in the cranberry patches around Plymouth, Mass., won last year's title with a score of 285, three under par for seventy-two holes.

Melvin Harbert in Field.

Other title holding amateurs in the field are Charley Yates, second only to Jones in the hearts of Atlanta citizens and winner of the 1938 British amateur title; Ted Adams, Canadian amateur champion, and Melvin Harbert, the Battle Creek, Mich., prodigy.

All of the former champions are present, including Horton Smith of Oak Park, Ill., victor in 1934 and 1936.

Add to these such names as Ralph Guldahl, national and western open king, who has twice been a runner-up in the Masters'; Craig Wood, who also has placed twice; Dick Metz of Chicago, leading money winner of the winter season; such veterans as Sarazen, Walter Hagen, and Tommy Armour, and you have a field for a gallery dream.

TRIBUNES WITH GLOVES RESULTS ARE FLOWN EAST

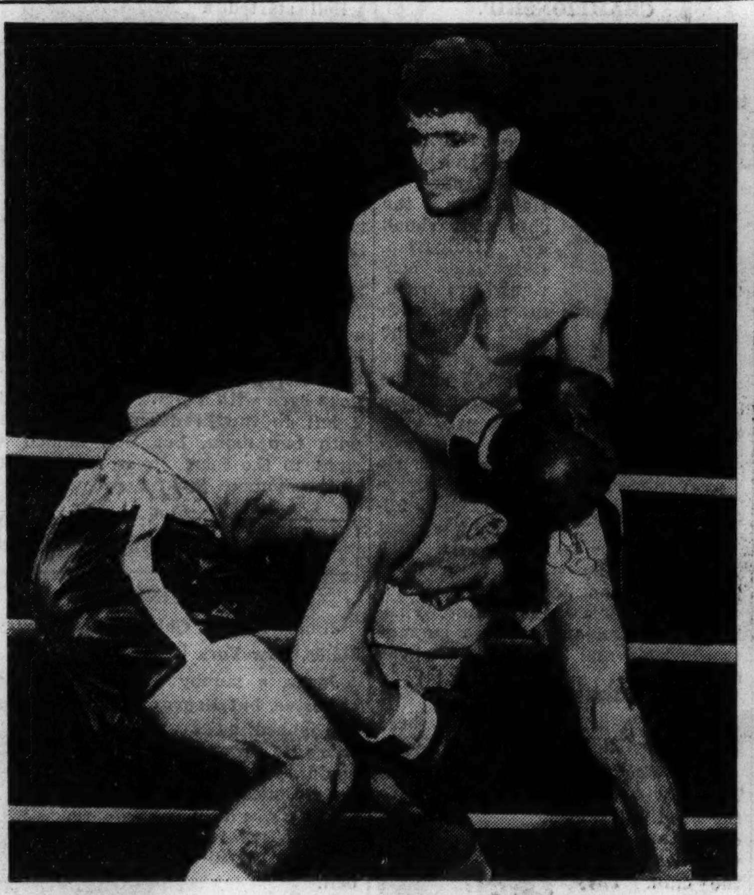
Copies of the final edition of today's TRIBUNE carrying complete results of last night's Intercity Golden Gloves bouts were flown to New York early this morning by the United Airlines' Mainliner.

Bundles of papers were rushed from Tribune Tower to the United Air Lines' terminal at the Chicago airport and loaded on the Mainliner which took off for Newark airport at 3:45 a. m. The ship was scheduled to arrive in Newark at 8:30 a. m.

Special trucks at Newark were to rush the shipment through the Holland tunnel into Manhattan, where THE TRIBUNES will be placed on sale at newsstands and distributed to Chicago guests registered in New York hotels.

Passengers on the Mainliner also were given copies to peruse during the nonstop flight to the Atlantic seaboard.

Chicago's Golden Gloves Champions March On



John Forte, New York's 112 pound champion (black trunks), was having trouble against Vic Saccoia, Chicago's title holder, when this picture was snapped in the first round of their bout in the Intercity bouts in the Stadium last night. But in the second he knocked out Saccoia.

William Speary, New York, 118 pound champion from Philadelphia (black trunks), had a major task in beating Chester Ellis, Chicago's champion. Speary won a decision.

In the Wake of the News

BY ARCH WARD.

GABBY HARTNETT, who will be given a civic testimonial dinner April 17, permanently has withdrawn from a berth in the Pullman made up of Trainer Lotshaw, selected players, and newspaper men. . . . Gabby has gone for a drawing room, à la Joe McCarthy. . . . Rogers Hornsby and Charley Grimm rode with the help in lowers during their managerial reigns. . . . For years Hartnett had ridden in lower 6 in the assorted car. . . . The White Sox ticket office reports a steady sale for Monty Stratton day. . . . Most of the lower deck box seats have been sold, but there are plenty of good upper box seats left. . . . Biff Jones hasn't made up his mind about the potentialities of next year's Nebraska football squad, but he will have opportunity for a quick test as the Cornhuskers open with Indiana and then play Minnesota. . . . Members of the Central Catholic High school basketball team, winners of the recent Loyola tournament, will be guests at a civic banquet in Fort Wayne April 13. . . . George Little, athletic director at Rutgers, is back at his old stamping grounds at the University of Wisconsin for the national intercollegiate boxing tournament which opens today. . . . Young Corbett, who last fall was knocked out by Fred Apostoli, has retired from the ring and will open a tavern in Fresho, Cal., his home town. . . . Bronko Nagurski, who has traveled 200,000 miles by airplane in the last 20 months keeping wrestling engagements, was a loop visitor yesterday. . . . George Halas, owner of the Bears, says if Nagurski decides to play pro football in 1939 he will be with his club. . . . Halas ranks Bronko among the six greatest players he ever has seen. . . . His list includes Red Grange, Paddy Driscoll, Dutch Clark, Jim Thorpe, and Ernie Nevers. . . . In case you haven't noticed by this time, three of the group—Grange, Driscoll, and Nagurski—are Bear alumni. . . .

Jimmy Dykes unwittingly played a part in the discharge of his old teammate, Mickey Cochrane, as manager of the Tigers. . . . Officials of the club admit that one of the reasons Cochrane was let out was his purchase for $75,000 of Al Simmons, who later went to the Senators for $7,500. . . . Barney Spinella and Jimmy Smith are the only bowlers ever to win the A. B. C. All-Events twice. . . . Only three members of the Gashouse gang, which won the National league pennant for St. Louis five years ago, are still with the team. . . . They are Paul Dean, Joe Medwick, and Pepper Martin. . . . Jim Londos says he is going to campaign as a wrestler two more years and then retire. . . . He is discussing a world tour. . . . Special ticket offices for the Louis-Roper fight in Los Angeles April 17 recently were opened, but so far no fans have torn the doors off their hinges.. . . Joe Marty, whose hitting has been a feature of the Cubs' practice games, can bark more like a seal than can lots of seals.

Chicago's Golden Gloves team retained its intercity supremacy by beating New York, 9 to 7, last night in the Stadium in the twelfth annual meeting of these irreconcilable rivals. Amid the clamor of 19,500 spectators Chicago's brilliant 172 pounder, Altus Allen, went into the ring as a heavyweight, knocked a gigantic opponent down twice, and carried on to win the decision that gave Chicago its margin of victory.

Allen's triumph made the score 9 to 6, and Chicago needed that point, for in the one remaining bout Buddy Moore, New York's heavyweight champion, pounded out a decision over Tony Novak.

It was Chicago's seventh triumph in the twelve series of battles. New York has won three times and the other two meetings ended in ties.

These Star for New York.

Chicago's winners, besides Allen, were Willie Moon, Earl Reid, Homer Williams, Johnny Pleasant, Vernell Williams, Pete Hantz, Ragon Kinney, and Jimmy Reeves.

New York's points were scored by John Forte, Bill Speary, Ray Robinson, Willie Smith, Corky Dulgarian, and Warren Jones, in addition to Moore.

Through an evening of incessant action the lead shifted repeatedly and the score was 6 to 6 at the end of twelve bouts, neither team having been able to get more than one point ahead up to this time. Then in quick succession Kinney outpointed Jim Boyle and Reeves scored a decision over Henry Jones to give Chicago an 8 to 6 margin, assuring the home team of at least a tie.

It Was Up to Altus.

It was known that Moore, New York's heavyweight champion, had terrific power and would be a likely winner over Novak. So everything seemed up to Allen.

There was a moment, though, when people wondered whether he could do it. That moment was when the two fighters stepped in the ring and stood in opposite corners, awaiting their introduction. New York's boxer was Enzo Avondoglio, who towered nearly a head over the Chicago boy and outweighed him by sixteen and a half pounds. Allen threw off his robe, waved a salute to the crowd, and stood, slim and flawlessly proportioned, awaiting the bell. With a complete serenity he faced his giant killing task.

The gong clanked. Almost at once Allen's rapierlike left began its work. It flashed once, twice, three times—always finding its mark. Systematically Allen wore down his foe, jabbing, jabbing all the time. Suddenly he shot in his right. Avondoglio dropped. Nine times the referee's arm rose and fell. Then the New Yorker regained his feet at the last possible fraction of a second.

A few more exchanges and the round was over. The second was a reptition of the first. And again ne the end, Allen lashed over a ri that went so fast few saw it. C tainly the New Yorker didn't. dropped and again the ref counted nine. Just before the b

Allen hit his foe another solid right that sent him across the ring with his knees sagging. Before the Chicago boy could follow up his advantage the round ended.

In the last round Avondoglio clinched at every opportunity and he was a heavy load for Allen to carry.

New York had its greatest strength in the championship division, five of its seven victories being scored in this class. Pleasant, Reeves, and Hantz were the only Chicagoans who were able to come through in the No. 1 spot.

At exactly 8 o'clock the arena was darkened momentarily. Then the powerful ring lights flared on and Willie Moon was standing in one corner clad in Chicago's uniform of white trimmed with dark blue. In the opposite corner was Basil Jones in New York's blue and gold.

The gong rang and the intercity bouts were on. Boxing cautiously, Moon scored repeatedly with his left during the first round, occasionally shooting a straight right to the head. The New Yorker came back strong in the second round, landing some hard body blows. In the third, however, Moon reasserted his superiority and earned the decision to give Chicago a 1 to 0 lead.

Speary Beats Ellis.

New York promptly tied the score when John Forte, the eastern team's flyweight champion, knocked out Vic Saccoia in the second round.

Chicago went to the front again when Earl Reid scored a decision over Peter Beaton.

Bill Speary, New York's bantamweight champion, entered the ring with enough prestige to scare an ordinary opponent. The announcer told how he twice had won the intercity championships in addition to his National A. A. U. titles. But Chicago's representaitve, Chester Ellis, a game little Iroquois Indian from Kansas City, doesn't know how to get scared. He was nearly a head shorter than Speary and had a much shorter reach. Yet he went in and slugged every minute of the fight. He put on a great show and had the crowd with him but Speary tagged him often enough to win the decision, making it New York, 2; Chicago, 2.

Homer Williams carried Chicago into a 3 to 2 lead by hammering ceaselessly at Lou Valentine in the first of the featherweight bouts. Williams never gave his opponent a chance to get set.

New York Takes Lead.

New York again tied the score when Ray Robinson, the eastern team's featherweight champion, slugged out a decision over Tony Ancona. The Chicago representative tried to outbox his foe in the early stages but the New Yorker's hard hitting tactics piled up points. Ancona then stood and slugged with him but was unable to hit often enough to win.

New York stepped out to a 4 to 3 lead when Willie Smith knocked out Roy Lewis in the first round of their lightweight bout. A left to the jaw did the damage after 1 minute and 45 seconds.

They reached the halfway point with the score tied, 4 to 4, when Johnny Pleasant, Chicago's lightweight champion, won a clean cut decision over John Noce. Pleasant set a fast pace throughout the first two rounds, scoring repeatedly with lefts and rights to the head. He tired in the last round, but by that time Noce also was too weary to attack.

Again the lead went to Chicago when Vernell Williams won a decision over the eastern representative, Tami Mauriello, in the first of the welterweight bouts.

And It's Tied Again.

New York tied it up quickly at five-all when Corky Dulgarian stopped Milton Jones in the second round. Jones had been winning all the way up to that point. Suddenly Dulgarian landed a terrific right to his opponent's chin. Jones went down like a rock, striking the back of his head against the floor. He was up at nine and Dulgarian closed in but after one more punch the referee stopped it.

New York took a six to five advantage when Warren Jones was given the decision over Shelton Bell in the first of the middleweight bouts. Both landed frequent hard punches to the head, and they were a weary pair when the last bell sounded.

Again they were all square when Pete Hantz of Chicago outpointed Vince Fratello. The New York boy was a target for Hantz' left every time he attempted to rush. Ragon Kinney won all the way in his bout with Jim Boyle to give Chicago a 7 to 6 lead.

Jimmy Reeves assured Chicago of at least a tie by scoring victory No. 8. He beat Henry Jones in the light heavyweight championship bout, running up a tremendous advantage at every exchange.

Ceremony Marks Intermission.

When the lightweight bouts were over, all the lights were extinguished. After a moment of darkness, the blue beams of four searchlights poked their way down from the remote corners of the huge arena. They came to focus on a New York banner, suspended from the rafters at the north side of the building. While the organ played the "Sidewalks of New York," the pennant moved slowly along a trolley until it came to rest above the ringside. Then the searchlights turned toward the south and Chicago's banner was brought out to the tune of "Wave the Flag for Old Chicago."

There was another pause. Then a huge American flag was raised slowly from ringside to rafters while the bugle call "To the Colors" sounded. The white upturned faces of the throng barely were visible in the darkened area. But suddenly the vast structure was filled with a spontaneous outpouring of song as the watching thousands raised their voices in the "Star Spangled Banner."

Officials Meet at Luncheon.

Judges, referees, A. A. U. officials and sports editors of the CHICAGO TRIBUNE and New York Daily News gathered at luncheon yesterday in the Medinah club to go over the rules governing the inter-city bouts. Representatives of both teams conferred in an atmosphere of sportsmanship, the meeting ending without any conflict of opinion. To assure impartiality, all judges and referees were brought in from out of town.

The referees who attended the luncheon were George Barton, Minneapolis; Sam Hennessy, Detroit; and Abe Raff, Rochester, N. Y. The judges were L. N. Bloom, Cleveland; Marion H. Miller, Kansas City; Frank N. Percival, and Frank Palermo, Philadelphia, and A. J. Williams, Pittsburgh.

Detailed Story of Chicago's Intercity Golden Gloves Victory

BY WILFRID SMITH.

The detailed story of the sixteen intercity Golden Gloves bouts in Chicago Stadium last night follows:

112 POUNDS

CHAMPIONSHIP.

John Forte, New York, stopped Vic Saccoia, Chicago [2].

Saccoia used a left jab attack, backing up all the way. Forte followed him around the ring, throwing punches to the head until a right to the stomach and a left to the head sent Saccoia down for a count of seven. Saccoia continued his safety first policy when he arose, backing away rapidly and sticking out an occasional left jab. Forte kept boring in, throwing punches to the head.

John Forte.

In the second Forte forced Saccoia all over the ring with punches to the head. A right cross sent Saccoia down for a nine count. A right to the head sent him down again. His seconds jumped into the ring and the bout was awarded to Forte on a technical knockout in the second round.

ALTERNATES.

William Moon, Chicago, beat Basil Jones, New York [3].

In the first round it was a duel of lefts, with Moon scoring more effectively. He alternated a jab with an occasional hook. Jones was wild with several lefts intended for the head and Moon eluded them easily. Shortly before the round ended, Moon sent Jones back on his heels with two rights to the head.

William Moon.

Jones opened the second round by making Moon cover up from a two-fisted attack. Moon staggered Jones with a hard right to the head. Willie punished Jones' head. From then on to the end of the round Moon had a decided advantage..

Moon still was the master in the early part of the third, frequently making the New York boxer miss. He jabbed and crossed rights to the head.

118 POUNDS

CHAMPIONS.

William Speary, New York beat Chester Ellis, Chicago [3].

Ellis nailed Speary with two punches to the body. Speary was off with his best punch, a straight right to the head, as Ellis bobbed and weaved out of danger. Ellis continued to crowd Speary, making him miss and then countering with both hands to the body.

William Speary.

In the second round Speary found the range with several body blows. Ellis bounced in with two left hooks to the head that made Speary blink. Speary caught Ellis with a right to the head. Ellis threw a long overhand right to Speary's chin and followed it up with body blows. Speary jabbed with a left and crossed a hard right to the head.

Speary jabbed to set Ellis up for his right hand shots which hurt. Ellis kept weaving and boring in, throwing left hooks to the body. Speary countered with right uppercuts, but Ellis came back with a series of lefts to the face.

ALTERNATES.

Earl Reid, Chicago, beat Peter Beaton, New York [3].

Beaton jabbed constantly with long lefts but caught some left hooks to the head. Reid's straight right drew blood from Beaton's mouth. Beaton's quick and straight right stunned Reid and the latter put his hand to the floor to keep from falling.

Earl Reid.

Reid opened the second by chasing Beaton into the ropes and pummelling him in the body. A right sent Reid's head back. Reid scored with both hands to the head in an exchange at close quarters. Reid's long right caught Beaton on the chin.

Reid pounded Beaton around the body and head. They exchanged blows with Reid having the edge. Beaton took a right across to the head and was forced to clinch; a left hook landed on Beaton's jaw at the finish.

126 POUNDS

CHAMPIONSHIP.

Ray Robinson, New York, beat Tony Ancona, Chicago [3].

Robinson jabbed with a straight left and then crossed a hard right to the jaw for his best points. Ancona tried several left hooks to the head but most of them were blocked.

Ray Robinson.

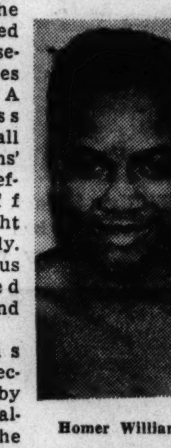
Shortly after the second round opened, Robinson feinted, then crossed a hard right to the jaw that sent the Chicagoan's head back. Three right uppercuts hurt Ancona. Ancona unleashed a hard right that caught Robinson on the jaw. Robinson punished Ancona about the head with both hands flailing.

Early in the third, Robinson started a right uppercut but Ancona beat him to the punch and Robinson went down to his knees for a two count. Ancona scored with a hard right to the chin. Robinson alternated straight rights and uppercuts with good effect. He counted with a right uppercut but took a right to the chin. A long, looping uppercut landed to Ancona's body as the bout ended.

ALTERNATES.

Homer Williams, Chicago, beat Lou Valentine, New York [3].

Valentine, much the taller of the two, attempted to stop Williams with a left jab, but the Chicagoan dodged and landed a series of punches to the head. A right cross opened a small cut over Williams' left eye and Referee Graff stopped the fight momentarily. Williams' furious attack chased Valentine around the ring.



Homer Williams.

Williams opened the second round by pummeling Valentine around the body and the New Yorker hung on. Williams caught Valentine in a corner and banged him on the head. As Williams ducked under a punch Valentine was hung on the Chicagoan's shoulder. Williams stood up and Valentine did a somersault and landed on his back.

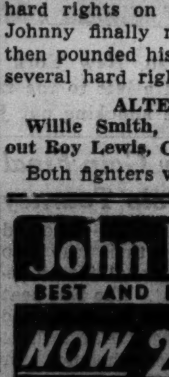
In the third round Valentine began looping uppercuts. Williams resumed his windmill style and shook Valentine repeatedly with rights to the head. Valentine started a two fisted attack, but Williams offset it with his continued attack to the body and face.

135 POUNDS

CHAMPIONSHIP.

John Pleasant, Chicago, beat John Noce, New York [3].

The bout opened at a fast pace, Pleasant caught Noce with two hard left hooks. Noce tried a long left which bothered Pleasant but Johnny scored with two hard rights to the body followed by left hooks that sent Noce into the ropes. Pleasant continued his attack and Noce held on for the rest of the round.



John Pleasant.

Pleasant began a furious two fisted attack to the head. Pleasant chased him pumping both hands to the head. Noce tried to hold on but an overhand right to the chin made him waver. Pleasant tried to set him up for a knockout punch but Noce kept ducking out of danger.

Early in the third Noce landed two hard rights on Pleasant's chin, but Johnny finally made him miss and then pounded his body. Pleasant sent several hard rights to the stomach.

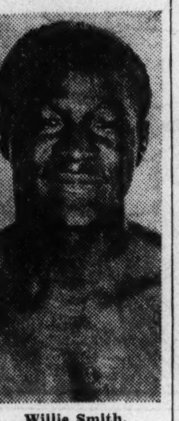
Willie Smith, New York, knocked out Roy Lewis, Chicago [1].

Both fighters were south paws. In the early part of the fight they both missed frequently, but finally came in close contact and pounded each other around the body with hard lefts. A hard left to the jaw sent Lewis to one knee. He bounced right up, but a series of lefts to the head sent him down for the full count. Lewis was the first contestant of the evening to be counted out.



Willie Smith.

SHORE WILL PLAY AGAINST RANGERS DESPITE INJURY

Bruins Accept 2-1 Defeat as a Blessing.

Boston, Mass., March 29.—(AP)—The Bruins appeared both aroused and reconciled over their first National Hocky league playoff setback when they returned home tonight for the fifth game of their series with the New York Rangers.

While vowing the Rangers would be eliminated after tomorrow night's game, they accepted their first defeat as a blessing in disguise.

"If we won last night's game," Capt. Cooney Weiland pointed out, "it would have stretched our winning streak to 12 games and we would be shooting for No. 13 when we opened the Stanley cup final series."

Weiland's unwillingness to defy that "13 jinx" probably was inspired by Eddie Shore's nasal fracture, the thirteenth he has suffered in his thirteen seasons with the Bruins. Shore was the only Bruin to bear visible scars of the 2 to 1 reversal in last night's rough game in New York, but he boasted that he would be in his usual position when the Bruins and Rangers face off again.

BRIMSEK BEST ROOKIE

TORONTO, Ont., March 29.—(AP)—Frankie Brimsek, 22 year old goalie of the Boston Bruins who was voted to the National Hocky league's all-star team in his first season, won the Calder trophy awarded annually to the outstanding rookie, it was announced today.

The Minnesota born youngster, who performed so brilliantly that Manager Art Ross decided to make him a regular and sold Tiny Thompson to Detroit, got 70 points in a poll of 34 hocky writers, each of whom named three rookies in order. Brimsek got four more points than Left Wing Roy Conacher, third member of his family to start in the league and also a member of the powerful Bruin brigade.

Brimsek, in addition to making the all-star team his first year up and taking the rookie award, gained the Vezina trophy for allowing fewer goals than any other goalie and also chalked up ten shutouts, more than any of his rivals. Young Conacher, in his first season on the big time, led the scorers with twenty-four goals.

The Young in Heart.

I cannot write of heartaches,
Of sadness, or of tears,
For I have never suffered;
I am too young in years.

But I can tell of youth and love—
Foolish, yes, but gay,
With not a care so heavy
One kiss can't wipe away.

Too soon, I know, a heart so light
Is filled with wracking pain,
Still I write just of the sunshine
Until I've known the rain.

Collins' Mates Aroused Over Sale by Cubs

which he batted .310, .333, and .313. With the world champion Cardinals of 1934 Rip played in every game of the regular season, made 200 hits, led the league in total bases with 369. He scored 116 runs and drove in 128. He also played in the seven games of the world series against Detroit, batting .367 as his contribution to the family success of the Dean brothers, who won all the Cardinal victories in the series.

Some of Collins' most spectacular successes were home runs and fielding miracles against the Cubs when the Chicagoans were in desperate need of victories. His game winning homers on several occasions were knocked while he war batting right handed although Rip's natural stance is that of the lefties. Many said the Cubs acquired him as much to end his career against them as to obtain his services in Cub behalf.

GEHRIG PUZZLES M'CARTHY, TOO; PLANS NO CHANGE

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 29.—(AP)—Manager Joe McCarthy of the New York Yankees conceded today his problem child, the veteran Lou Gehrig, was far off form, but declared "I think Gehrig will have another good season."

In his first open discussion of the plight of the slugging first baseman, whose performances this spring have been the subject for comment by almost every one else, McCarthy asked, "How can you give up so soon on a player who has done so much?" then added:

"His timing has been away off. He isn't following through and he's falling away from the plate. But you know that and he does, too. He has been trying to overcome it, but it takes time and I surely haven't given up on him.

"If he fails to prove to me in regular season games that he is still of major league caliber, then I will act. But until then Lou Gehrig is the Yankees' first baseman."

SHAMROCKS BEAT RANGERS, 16 TO 7, IN POLO MATCH

With Gene Bauer, defense man, leading the attack, the Chicago Shamrocks defeated the Detroit Rangers, 16 to 7, last night in the 124th Field Artillery armory to enter the final of the western polo tournament, Sherman Memorial cup division.

Bauer accounted for ten of the goals scored by the Shamrocks, who held their opponents to four earned points, the other three being by handicap award.

The Shamrocks qualified to meet the Cleveland Riding club trio here Saturday night for the western title.

Cubs, White Sox Bid California Farewell Tonight

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., March 29.—The Cubs and White Sox will leave Los Angeles at 8:15 tomorrow night and will arrive in Yuma, Ariz., at 2:25 o'clock Friday morning. They will meet Friday afternoon in their first road game.

Gene Lillard will pitch for the Cubs and John Whitehead will start for the Sox.

The Sox will have all day to prepare for the California getaway, but the Cubs must play the Los Angeles Angels before hieing to the hotel for their satchels. Jack Russell and Charley Root will pitch for the Cubs tomorrow. Flores, Berry, and Lieber are schedules for the Angels.

The Cub-Sox entourage will include two pullmans loaded with Cubs, two loaded with Sox, and one assorted car made up of Cubs, Sox, and umpires.

The Chicago teams will play one game in Yuma, two in Phoenix, one in Tucson, one is Bisbee, and one in El Paso before parting company until they reach Chicago April 14.

The cast was removed from Earl Whitehill's busted ankle today. X-rays revealed an unknitted spot. So a new cast was put on, much to Earl's chagrin.

No new bulletins on Sore Heel Bartell's mysterious misery. He continues to soak his troubles in some sort of mash poultice, but may switch to Chinese herbs.

Tommy Stevens, for two years White Sox batting practice pitcher, has developed bone splinters in his right elbow and will leave tonight for Chicago to undergo treatments.

Eric McNair, who was beaned by Luke Appling in the eighth inning of yesterday's Sox-Cub game, was spry as ever today. X-ray examination revealed nothing worse than a headache.

There will be a general exodus of Cub wives tonight and tomorrow. None of the advisory sex will be permitted to join the caravan through the southwest.

Umpire Beans Reardon will accompany the Cubs all the way into Chicago. He is expected to carry, as usual, a full line of merchandise right off a Japanese liner.

Spike Wound to Keep Gumpert Out Ten Days

Lake Charles, La., March 29.—(AP)—Randall Gumpert, Philadelphia Athletic pitcher, was spiked during practice before the Athletics' game with Cleveland today and will be out of the game for ten days or two weeks. Gumbert was shagging flies when he and George Caster collided and Caster's heel spike tore into Gumpert's foot. Several stitches were required to close the wound.

Sox Hit Five Home Runs to Beat Cubs, 8-4

pressive only momentarily. He subdued Appling on a pop to Herman and personally tossed out Kreevich. Then Sox became frisky. Kuhel singled to center and stole second, although Baker's throw to Herman was perfect. A wild pitch moved Kuhel to third. Then McNair socked his fifth homer of the series, a robust slap beyond the left field barrier.

The Cub eighth didn't open as if it would permit the champions to escape a shutout. Zydowski, who led off, grounded to Appling. English singled to right and Gleeson popped to McNair. Reynolds drew free passage. Then Marty doubled to right center, scoring English and Reynolds. Cavarretta picked out the first pitch and sailed it into the bleacher in right for two more runs, but Appling threw out Mesner.

What the Sox did in the ninth was unnecessary. Silvestri and Walker whacked their homers over the left field fence. The Cubs died easily in their last half, among them Pinch Batter Manager Hartnett. He fanned.

Riggs, Sabin Head Tennis Show at N. U.

Bobby Riggs of Chicago, the nation's No. 1 amateur, and Wayne Sabin of Portland, Ore., national indoor champion, will engage in the feature singles match of a tennis exhibition to be presented by the Chicago Tennis association in Patten gymnasium at Northwestern university tomorrow night.

Jimmy Evert, national indoor boys' champion, and Gardner Larned, coholder with Evert of the national indoor boys' doubles crown, will meet in the curtain raiser. In the doubles Riggs will pair with Frank Froehling, the Chicago indoor title holder, against Sabin and Johnny Shostrom, former Western conference star.

A gay nineties mixed doubles skit, with players and umpire attired in the tennis costumes of fifty years ago, will follow the Riggs-Sabin encounter.

Members of the Chicago Junior Wightman cup and Junior Davis cup squads and 500 students who have shown proficiency in tennis in the public and parochial schools, will be guests of the association at the exhibition, proceeds of which will be used for the promotion of junior tennis development in the Chicago area.

Laramie, Wyo., March 29.—(AP)—Wyoming university tonight picked Joel Hunt of Baton Rouge, La., as head football coach and Everett Shelton of Denver, Colo., as head basketball coach to succeed Willard [Dutch] Witte, who filled both positions.

Hunt, football coach at Georgia last fall, was named chairman of the athletic department.

PASTOR DRILLS, TALKS AS IF HE'S A CINCH WINNER

Danger Signs Seen in Strickland Bout.

Bob Pastor will end one of his lightest training campaigns today for his ten round bout with Maurice Strickland in Chicago Stadium tomorrow. Perhaps it is because the New York heavyweight underrates Strickland, but Trainer Freddy Brown maintains there is nothing unusual about Pastors' abbreviated workouts.

"Pastor always is in good condition," the trainer explained, "and seldom needs more than a few days' work. Why, Bob didn't train for four days before his bout with Joe Louis. Yet he had no trouble lasting the full ten rounds.'

Pastor, whose real name is Robert Pasternak, took loosening up exercises after he arrived Sunday. The following day his drill consisted of only two rounds of sparring with Perk Daniels and Tuesday he went a couple of rounds with Al Globe.

Oldtimers Jeer at Pastor Program.

This ended the boxing phase of Pastor's routine. Yesterday he did some floorwork in Trafton's gymnasium and today he will confine himself to roadwork in Lincoln park. The 25 year old New Yorker weighed 185 pounds when he arrived and he'll be at the same weight tomorrow.

Oldtimers laughed when they learned of Bob's skimpy training program.

Pastor is so confident of winning that his attitude can be described as overconfident. Bob is the No. 2 contender, but Strickland, who is rated sixth by the National Boxing association, is far from being a setup.

Trainer Confident, Too.

"Why did Pastor accept such a dangerous foe as Strickland?" the trainer repeated his inquisitor's question. "There's nothing dangerous about Strickland. There won't be a bad decision because Bob will win in convincing fashion."

Upsets have occurred before, however, and in case Pastor suffers such an embarrassment he will have the consolation of earning $5,000, Strickland having guaranteed that amount for a chance to knock Bob off his [illegible]y perch.

Mike Sopko, Red McGregor, Al Calfolby and Walter Schramm, amateur boxers from East Chicago, will appear in four of seven matches in Madison Athletic club tomorrow. Sopko's opponent will be George Dion, Kankakee middleweight, who has a string of five victories. The bout is set for five rounds. . . . John Yocius and Bobby Hayes will be principals in a five round amateur headliner in Bill Rand Boys' club at 7508 Saginaw avenue tomorrow. South Shore post of the American Legion is sponsoring the card, which will include seven contests.

MONARCHS WIN 3 FROM SCHLITZ; GAIN ON PABSTS

The Monarchs gained two games on the leading Pabsts when they defeated Schlitz in three Classic league games in the Sheridan Recreation last night. The Pabsts lost two to Power House. The Monarchs' 1,110, 1,076, and 999 gave them 3,185, high for the night. The Thompsons were next with 3,151. They took two games from the Ruths. The Pragers won two from the Ambrosias. Leo Faetz, captain of the Monarchs, bowled 263, 235, and 212 for a 710 series. Scores:

Michigan Will Not Send Team to A.A.U. Meet

Columbus, O., March 29.—[Special.]—Stars of the swimming world were congregating in Columbus today for the opening tomorrow of the three day indoor National A. A. U. competition in the Ohio State pool.

At the same time word was received from officials of the University of Michigan that that school would not enter a team and that whatever members of the Wolverine team did take part would swim unattached.

Ohio State Defends Title.

The invaders face an almost hopeless task of dethroning Ohio State, champions of 1938. Michigan, winners of the Western conference and national intercollegiate championships, were rated as the greatest threat to the Buckeyes.

Michigan's failure to enter the meet moves the New York Athletic club into the challenger's berth, New Yorkers boasting some of the greatest swimming stars in America.

Mike Peppe, Ohio coach, said he expected at least 250 of the country's outstanding stars to compete in the three day championship event. Entries have closed, but those bearing Monday postmarks were still being received.

Already on hand were such stars as Jack Medica, Peter Fick, Jimmy Reilly, Tom McDermott, and Justin Calahan of the New York A. C.; Ralph Flannagan and Adolph Kiefer of Texas; Dick Hough of Princeton, who broke the world's breast stroke record Saturday night, and his teammate, Harold Van Oss, and Ed Pope and Jimmy Cook of Yale.

Vandeweghe in Bed.

Howard Stepp, Princeton coach, said his national champion backstroker, Al Vandeweghe, definitly would not start in any relay event and that he might not be in his special event. Vandeweghe was ordered to bed yesterday because of influenza.

NATIONAL A. A. U. CODEBALL MEET WILL OPEN TODAY

The first and second round in the national A. A. U. codeball tournament will start tonight in the Midwest Athletic club. Semi-finals and finals will be held tomorrow night.

COLLEGE BOXERS FIGHT TODAY FOR NATIONAL TITLES

Wisconsin Sends Strong Team Into Battle.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Madison, Wis., March 29.—The largest field of college boxers ever assembled for one meet were entered today in the fifth annual national collegiate boxing tournament, which opens in the University of Wisconsin fieldhouse tomorrow afternoon.

The arrival of six Pacific coast conference champions and three other boxers from the far west brings the total entry list to sixty-seven. First round matches will be held tomorrow afternoon and night and the field will be trimmed to the sixteen finalists in the eight divisions Friday night. The 1939 collegiate champions will be crowned Saturday night.

Against the champions of the far west, the deep south, and eastern collegiate conferences the middle west will stake its claim for national recognition principally on the University of Wisconsin's undefeated team and entries from North Dakota and Michigan State. The Badgers, undefeated since late in the 1937 season and now holding thirteen straight tournament victories, have entered a full team of eight fighters. Omar Crocker, Wisconsin's great 145 pound fighter, has won thirteen consecutive bouts and is undefeated in intercollegiate competition.

Ed McKinnon of Washington State, 165 pound Pacific coast champion, is one of the four former national collegiate title holders entered. McKinnon won the 155 pound title in 1937. Other former NCAA champions are Benny Alperstein of Maryland, Carl Eckstrom of North Dakota, and Steve Wilkerson of Mississippi.

N. U. NINE WILL PLAY WHEATON IN 1ST GAME TODAY

If the weather permits Northwestern university's baseball team will open its season against Wheaton college at Roycemore field this afternoon. The game will start at 4 o'clock.

The Wildcats will leave Saturday on a spring training trip for two games each with Louisiana State, Alabama, and Mississippi State.

MACHADO, CUBA'S DEPOSED RULER, DIES IN U. S. EXILE

Succumbs to Anesthetic on Operating Table.

Miami Beach, Fla., March 29.—[Special.]—Gerardo Machado, deposed dictator of Cuba, died here today as he was about to undergo an operation for cancer. Physicians said his heart failed to withstand effects of the anesthetic. He was 67 years old.

Gerardo Machado.

Dr. José Navarro, who came from Havana with four other physicians to try to save their countryman, said they had planned to remove a large tumor from Machado's abdomen. Friends of Machado had not disclosed that he was suffering from cancer. He had been in ill health for several years and had spent much time in American hospitals.

Nomadic Exile Since 1933.

Machado had been an exile from his native land since his dictatorial presidency was overthrown in the summer of 1933. A year ago he established a home here, less than 300 miles from his former capital, to be near his Cuban friends and to write an autobiography.

In the face of a revolt by his army, on which he had depended for his iron handed discipline, Machado fled by plane from Havana to Nassau on Aug. 12, 1933. During the ensuing three years, his health failing, he fled half across the world, pausing frequently for medical treatment.

Avoids Murder Trial.

While in Germany Machado successfully resisted efforts to extradite him to Cuba to face murder charges.

Returning to the United States in 1936, Machado remained in New York while friends worked for amnesty. A year later these efforts were partly successful and after a time he came to Miami Beach to live.

When Cuba won her freedom from Spain, Machado had the rank of brigadier general. He busied himself with sugar and cattle raising and other commercial ventures which made him wealthy. Then he went into politics.

Surviving Machado are his widow, Elvira; a brother, Carlos; three daughters, and five granddaughters.

Flyer Pangborn Weds Girl He Pulled from Snowdrift

SOUTHAMPTON, England, March 29.—(AP)—Clyde E. Pangborn, American aviator who with a companion flew nonstop from Japan to the United States in 1931, was married here today to a French woman he met when he pulled her out of a snowdrift at a Swiss resort two years ago. The bride was Mlle. Swana Beaucaire Duval of Paris, a dress designer. The marriage took place in a registry office.

Take One Body from River, Sight Second, Recover It

Maxwell street police recovered the body of a man about 40 years old from the river at 18th street late yesterday. As they prepared to drive away, the body of a second man was seen floating in the water, and was recovered. Papers found in the first man's pockets tentatively identified him as Samuel Travers of 428 South Halsted street. The second man, about 55 years old, was unidentified.

OBITUARIES

John P. Allen.

John P. Allen, a veteran of forty-six years' service with the city water pipe extension department, died yesterday in the Alexian Brothers' hospital. Mr. Allen, a south side department superintendent, was 76 years old. His home was at 5336 Dakin street. Surviving are four sons, Edward, Thomas, William, and Francis, all of whom were serving under him, and two daughters, Mrs. Gertrude Manton and Mrs. May Mayfield. Services will be at 9 a. m. Saturday in the chapel at 2500 North Cicero avenue, with mass at 9:30 a. m. in St. Bartholomew's church.

William Edwin Taft.

Colusa, Cal., March 29.—(AP)—William Edwin Taft, 85 years old, cousin of the former President, William Howard Taft, died here today. He had lived in California 32 years, and had engaged in farming. He was born in Wauseon, Ohio.

Michael Monaghan.

Funeral services for Michael Monaghan, 3250 Walnut street, an elevator operator in the city hall since 1911, will be held at 9 a. m. Saturday in the Presentation church, 758 South Springfield avenue. He died Tuesday at the age of 58. Two sons survive.

HUSBAND BREAKS UP DISHES AND ALSO MARRIAGE

The lap of plenty was what Mrs. Edna R. Bevers hoped for when she married Irvin C. Bevers, a salesman, on Dec. 24, 1934. But what she got was plenty in her lap, she told Judge Rudolph Desort yesterday. Her attorney, H. E. Raymond, explained:

"Every time Mr. Bevers was angry—which was almost all the time—he upended the dining room table. Into my client's lap, judge, would slip all the dishes, silverware and food."

Judge Desort said he could see how this would get pretty monotonous in time and granted a divorce to Mrs. Bevers, who is 24 years old, and lives at 1431 North State parkway. She waived alimony.

JAILED 3½ YEARS FOR THEFT FROM CHURCH POORBOX

Homeless and hungry, Otto Emerick, 19 years old, appeared several weeks ago at St. Peter's Catholic church, 816 South Clark street. He was fed and sheltered. Then he stole $26.24 from the church's collection boxes for the poor.

Yesterday Emerick pleaded guilty before Judge Joseph B. Hermes of the Boys' court, who characterized him as the "lowest and meanest" thief ever taken into that court. Fines aggregating $840 were assessed against him, and he will serve three years six months and fifteen days in the Bridewell in lieu of paying them.

Kidnaped Autoist Thinks He Was Guest at Holdups

Kidnaped and forced to ride on the floor of his own automobile for several hours, William D. Ivins of 7909 Stewart avenue asked police yesterday to determine if his captors had taken him on a round of holdups. Ivins was seized by three men who climbed into his car on the south side Tuesday night. Before they abandoned him and the car they made four stops. From their conversation he guessed that they committed a robbery at each stop.

ATTORNEY WEGG, GUN VICTIM, IN GRAVE CONDITION

Donald R. Wegg, 57 years old, a Chicago attorney for the last twenty-seven years, was in a critical condition yesterday in Passavant hospital as the result of an accidental shooting in his home at 47 East Elm street Tuesday evening. A .45 caliber bullet struck his right eye and passed through his head.

East Chicago avenue police said they did not know how the shooting occurred. They found evidence, however, that Wegg had been cleaning his gun. A can of oil, five cartridges, and cleaning tools were found on the bed beside which the attorney fell. Wegg was found by his wife, the former Florence Este Talbot.

DIES OF EXPOSURE.

Benny Lewis, colored, 60 years old, died in County hospital yesterday of exposure. Lewis, who had no home, was found unconscious March 15 in an alley at 3855 South State street.

ALIENIST'S WIDOW LEAVES $200,000 ESTATE IN TRUST

The will of Mrs. Bella Christy Brown, disposing of an estate of $200,000, was filed yesterday with Mitchell C. Robin, clerk of the Probate court. Mrs. Brown, who was operator of the Kenilworth sanitarium, 2228 Beechwood avenue, Wilmette, died on March 22 at the age of 73 years.

The estate will be placed in trust with a son, Christy Brown, and the Northern Trust company acting as trustees. If Brown's son, Christy Jr., dies without heirs, $100,000 of the residue will go to the University of Illinois for establishment of the Sanger Brown fund for research into nervous and mental diseases. The remainder of the residue then will be used to establish the Dr. and Mrs. Sanger Brown fund at the Art institute. Mrs. Brown was the widow of Dr. Sanger Brown, mental specialist, who died in 1928.

TRIP TO ITALY?

Investors' Guide: I am now wondering whether some stock that I had about given up as a dead loss might be used to help me take a trip to Italy. In 1926 I bought twenty shares of "Snia Viscosa," an Italian company that makes artificial silk. I have not received any dividends for at least six years, but am told that regular dividends are being paid and that the Italian government's rules prevent the dividend money from leaving Italy. Has the stock any value in this country? If not, could I use the dividends owed me and also perhaps sell the stock in Italy to help finance a trip to that country?—C. A. E.

Answer: Both your shares and your accumulated dividends, which have piled up in a "blocked lira" account, do have some value, but you will need quite a few American dollars in addition to finance a trip to Italy.

Your holding that was twenty shares in 1926 is now equal to 5⅓ shares of the present stock, which has a par value of 250 lira [about $13]. This is the result of several recapitalizations and exchanges of shares.

Since 1934, when the Italian government clamped down on payments to investors outside Italy, dividends on your holdings have amounted to about 550 lira, or $28. With the permission of the Italian government, these "blocked" funds could be used to pay traveling expenses in Italy or transferred to relatives who are Italian residents. You could sell your shares for lira in Italy and spend the lira there. Information on the Italian market for the shares is not available to us, but the price would exceed the $7 a share now quoted for the stock in this country.

Of course, if you decided to stay home, you could sell your stock for $35 plus. You could also sell your dividend coupons for 2 or 3 cents on the lira, or from $11 to $16.

You should first exchange your old shares for the present ones. To do this, you must write [or visit] the Snia Viscosa office, Via Cernaia 8, Milan, Italy. Then, if you stay home and want to sell, get in touch with a specialist in foreign securities through your broker or banker.

NO CORSET DIVIDENDS.

Investors' Guide: Is the Royal Worcester Corset company still turning out corsets? I used to get big dividends on my stock but have received nothing for years.—M. P.

Answer: Royal Worcester is still in the corset business. Dividends were $20 a share or higher a year during and just after the war, but nothing has been paid since 1928.

OIL FIELD PROBE PLANS SPEEDED BY LEGISLATORS

Seek Guides to Program of Regulation.

Springfield, Ill., March 29.—[Special.]—The Illinois legislative committee to investigate practices in the booming oil industry of this state organized today for speedy action. Appointment of five senators and five representatives, divided equally as to politics, was followed by the election of Representative Oral P. Tuttle [R., Harrisburg] as chairman.

Speed is necessary because the committee's report is to guide the legislature in voting on dozens of regulatory bills in the present session. The members agreed to meet in the Salem courthouse, near the oil fields, April 7.

Will Subpena Officials.

Subpenas for officials of refineries and pipe line companies will then be issued. Production, processing, transportation, and marketing of Illinois oil will all be studied.

"The people in southern Illinois don't seem to want proration," said R. J. Branson [R., Centralia], house majority leader, and a member of the committee. "But they've got proration now, enforced in an inequitable manner by the pipe line companies. Something must be done."

Price Discrimination Alleged.

Branson charged that the pipe line operators sometimes pay $1.15 per barrel to a well owner on condition that he restrict his production to a fraction of its capacity. Then they go to the adjoining well and contract to take the entire output there at 40 or 50 cents a barrel, he said.

Other members told of well owners using water instead of gas to repressure a well, with the result that oil fields are ruined.

NEW OIL POOL INDICATED FOR SHELBY COUNTY

Shelbyville, Ill., March 29.—(AP)—Discovery of a new oil pool in Shelby county was indicated today. An official of the Aylward Production company disclosed the No. 1 Wabash railroad test north of Stewardson, pumped 100 barrels of oil in about twenty-four hours. Some cleaning out will be necessary before an initial production test can be made, the official said.

The well was drilled in south Shelby county, two miles north of Stewardson and approximately twelve miles from nearest production in Fayette county.

COTTON

Buying of new crop cotton futures on American exchanges against sales of the nearby months resulted in erratic price changes yesterday. Final sales were .06 cent lower to .12 cent a pound higher. The spreading was understood to have been based on the belief the proposed export subsidy on American cotton would result in depressing the price of the old crop product.

Spot cotton closed .02 to .07 cent lower with New York, 8.83 cents; New Orleans, 8.55 cents; Houston, 8.35 cents, and Galveston at 8.33 cents a pound. Prices follow:

SLUM CLEARING ACT INTRODUCED IN LEGISLATURE

Nonpartisan Action on Chicago Plan.

BY HOWARD WOOD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., March 29.—The Chicago plan for rebuilding of dilapidated slum areas was translated into action today by the introduction in both houses of the legislature of bills which would authorize the setting up of "public service building corporations" to do the job.

The essence of the plan, as developed recently by the Chicago Building congress, is the rebuilding of rundown districts with private capital. The program contains no element of subsidy, either by the federal, state, or city governments. Instead of being a drain on the taxpayers, as are the federal housing projects, it actually would provide new sources of revenue by creating new values in areas that do not now produce enough taxes to pay their own way.

Action Is Nonpartisan.

The enabling bills were presented today as nonpartisan measures. They were introduced in the upper house during the morning by Senators Richard J. Daley [D., Chicago] and Arnold P. Benson [R., Batavia], Republican leader of the senate. An hour later Representatives Harry L. Topping [R., Kankakee] and Edward J. McCabe [D., Chicago] introduced them in the house. They were referred to the revenue committee in each case.

"Public service building corporations," permitted by these bills, would be empowered to acquire land in slum areas through the exercise of the right of "eminent domain." That is, the corporations could acquire property for sites by condemnation proceedings as do the electric and gas utility companies. The exercise of this power, however, would be subject to the approval of the Illinois state housing board, after public hearings.

Provisions also are made for the supervision of all phases of the corporations' operations, including their finances, by the housing board. They would be permitted to operate only in districts designated by the housing board as slums or blighted areas.

Owners Would Have Choice.

Property owners, the bills provide, would be given the first opportunity to do the job of renovating their neighborhoods should they so desire. Such owners could use the "public service corporations" as instruments to rebuild or modernize their properties on a coöperative basis.

In cases where there would be no such desire on the part of the existing property owners, other private investors would be permitted to seek the permission of the housing board to do the job. Before being permitted to go ahead with condemnation proceedings, however, the corporation would have to demonstrate to the housing board that it had acquired most of the land in question by purchase or option.

The proposal to set up building corporations as public service companies is aimed at surmounting the one big barrier which has thus far balked attempts to rebuild rundown slum areas. That barrier is the problem of acquiring large sites at fair prices.

Aimed at Solving "Holdouts."

Private building companies have found that it is comparatively easy to acquire most of the necessary land for a building project. The majority of property owners have been glad to find a buyer for their land. Experience has shown, however, that a minority of holdout property owners almost invariably block such undertakings by demanding prohibitive prices.

When the total land cost is too high, the prospective profits on such projects are too slim to attract capital and nothing happens. It has been shown that only about 10 per cent of the property in Chicago slums is owner-occupied.

The case of the Marshall Field Garden apartments on the near north side of Chicago is cited as an example of the futility of expecting private capital to undertake slum clearance under present laws. This project did go through, but the cost of the land was so high that the Field estate has never been able to earn more than 1½ per cent on its investment in any one year.

A Few Boost Prices.

Most of the land in this case was bought at fair prices, but a minority of holdout property owners succeeded in boosting the prices of the remaining parcels so that the total land cost averaged about $4.74 per square foot. The rentals charged tenants have had to be higher than the scale originally planned.

The bills introduced today apply to cities and villages in Illinois having a population of 25,000 or more.

In defining "slum and blight areas" the bills state that these areas are regions in which the following conditions exist:

"1. Disproportionate tax delinqency and consequent inadequacy of tax payments in relation to the cost of state and municipal services rendered.

"2. Age, deterioration, or obsolescence of improvements in such areas, particularly those improvements affording family accommodations, to such a degree as to render such areas unfit and unsafe for human use and habitation.

Linked to Crime, Poverty.

"3. Prevalence of the factors conducive to ill health, spreading of disease, infant mortality, juvenile delinquency, crime, and poverty."

May Head SEC

Leon Henderson, New Deal economist, reported in line for chairmanship of Securities and Exchange commission.

Report Choice of Henderson as SEC Chief

Washington, D. C., March 29.—[Special.] — Leon Henderson, economist and secretary of the federal monopoly investigating committee, was reported today to be in line for the chairmanship of the Securities and Exchange commission. A high administration official said Henderson would be appointed soon.

The post has just been vacated by W. O. Douglas, whom President Roosevelt nominated for the Supreme court.

Henderson appeared to have superseded both Robert M. Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago, and Jerome Frank, a present member of the SEC, as the likely head of the commission. Hutchins is believed to have been offered the post and to have declined to take it.

Frank's Friends Still Busy.

A brisk behind-the-scenes campaign is being conducted by Frank's friends in an effort to get him the appointment. Some of these friends say that if Frank is passed over by the President he probably will resign from the commission.

Henderson denies that he has been offered the post. His friends, however, recall that when President Roosevelt appointed him to the National Recovery administration board in 1934 he knew nothing of the decision until after the appointment had been made public at the White House.

President Roosevelt long has held Henderson in high favor. Henderson has been economist for the NRA, for the Democratic national campaign committee and for the Works Progress administration. His economic philosophy is that the man in the street who buys bread and automobiles is the man who keeps the nation's industries rolling.

Predicted 1937 Recession.

By predicting the 1937 business recession a year before it happened, Henderson achieved high respect in the New Deal administration. He is an advocate of the lending-spending program, and has urged passage of such measures as a new farm program, a minimum wage law and new legislation to meet the monopoly program.

Observers in Washington said that the appointment of Henderson would fill two purposes: First, it would show Wall street that the President is unalterably opposed to any major modification of federal security regulation. Second, it would reward Henderson's devotion to New Deal objectives.

Henderson is 44 years old, short and stocky, with dark, bushy hair.

COURT'S RULING LIMITS SCOPE OF ORDER BY NLRB

St. Louis, Mo., March 29.—(AP)—The United States District Court of Appeals held today that orders of the National Labor Relations board requiring the dissolution of company unions should not be interpreted as barring future formation of independent unions at the companies involved.

The opinion was on an appeal by the Cudahy Packing company from an NLRB order that it cease certain labor practices at its plant in Newport, Minn., and "completely disestablish" an independent union.

The Appellate court's decison upheld the NLRB order, but required the NLRB to notify employés at the Newport plant that the order does not forbid their establishing an independent union if they so desire.

The board's order to the company to "disestablish" the present independent union was defined in the opinion as meaning only that the company should not "support or encourage" the union, or recognize it as a bargaining agency of the workers as now constituted.

UNITED AIR LINES ORDERS 30 MORE WASP ENGINES

United Air Lines has placed an order with Pratt & Whitney Aircraft corporation for thirty additional "C" type twin-row, 1,000 horse power Wasp engines for its coast-to-coast Mainliner fleet, the air line announced yesterday. Deliveries are in progress.

The new engines will give United's Mainliners a top speed of 226 miles an hour and a cruising speed, utilizing only 55 per cent of available power, of more than three miles a minute. Each plane will have two engines, which together, will be able to lift the twelve ton airplane to 23,000 feet.

INLAND STEEL'S '38 PROFITS DIP TO $4,916,203

Am. Rolling Mill's Loss $1,307,880.

Lower earnings in 1938 than in 1937 were shown yesterday in the annual reports of a number of well known companies, including the Inland Steel company and Gimbel Brothers, Inc. The American Rolling Mill company reported a loss, compared with a profit in 1937. The Pacific Lighting corporation, a California utility, reported earnings slightly exceeding those of 1937.

As stated in the preliminary figures, Inland Steel's 1938 profit was $4,916,203, equal to $3.12 a share, compared with $12,665,317, equal to $8.05, for 1937. Reviewing the 1938 operations, L. E. and P. D. Block, chairman and president, respectively, said the company operated at an average of 54 per cent of capacity, compared with an average rate of 74.8 per cent in 1937.

Output Varies Widely.

The quarterly operating rates indicate the business improvement which developed late in 1938 and which was reflected in Inland's operations. Operating rates in 1938 were: First quarter, 44.4 per cent; second quarter, 41 per cent; third quarter, 57.7 per cent, and fourth quarter, 73 per cent—almost at the 1937 average.

The company's taxes for 1938 totaled $3,249,813, equal to $2.06 a share on the outstanding stock. The average number of employés was 11,455. The pay roll for 1938 totaled $23,560,958, compared with $29,085,324 in 1937. Sales totaled $74,058,923, compared with $10,744,037 in 1937.

American Rolling Mill's earnings were adversely affected by the general business decline in 1938, George M. Verity and Charles R. Hook, chairman and president, respectively, reported.

Retarding Influences Noted.

"Fortunately the year 1939 has begun under conditions much more favorable than those early in 1938," the report said. "The new year began with many influences making for upward trends in general business activity. Expected improvement, however, in industrial activity has been retarded by other counteracting influences at home and abroad."

The report said that even a moderate improvement in current demand and in prices would result in profitable operations.

American Rolling Mill had a $1,307,880 net loss for 1938, compared with a 1937 net profit of $8,231,334, equal to $2.55 a share. Sales in 1938 totaled $70,441,606, compared with $114,857,600 in 1937.

Discussing the greater part which government has in the affairs of business, the report said that during 1938 the company had to prepare about 75,000 reports to federal and state governments for taxation and other purposes. Although the management has been able to cut down the amount of paper work required for sales and other activities, economies made here have been to a considerable extent offset by increases in personnel to compile the government reports.

Demands Are Increasing.

Since the first of the year demands for information, including data in connection with the monopoly investigation have increased to such an extent that additional personnel must be employed, the report said. It said that a labor board action has already cost the company $100,000 and probably will cost about $150,000 before it is through. A stenographic record of 18,534 pages in 120 volumes cost $1.10 per page.

Gimbel Brothers, which operates a number of stores including Saks Fifth Avenue, Chicago, reported for the year ended Jan. 31, 1939, a net profit of $437,530, equal to $2.22 a share on the cumulative preferred stock. This compared with $2,278,709, equal to $1.12 a share on the common, in 1937. Bernard F. Gimbel, president, reported that 1938-'39 sales totaled $87,963,346, compared with $100,080,574 for the year ended Jan. 31, 1938, a decrease of $12,117,228, or 12.1 per cent. He said taxes amounted to $2,216,184 for the 1938-'39 period.

Utility Profit $6,716,333.

The Pacific Lighting corporation, which derives most of its revenues from the sale of gas, reported 1938 net income of $6,716,333, equal to $4.18 a share, compared with $6,595,087, equal to $4.10 a share for 1937.

Sperry corporation, manufacturer of aviation and other equipment, had a net income of $4,961,397 in 1938, Thomas A. Morgan, president, said in his annual report. The earnings were equivalent to $2.46 a share on the capital stock. The net income for 1937 was $2,949,857, or $1.46 a share.

SITDOWN STRIKE COST TOLD; UNION SUED FOR $3,515,872 DAMAGES

Philadelphia, Pa., March 29.—(AP)—An auditor testified in United States District court today that a four month sitdown strike at the Apex Hosiery company in 1937 stopped operations which had given the company a net profit of $6,111 weekly for eighteen weeks prior to the strike. The company seeks triple damages under the anti-trust act.

Joseph C. Langer, a public accountant, gave the testimony in the company's suit for $3,515,872 damages against branch 1, American Federation of Hosiery Workers [C. I. O.], as a result of the strike.

Earlier, Judge William H. Kirkpatrick, over the objections of defense counsel, read a report of Special Master David Bachman that damage done to the plant, machinery, and equipment by the 200 sitdown strikers amounted to $109,134, and told the jury it could consider the figure as the "amount of physical damage done in this case." Defense counsel protested that Bachman did not consider the "obsolescence" and "depreciation" of the machinery.

DIXIE SENATORS SHUN ROOSEVELT COTTON PROGRAM

Washington, D. C., March 29.—(AP)—A group of southern senators announced today a new program for dealing with the cotton surplus problem in opposition to the export subsidy proposal announced by President Roosevelt.

Senator Smith [D., S. C.], chairman of the senate agricultural committee, said the group had decided on a two fold program for reducing the supply of 11,500,000 bales of loan cotton now held by the government.

It would permit growers to reclaim loan cotton at from 3 to 5 cents a pound, provided they reduced new production an equivalent amount. It also would provide an additional subsidy of 3 cents a pound if growers agreed to market their cotton instead of increasing government loan stocks.

Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson yesterday authorized the trustees of the Rock Island railroad to spend $1,225,000 for two Diesel electric powered streamlined trains to run between Chicago and Colorado Springs and Denver.

Chicago Pit's Members Balk Rule Changes

Members of the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday voted down a series of proposed amendments designed to increase the exchange's revenues. The amendments were recommended by the directors, and were submitted to the membership as part of the directors' campaign to increase the exchange's income and cut expenses.

A proposed amendment to raise the minimum commission charge on job lots originating outside Chicago was rejected, 343 to 304. Members voted down, 333 to 317, a proposal to raise the transfer fees on memberships.

Split Quotations Rejected.

A proposal to authorize "split" quotations in the execution of orders was swamped, 433 to 97.

[A split quotation permits a broker who receives an order for grain to buy or sell a part of the amount at the contract price and a part at 1/8 cent above or below the contract price.]

Failure of the amendments to receive approval was regarded as a setback to the drive to increase revenues. Earlier in the year directors had passed a series of economy measures intended to slash costs between $100,000 and $200,000 annually. It was not necessary to have a full vote of the membership on those measures.

Trading Volume Small.

The board of trade's present difficulties arise from extremely small trading volume. Trading in all grain futures on the board last year was the lowest since 1921, the first year for which records were kept. In the first two months of this year volume shrank even further, and it has shown little improvement in March.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC ORDERS TWO NEW STREAMLINED TRAINS

Orders for two additional fourteen-car streamlined trains have been placed with the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company, Chicago, by the Southern Pacific company, A. D. McDonald, president of the railroad, announced yesterday. Each train will cost about $1,000,000, exclusive of the locomotives. They will be placed in service late this year between San Francisco and Los Angeles.

The new trains will be of the same basic design as the present two "Daylights" trains which were placed in service between the Pacific coast cities about two years ago. However, they will include a number of improvements contributing to passenger comfort.

The major advance will consist of a three-car articulated dining unit, made up of a full length kitchen car in the center, which will serve a full length diner and a full length coffee car. There will be an outside door through which luggage may be loaded and unloaded at terminals to prevent vestibule congestion. The length of the cars will be increased to 81 feet.

The trains will be pulled by 5,000 horsepower steam locomotives.

Plans Law to Permit Tax on State and U.S. Securities

Washington, D. C., March 29.—(AP)—Senator Clark [D., Mo.] announced today he would try to have a pending tax bill amended to provide for reciprocal taxation of state and federal securities and salaries. The Supreme court held Monday that the federal government and the states could tax the incomes of each other's employés, and Clark said "the logic of the decision extends to income from securities."

Wieboldt Sales Climb Above Year Ago Total

Sales of Wieboldt Stores, Inc., are currently exceeding those of a year ago, Werner A. Wieboldt, chairman, said yesterday. Wieboldt made his statement in the company's annual report to stockholders. He said the uptrend began toward the close of 1938 and has continued since that time.

The company reported net income of $410,798, or 57 cents a common share, for the fiscal year ended Jan. 28, 1939. In the fiscal year ended Jan. 29, 1938, the company had a net income of $634,681, or $1.41 a common share. Net sales fell 13.3 per cent, from $26,553,240 to $23,022,504 in the latest year.

Includes $162,074 Judgment.

Wieboldt called attention to the fact that the company had received principal and interest on a judgment entered in condemnation proceedings in connection with the widening of North Ashland avenue. After provision for legal fees and federal taxes this amounted to $162,074 and is included in net income, he said.

"Charges against earnings for taxes, franchises, licenses, and other costs of government reached a total of approximately $1,173,000, or $4.45 a common share," Wieboldt said. This total was approximately 7.8 times the final net earnings remaining for common stock holders after payment of these taxes.

As of Jan. 28, 1939, the company had current assets of $5,393,791 and current liabilities of $1,845,838. This made a current ratio of 2.92 to 1 against 2.78 to 1 a year earlier.

Arpr ove Profit Sharing.

Wieboldt said that the directors have approved a plan for adjusted compensation for eighteen major executives, excluding the president and chairman of the board of directors. The plan was made effective Jan. 30.

"Each eligible major executive will receive a share in an amount equal to 10 per cent of the final net earnings for the common stock over and above $150,000," Wieboldt said. "There is further provision for automatic reductions in basic salaries ranging from 5 to 20 per cent to become effective if the final net earnings for the common stock are less than $150,000."

MORTGAGE FIRM PERMITS SEC TO INSPECT BOOKS

Washington, D. C., March 29.—(AP)—O. John Rogge, counsel for the securities commission in the Transamerica corporation case, said today that Pacific Coast Mortgage company, had offered the SEC access to its books and records.

The securities commission has charged that Transamerica corporation, $200,000,000 California bank holding company, filed "false and misleading" statements. Pacific Coast Mortgage company formerly was a Transamerica subsidiary.

Rogge said that although Pacific Coast Mortgage had offered access to its records, it denied that it was required by law to do so. Examination of Pacific Coast Mortgage's books was sought by the commission before making a final determination whether Transamerica's stock should be suspended or delisted.

YEAR'S PROFITS OF GOLDBLATT BROS. $464,285

Sales Volume Down to $45,282,915.

Goldblatt Brothers, Inc., Chicago department store chain, had a profit of $464,285 in the fiscal year ended Jan. 31, 1939, equal after preferred dividends to 47 cents a share on the common stock, Morris Goldblatt, president, reported yesterday. In the preceding fiscal year profit was $1,054,800, equal to $1.37 a share.

Morris Goldblatt.

Sales totaled $45,282,915, a decline of 9.07 per cent from the $49,798,292 reported for the preceding fiscal year.

Directors declared a quarterly stock dividend on the common stock at the rate of one share for each sixty shares held. The dividend will be payable May 1 to stock of record April 10.

"As was to be expected, operations were influenced by the adverse conditions which prevailed earlier in the year," Goldblatt said.

Inventories Marked Down.

"Not only was sales volume affected, but absorption of substantial inventory markdowns also was required, due to the necessity of conducting operations on the basis of a declining price level. The influence of this factor is appreciated when it is recalled a net profit of only $37,567 was realized in the period from Feb. 1, 1938, to July 9, 1938.

"Sales compared favorably with those of Chicago department stores generally, based on available comparative data. This performance was achieved despite store operations in the highly industrialized communities of South Chicago, Gary, and Hammond, where trading was severely penalized early in the year.

State Street Unit's Showing.

"Net sales in the State street store declined 5.42 per cent as compared with the preceding year. With one exception, this showing represented relatively the most favorable experience of the ten units operated. As a consequence the proportion of total sales accounted for by the State street store increased during the year, and it is confidently believed that this unit will continue to grow in relative importance in the future."

The balance sheet showed current assets, as of Jan. 31, 1939, as $9,981,390 and current liabilities as $4,262,583. There was a reduction during the year of $357,506 in long term liabilities, and 3,000 shares of preferred stock were purchased for retirement.

Stocks, Bonds

New York Stocks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 29.—Stock worked moderately higher today on volume of only 465,280 shares. Fractional advances were recorded throughout the list and a few leaders rose a point or more.

The financial district, however, maintained a cautious attitude. Continued unsettlement of the German-Polish situation and a desire to await the French answer to Italian demands were held chiefly responsible for lack of trading interest. To some observers the slight improvement reflected reduced offerings rather than fresh demand.

After opening steady the list turned dull and prices moved narrowly. In the final hour the list hardened. Some of the best quotations were registered then.

Both United States Steel and Bethlehem advanced ¼ point. Youngstown gained ⅞. Chrysler and General Motors also closed fractionally higher. Leading rubber and copper stocks behaved in similar fashion.

Air craft issues were fairly active, with Douglas, Sperry, and Glenn Martin adding substantial fractions. In the oils Standard of New Jersey and Socony Vacuum pushed higher.

Sears Roebuck featured the merchandising section with a rise of 1⅝ points. Montgomery Ward gained ⅝.

Rail shares followed the industrial group fractionally higher in quiet trading. Union Pacific was a standout, however, rising 3 points. Santa Fe was another good gainer, adding 1 point.

Power and light shares held to a narrow course throughout.

New York Bonds.

New York, March 29.—(AP)—Bonds rallied today, following Tuesday's retreat, but most gains were narrow. Trading interest was small and buyers were cautious because of fears of new eruptions in central Europe and some doubts concerning the scope of the anticipated spring business upturn.

Operations which bore the plainest stamp of confidence were largely confined to United States government issues and top grade corporate liens.

Among the usual trading favorites, International Telephone 5s, International Hydroelectric 6s, St. Paul 5s, Santa Fe 4s of '95, Delaware and Hudson refunding 4s, Southern Railway 4s and Nickel Plate 4½s moved ahead.

United States government issues, the mainstay of yesterday's wabbly market, continued to forge ahead on quiet buying. The treasury 2¾s of '60-'55 were in high favor, running up 5-32ds on a substantial volume. Foreign loans recorded some wide and uneven swings.

Chicago Stocks.

Volume leaders rose ⅛ to ⅝ point yesterday on the Chicago Stock exchange. THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE average of twenty stocks advanced to 10.75 from 10.68 Tuesday.

Borg-Warner gained ⅝ at 26⅜, partly recouping the preceding day's decline. Commonwealth Edison, volume leader rose ⅛ at 27⅞. Chicago corporation and Midland Utilities 7 per cent prior lien also were ⅛ higher.

Trading was light. Of 84 issues traded in, 39 advanced, 21 declined, and 24 finished unchanged.

Bank Stocks.

Chicago bank stocks were uneven yesterday in light trading, dealers said. Chicago Title and Trust company and First National shares slipped $1. Continental Illinois gained 50 cents, and Harris Trust, $2.

GRAIN MARKET TRADE SMALL; PRICES WEAKEN

Speculative operations in the grain market yesterday were on a small scale. Wheat futures held within a range of ⅜ to ½ cent and corn ¼ to ⅝ cent a bushel. Closing trades in wheat were ¼ to ⅜ cent lower. Corn declined ⅛ to ¼ cent. Further heavy rain and snow over a large part of the crop belt were largely responsible for the easiness in wheat.

European demand for North American cash wheat was reported as extremely slow, but it was indicated the United Kingdom would be in the market shortly for additional supplies of Argentine grain. China purchased 250,000 bushels of Australian wheat yesterday. So far this month more than 5,000,000 bushels of wheat and flour have been taken by the orient.

Central European wheat is selling at low prices. Some Jugo-Slavian wheat was reported to have been sold in Liverpool at about 47½ cents a bushel. This was believed to be the lowest price quoted for wheat in the Liverpool market since late in the 16th century.

The decline in corn futures came in the face of reports of a small amount of that grain having been sold to the United Kingdom, but the demand was not aggressive.

Commodities

Commodity futures prices moved erratically yesterday, but net changes in most items were small. Trading was quiet.

Cottonseed oil futures were under pressure on news that a compromise agreement to raise the import duties of foreign oils had collapsed. Losses ranged from 0.11 to 0.13 cent. Several feeble efforts to rally the market failed.

Metals were lower in small trading. Copper futures eased 0.03 to 0.05 cent. Tin, lead, and zinc also closed with small declines.

Wool tops encountered a fair demand from trade interests. Final prices were 0.1 to 0.2 cent higher.

Trade and Cuban buying rallied sugar futures, although all of the early gains were not held to the close. Renewed activity in the raw sugar market and hopes for news on the Cuban duty spurred the buying. The close was 0.01 to 0.02 cent higher.

Rio coffee and hides also were higher.

'BUY AT HOME' ACT TERMED BAR TO PROSPERITY

Assailed as Harmful to Producers, Consumers.

State "buy at home" laws are economic provincialism restraining the country from achieving maximum prosperity, Dr. F. E. Melder asserted yesterday. He is economic adviser on trade barriers to the Council of State Governments.

Dr. Melder made his statement in connection with announcement of a national conference on interstate trade barriers, which the council is sponsoring in Chicago April 5, 6, and 7. Public purchase preference laws—the so-called "buy at home" legislation—are among the topics to be considered at the conference.

Consumers Are Harmed.

Local firms which would not be able to meet outside competition undoubtedly benefit from "buy at home" laws, Dr. Melder said, but consumers in general are harmed when they do not receive the maximum goods for their dollar.

"When an artificial barrier to shipment of goods from outside the state exists," Dr. Melder said, "the markets for farmers and other producers within the state [for shipment outside] are reduced. If state residents are to sell goods outside their state it is necessary that outsiders sell goods inside that state. The maximum of prosperity is achieved by the free exchange of goods throughout the country, whatever the state of origin."

Strains State Friendliness.

Dr. Melder said that perhaps the greatest injury of discriminatory laws is their effect on the amicable relations between the states.

"Strained public relations lead to other tensions," he said, "with the consequence that state trade wars and other disputes are greatly stimulated, to the harm of many, but the benefit of no one."

The council announced that its research disclosed that 31 states in the country enforce one or more laws compelling preference for "made within the border" products. Twenty-six states have enacted such laws within the last 10 years, the council reported.

Will Consider Ten Types.

The national conference on interstate trade barriers, which will draw legislators from all 48 states as well as a number of governors and other state officials, will consider 10 major types of trade barriers. These will include various taxes and regulations on general foods, building materials, liquor laws, and truck and motor vehicle legislation.

Robert H. Jackson, solicitor general of the United States, will attend the conference and speak on "Trade Barriers—A Threat to National Unity." Other speakers will include Gov. Lloyd C. Stark of Missouri, Fred I. Kent, New York banker; Gov. Carl E. Bailey of Arkansas, Mrs. Harris T. Baldwin, vice president of the National League of Women Voters, and Gov. Clifford M. Townsend of Indiana.

URGE SUPPORT OF BILL TO LIFT DOUBLE TAXES

The Illinois Chamber of Commerce yesterday asked all members of the Illinois house of representatives to support a bill designed to lift double tax liability in unemployment insurance obligations. Such a bill is now before the house ways and means committee.

George P. Ellis, president of the chamber, said that passage of the bill would "lift the double tax liability imposed upon taxpayers who, through no fault of their own, did not pay the Illinois unemployment insurance tax prior to the date provided in the federal act."

Ellis urged passage of the bill "as a matter of justice" to those taxpayers who were not aware of their liability in time to obtain the permitted 90 per cent credit against the federal tax. In many instances, he said, this double tax was levied on taxpayers who had no wish to evade the law or escape taxation, but were unaware of their status.

303 INDEPENDENT CHICAGO STORES' SALES DECREASE

Washington, D. C., March 29.—(AP)—The department of commerce announced today that dollar sales of 303 independent retail stores in Chicago fell 3.6 per cent in February, 1939, from February, 1938. For the state of Illinois the decline was 2.6 per cent.

Sales of the Chicago stores decreased 9.8 per cent from January sales. The decline for the entire state was 5.1 per cent.

The largest relative increase from last February for any line of trade was 10.3 per cent, recorded by drug stores.

'Day by Day on the Farm.

Planting Time.

DIRT will begin to fly in the open garden at the Du Page county farm tomorrow morning if there is favorable weather. Test digs show that all of the frost is out of the ground. Thin crusts freeze on the surface of the soil at night when the thermometers register below 32 degrees, but these vanish in the daytime.

The gardeners expect to do their first outdoor planting of early vegetables and flowers at least by the first of next week. Next Saturday is the farm's scheduled planting date for hardiest vegetable crops. Some of the finest vegetables come from the early sown crops.

Early planting usually is done on ground broken in the fall and left in the rough over winter. Rough ground dries out faster and is ready to be worked several days ahead of the soil that is left to be plowed or spaded in the spring.

Onions to Be in Early.

The first plantings of vegetables include onions [sets and seeds], peas, head and leaf lettuce, radishes, Swiss chard, spinach, and Spanish onion plants. The head gardener says that cabbage and cauliflower seed may be sown now in the open garden. These crops were started early in cold frames and will be transplated later.

Next week bulbs of the main crop of gladioli will be set in the outdoor flower garden. Before planting, the bulbs are soaked in a solution of bichloride of mercury to control thrips, a common bulb pest that usually causes trouble. When sweet peas are to be started outdoors the gardeners sow them as early as possible, April 1 or earlier. The practice at the farm for many years has been to start the sweet peas in the greenhouse and then transfer them to the garden. Most of the earliest flowers were started this year in the farm's greenhouse.

Started Under Glass

Several of the tender vegetable crops have been started this year under glass. Celery, cabbage, and cauliflower plants started in the greenhouse now are being nursed along in cold frames, where they gradually are becoming accustomed to lower temperatures. In about two weeks they will be "hardened off" and will be tough enough to be set in the open garden.

The gardeners also have started in the greenhouse several other crops, including eggplants, peppers, and tomatoes. These delicate plants usually are not transplanted in the open garden until about the middle of May. Even when they are planted that late they often require protection when there is danger of light frost.

An examination of the farm's shrubbery plantations today revealed that the buds are later than usual. They have begun to swell, but few have started to open. The gardeners regard this as a good sign. They say it is best for the buds to be somewhat late in opening. If they come out too soon they may be killed by late frosts.

SLUM CLEARING BILL INTRODUCED IN LEGISLATURE

Chicago Plan Is Pushed in Nonpartisan Action.

welfare of a community are described as follows in the preamble to the first of the two bills:

"Such slum and blight areas are situated in the older and centrally located portions of the cities, villages, and incorporated towns involved and, once existing, if not eradicated, spread.

"Such areas cause the territories which they cover and the properties embraced therein to degenerate into a condition of nonproductiveness and of failure to share any portion of the taxes necessary for the support of such municipalities and ultimately to become waste territories, which, though productive of no tax revenue, consume a disproportionate share of the civic and governmental expense of police, fire, health, and other functions of such municipalities in which they are located.

Cite Threat to Civic Functions.

"Because of such situations these areas, if permitted to remain and spread, will impair those indispensable municipal functions not only as to such areas but also as to the entire municipalities, while their eradication and rehabilitation would correct such conditions."

The progress of the proposed "public service building corporation" plan in Illinois is being watched with keen interest by building interests in other states, and it is expected that legislation similar to the bills introduced here today will be offered in a number of them.

Wins Leaders' Approval.

Leaders of both parties at Springfield, including Acting Gov. John Stelle, Speaker of the House Hugh W. Cross, and George M. Maypole, president pro tem of the senate, several weeks ago approved of the principle behind the plan, although their positions do not permit them to comment on specific pieces of legislation.

Acting Gov. Stelle in his message at the opening of the present session told the members of the legislature that bills to make it possible for private capital to undertake housing projects would be introduced and urged that they consider such proposals.

MINERS REJECT 2 YEAR RENEWAL OF WAGE ACCORD

New York, March 29.—(AP)—United Mine Workers' negotiators were reported tonight to have rejected a suggestion by bituminous coal operators' representatives for a two year renewal of their existing labor contract. The contract will expire Friday midnight.

A previous offer by John L. Lewis, C. I. O. and U. M. W. president, to extend the present agreement until Oct. 1 had been rejected by the operators. In that position, negotiations by the eight representatives—four from each side—were adjourned for the day with no intimation an agreement was in prospect.

The miners, a spokesman said, were opposed to a two year extension because of the possibility that when the bituminous coal commission announces its price scales mine profits may rise and the U. M. W. would want to share them.

Federal Receiver Asked for Life Insurance Firm

Detroit, Mich., March 29.—(AP)—Samuel Winkelman of Wausau, Wis., asked federal court here today to appoint a federal receiver for the American Life Insurance company. Winkelman represented himself as a policyholder and stockholder. Charles E. Gauss, Michigan insurance commissioner who was named receiver following an action in the Ingham county [Mich.] Circuit court a year ago, is named a defendant. The company's main office is in Detroit.

MoKan Is Refused Right to Enter Columbia Gas Case

Wilmington, Del., March 29.—(AP)—A motion by the Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line to intervene in an anti-trust suit brought by the federal government against Columbia Gas and Electric corporation and others was denied today by Judge John P. Nields in the United States District court. Judge Nields agreed with a government brief opposing the motion to intervene "because MoKan is not entitled to intervention of right."

Broker Firm Registration Revoked for 'Advance Fees'

Washington, D. C., March 29.—[Special.]—The registration of Reinhardt & Co. of Los Angeles, the first brokerage firm investigated by the Securities and Exchange commission in connection with the "front money" or "advance fee racket," was revoked today by the commission. The "racket" consists of taking "advance fees" for floating new security issues which actually never are sold, according to the commission.

C. & O. ARGUES IT SHOULD KEEP CONTROL OF ERIE

Washington, D. C., March 29.—[Special.]—The fight of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad to retain control of the bankrupt Erie railroad came before the interstate commerce commission today. The debtor and the holders of Erie refunding and improvement mortgage bonds filed briefs with the commission in support of their plans for reorganizing the Erie.

Other briefs, including that of the C. & O., had been filed previously. The C. & O. emphasized the advantages to the Erie of friendly railroad connections in the east. It held before the commission the prospect of ultimate consolidation of the C. & O., Nickel Plate, Pere Marquette, and Erie with an estimated annual savings in operating expenses of $3,000,000. The C. & O. owns 55.68 per cent of the Erie's voting stock.

The debtor's brief endeavored to prove the value of the Erie's present stock and insisted that it be recognized in the reorganization plan by something more than the right to buy an interest in the reorganized company.

THREE MAKE BIDS TO REMOVE STATE STREET BRIDGE

Bids for the removal of the State street bridge to make way for the construction of the subway under the Chicago river were opened yesterday by Commissioner of Public Works Oscar E. Hewitt. Fitzsimons and Connell Dredge and Dock company was low with an offer to do the work in fifty-six days for $67,050.

The other two offers were: Great Lakes Dredge and Dock company, sixty day, $78,190, and N. S. Mackie company, forty-two days, $114,610. Specifications require that the demolition be completed within ninety days. An appropriation of $90,000 has been made to finance the project.

Removal of the bridge is necessary because it rests on wood pilings which are in the path of the subway.

BILL ASKS I. C. C. RATE RULE OVER ALL TRANSPORT

Wheeler to Give Program to Senate Today.

Washington, D. C., March 29.—(AP)—Chairman Wheeler [D., Mont.] and Senator Truman [D., Mo.] of the senate interstate commerce committee proposed today that the interstate commerce commission be given power to make rates for all forms of transportation under a uniform rule.

The two senators made public the draft of a bill which they will introduce tomorrow as part of their long range program for railroad rehabilitation.

The measure was given to reporters after Wheeler had discussed it with President Roosevelt. Well informed persons said Wheeler had received assurances of administration support.

Wheeler and Truman already have introduced some railroad legislation, including a measure to speed up financial reorganizations, and they said additional proposals would be offered later. They may begin hearings on the program next week.

Similar to Lea Program.

The proposal made public today is similar to one introduced by Chairman Lea [D., Cal.] of the house interstate commerce committee. However, it would not go so far in carrying out recommendations of Mr. Roosevelt's joint committee of railroad management and labor.

It would create no new agency and would not reorganize the interstate commerce commission's physical setup. It would retain the present rate making rule used for railroads, instead of modifying it as requested by rail representatives, and would extend it to all common carriers.

Retains Long Haul Clause.

Although revising many sections of the present interstate commerce act, the measure would retain the controversial "long and short haul clause" to which the railroads have objected. This clause forbids a lower rate for a long haul than for a shorter haul over the same route in the same direction.

Under the bill the ICC would have jurisdiction over transportation by railroads, by water, by motor vehicle, by express, by pipe line, by sleeping car companies, and, for rate making purposes only, over transportation by air.

The ICC would be directed to investigate these questions of transportation service and cost:

1. Relative economy and fitness of the respective forms of transportation to determine the service for which each is especially fitted so as to lessen "wasteful and destructive competition."

2. The whole subject of governmental aid or subsidy to rail, motor or water carriers.

CHICAGO GROUP FIGHTS LIMIT ON LAKE DIVERSION

Will Put Problem Before National C. of C.

Nation-wide support of a fight against limitation of water diversion from Lake Michigan is sought in a program announced yesterday by the Chicago Association of Commerce. The program will be submitted to the commercial interests of the country at the annual gathering of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in Washington, D. C.

Limitations on water diversion, the association said, "will shortly produce serious interference with the conduct of commerce by water throughout points in the Mississippi valley to and from Chicago.

Warns of Pollution.

"Moreover, due to inadequate stream flow, tremendous pollution and nuisance will occur, affecting cities along the Illinois river."

The association reiterated its opposition to any treaty which would internationalize the waters of Lake Michigan. "Inasmuch as the boundaries of this lake lie wholly within the confines of the United States," the association said, "we believe its control should be under the chief of army engineers of the war department."

Asks Recovery Before Reform.

Business recovery should come before reform the association said. It recommended, in this connection, that the wages and hours law be amended to eliminate automatic reduction in weekly hours from 44 to 40 as presently provided. The association also urged amendments to the National Labor Relations act.

In addition, the association opposed enactment of the Robinson-Patman chain store bill, the proposals to reorganize the federal executive departments, and "proposed laws aimed to add further regulation to business."

EXPORTS OF PORK TOTAL FAR ABOVE VOLUME OF 1938

Two Months' Shipments 16,688,581 Pounds.

Exports of pork in January and February increased 27 per cent over the same two months of last year and 104 per cent over 1937, the department of commerce reported yesterday.

Shipments increased from 8,163,554 pounds during January and February of 1937, the all time low, to 13,097,614 in 1938 and to 16,688,581 during the two months of this year. The trade balance for the American pork packer was the most favorable in four years. During the two months sales of pork to other countries exceeded the imports by 8,481,868 pounds. Two years ago, this country bought 3,798,231 pounds more pork than was exported, the only year in history when pork imports exceeded the exports.

Imports Above Year Ago.

Pork imports for the two months of 1939 ran 15 per cent ahead of a year ago, but they were 31 per cent smaller than during January and February of 1937 when a meat shortage and high prices swelled sales of foreign pork in the United States to the largest volume on record. Imports for the two months this year at 8,206,713 pounds compared with 7,081,695 a year ago and 11,961,785 two years ago.

The department reported exports of pork for February alone were 8,243,210 pounds, against 6,800,838 in February, 1938. Lard exports increased from 16,284,234 pounds during February last year to 24,483,399 this year.

Imports of pork for the month at 4,126,389 pounds compared with 3,327,911 a year ago. Beef and veal imports for February were 3,356,678 pounds and for the two months of 1939 totaled 8,035,845, against 3,618,905 and 6,932,266 for February and the two months of 1938.

Lard Gain Is Large.

Packers sent out 44 per cent more lard during the two months than in January and February of last year and 297 per cent more than two years ago. Sales of lard in the two months aggregated 53,003,876 pounds, the largest January and February movement out of the country in five years. The total was 36,737,463 a year ago and 13,373,856 in 1937 when lard sales abroad were lowest on record for January and February.

Comparative figures for two months follow [last three ciphers omitted]:

I. B. A. FAVORS TAX EXEMPTION REMOVAL STEP

St. Louis, Mo., March 29.—(AP)—The Investment Bankers association is willing to support a constitutional amendment to remove the tax exemption of income from future issues of federal, state, and municipal bonds, John S. Clark of Cleveland said today. He is chairman of the association's committee on municipal securities.

Clark, speaking at a forum meeting of the Investment Bankers Mississippi valley section, asserted, however, that the association was opposed to President Roosevelt's plan to establish the taxing power by congressional enactment.

"If this power is given in such a law as the President has recommended to congress," he said, "a principle would be established, and the states, with their subdivisions, would have no defense against future enlargement of the federal government's control over them.

"Although the law might be limited to future security issues, there would be nothing to stop a future congress from taxing all past issues."

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Cattle and lamb markets, which have been relatively high compared with hogs for several weeks, experienced sharp price breaks yesterday. Consumers were reported to be favoring pork, which is cheap compared with other meats.

The decline in cattle, one of the largest in many weeks, spread to all classes of steers and yearlings. Most fell 25 to 35 cents, although there were instances of more decline.

Lamb prices fell 25 to 35 cents.

Most hog business was transacted on a steady basis, weakness in some light hogs being offset by strength in heavy butchers. [All prices are in dollars per 100 pounds.]

BOND OFFERING OF 73 MILLIONS PUT ON MARKET

Part of California Water District Financing.

New York, March 29.—[Special.]—A banking group headed by the Chase National bank will offer to the public tomorrow an issue of $73,444,000 Metropolitan Water District of Southern California 4¼ per cent and 3½ per cent Colorado river water works refunding bonds.

The offering consists of $56,452,000 of 4¼ per cent bonds, dated Feb. 1, 1938, and due Feb. 1, 1948 to 1977, priced to yield 2.70 to 3.60 per cent, according to maturity, and $16,992,000 of 3½s, due Feb. 1, 1978 to 1987, priced at par.

The bonds were purchased by the group from the Reconstruction Finance corporation and were issued to refund a part of a total of $208,500,000 of bonds which the RFC has purchased or committed itself to buy.

To date the RFC has disposed of $148,500,000 of these bonds. The last previous public offering of these issues was made last December by a group headed by Chase National, and consisted of $13,556,000 of 4s maturing in 1946 to 1986.

RAILS, BUILDING PREVENT STEEL OUTPUT DROP

Steel orders placed in the last three months by railroads, the construction industry, and tin plate consumers, are the major factors which keep the steel ingot production rate from sagging abruptly, Iron Age reported yesterday.

"If the steel industry were solely dependent on current buying," the journal said, "operating rates would be lower than they are. The volume of business that has been placed during the last two or three months, particularly in rails, track accessories, car material, structural steel, and tin plate, is a sustaining factor in operating schedules."

The absence of new business, however, has had its effect. Iron Age estimated that the industry is working this week at 55 per cent of theoretical capacity, a drop of a half point. The Chicago area output decreased three points to 53.5 per cent.

The Iron Age composite price for scrap gained 12 cents to $15.29 a ton, the highest since October, 1937.

POWER OUTPUT DIPS, BUT RUNS AHEAD OF 1938

Electricity output in the week ended March 25 fell 1.2 per cent to 2,198,681,000 kilowatt hours, the Edison Electric institute reported yesterday.

The decline was contraseasonal, reflecting a slight contraction in industrial activity. The power volume, however, ran ahead of the corresponding 1938 production with a gain of 11.3 per cent.

The Commonwealth Edison company group [Chicago area] reported 133,416,000 kilowatt hours were generated last week compared with 123,155,000 a year ago, an increase of 8.3 per cent. In the preceding week the power output was 138,411,000 kilowatt hours.

RAIL ASKS RFC LOAN.

The Missouri & Arkansas railway has asked the interstate commerce commission for authority to borrow $175,000 from the Reconstruction Finance corporation. The road proposes to use the loan to pay off outstanding promissory notes and to improve its property.

"How I Got a Loan of $100 without embarrassment or delay."

"I needed $100 in a hurry. I dreaded to ask friends for a favor. And I had no security for getting a loan at a bank. What was I to do? Fortunately I heard about Household Finance and so went to a nearby office. The manager was courteous and friendly. He merely asked me a few simple questions. The next day I got the money with 20 months to repay. Only my wife and I signed the papers. I was delighted to get a loan so simply and promptly."

Whether you are married or single, if you need a loan of $20 to $300 the manager of the Household office near you will be glad to discuss your problem with you in complete privacy and without obligation. Why not phone or visit him today?
